The African Bourgeoisie Capitalist Development In Nigeria Kenya And The Ivory Coast:

The African Bourgeoisie Paul M. Lubeck, 1987 Evaluates the role of indigenous capitalism and capitalists in Black Africa's most successful capitalist states Nigeria Kenya and the Ivory Coast The African Bourgeoisie Joint Committee on African Studies, Social Science Research Council (Great Britain), 1987 Historical Dictionary of Cote d'Ivoire (The Ivory Coast) Cyril K. Daddieh, 2016-02-09 Cote d'Ivoire remains one of the most intriguing countries in sub-Saharan Africa. It appeared well on its way to becoming a model of development under its single political party and charismatic founding father Félix Houphouët-Boigny when it fell on hard economic times in the 1980s. Poor management of the socio-economic challenges by Houphouët-Boigny's successors produced disastrous political consequences including unprecedented political violence, the first ever successful military coup, and two civil wars culminating in former President Laurent Gbagbo being sent to the International Criminal Court (ICC) in The Hague to stand trial for war crimes. This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Cote d'Ivoire The Ivory Coast contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 700 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about the Cote d'Ivoire. Ivoirien Capitalism John Rapley, 1993 Though studies of capitalism in Africa traditionally focus on the activities of foreign investment in Cote d'Ivoire, capitalist development has been largely the work of a domestic class of entrepreneurs. The Advance of African Capital Tom G. Forrest, 1994 Combining ethnographic and historical perspectives, Tom Forrest examines the strategies and patterns of development employed by business people from the colonial period to the present. Through a series of highly readable case studies, he provides a broad picture of the various forms of capital accumulation and sectoral advances in trade, transport, manufacture, agriculture, finance, and other services. These are set within the context of changing economic opportunities, shifts in power, and policy relations with foreign capital and attitudes towards private business and the state. The Rise and Fall of Philanthropy in East Africa Robert G. Gregory, 2017-07-05 Robert G. Gregory challenges the apparent assumption that non-Western peoples lack a significant indigenous philanthropic culture. Focusing on the large South Asian community in East Africa, he relates how over a century they built a philanthropic culture of great magnitude and how it finally collapsed under the ascendancy of increasing state regulation and policies directed against non-African communities. Compelled by poverty to seek better opportunities overseas, most Asians arrived in East Africa as peasant farmers. Denied access to productive land and sensing economic opportunity, they turned to business. Despite severe forms of racial discrimination in the colonial society, they suffered few restrictions on their business enterprises, and some became very wealthy. Gregory's historical analysis shows philanthropy as an important contribution, one that stemmed from deep roots in Hindu, Muslim, and Buddhist culture. The sense of non-racial social responsibility cultivated social, medical, and educational facilities designed for all. This age of philanthropy terminated with the Asian exodus. The socialist and racial policies adopted by East African governments over the past few decades have virtually destroyed the foundation necessary for philanthropy as well as the distinct Asian cultural identity Gregory's account of the East Asian's role in philanthropy deserves great attention and sober reflection

Entrepreneurial Ethics and Trust Yakubu Zakaria, 2018-10-26 Published in 1999 This book provides an analytical framework of the way culture influences entrepreneurial ethics and trust in a semi industrial society Culture provides rules and norms that govern societal behaviour Yet it differs greatly in the way it influences economic performance across societies The book which embodies both general and micro institutional perspective on economic behaviour addresses the core question how does culture influence entrepreneurial ethics and trust in a developing society

State-Directed Development Atul Kohli, 2004-08-30 Why have some developing country states been more successful at facilitating industrialization than others An answer to this question is developed by focusing both on patterns of state construction and intervention aimed at promoting industrialization Four countries are analyzed in detail South Korea Brazil India and Nigeria over the twentieth century The states in these countries varied from cohesive capitalist mainly in Korea through fragmented multiclass mainly in India to neo patrimonial mainly in Nigeria It is argued that cohesive capitalist states have been most effective at promoting industrialization and neo patrimonial states the least The performance of fragmented multiclass states falls somewhere in the middle After explaining in detail as to why this should be so the study traces the origins of these different state types historically emphasizing the role of different types of colonialisms in the process of state construction in the developing world

Ghana in Search of Development Dan-Bright Dzorgbo, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2001 When Ghana became independent in 1957 becoming the first country in Sub Saharan Africa to banish colonialism there was a general optimism that irreversible socio economic development was about to unfold But by the end of the 1970s Ghana paradoxically became the first country in Twentieth Century Africa to have experienced socio economic decline What failed Ghana This book seeks to answer this question By combining sociological economic political and institutional perspectives this book focuses on the interplay between state politics and socio economic development It provides a model which suggests that Ghana's postcolonial development has suffered mainly as a result of the failure or inability of governing elites to develop consensual politics and a clearly specified long term development objective that could be widely understood accepted and have relevance for policy making This book presents a much needed self assessment of the post colonial development experience which contends that governance economic management and institution building are basic challenges without which the search for development is likely to falter

Corporatism In Africa Julius E. Nyang'oro, 2019-04-10 This book presents a collection of case studies that make apparent that African corporatism is comparable yet in contrast to corporatism elsewhere The collection also demonstrates the variation in corporatist practice and success among African countries

Learning from the Japanese E. Wayne Nafziger, 2016-09-17 With the collapse of the Soviet economy in the early 1990s Japan has become the major non Western model for late developing countries This book looks at Japan's early economic modernisation to see if today's low income countries can learn any lessons

Political Development and the New Realism in Sub-Saharan Africa David Ernest Apter, Carl Gustav Rosberg, 1994 Since the 1950s David Apter and Carl Rosenberg have been among the leading American scholars in African Studies In this volume they along with other major specialists in the field explore the new configurations of African politics With tentative efforts at a revival of democracy now taking place it seems appropriate to reassess the theoretical debates and empirical themes that have characterized postwar Sub Saharan African politics Focusing on new realism that has emerged among Africanists since the dismantling of colonial rule the essays are presented as a corrective both to the initial euphoria informing African studies and to the later tendency to place blame for all Africa's political and economic difficulties on the receding specter of colonial oppression

The Political Economy of Africa Vishnu Padayachee, 2010-06-10 The Political Economy of Africa aims to fill a major gap in the existing literature by exploring the economy and economics of Africa The book has a critical approach from the perspective of political economy rather than mainstream economics This book addresses the seemingly intractable economic problems of the African continent and trace their origins but also always to bring out the instances of successful economic change and the possibilities for economic revival and renewal

Keith Hancock D.A. Low, 2016-06-03 Sir Keith Hancock KBE 1898 1984 was the most distinguished scholar in the humanities and social sciences to have been born and to have worked in Australia He was a graduate of the University of Melbourne a Rhodes Scholar and the first Australian Fellow of All Souls College Oxford He successively held History chairs at the universities of Adelaide Birmingham Oxford and London and at the Australian National University Aged 32 he published his Australia London 1930 still the single most striking commentary on this country many of whose aphorisms have percolated through into numerous other writings Aged 74 he published his last major work Discovering Monaro A Study of Man's Impact on the Environment Cambridge 1972 which was arguably the primary fillip to the study of Australian environmental history to this day The main chapters of this book discuss largely in sequence the major books that he wrote the fields with which he dealt and the directions these have taken since he did so They revisit an extraordinary series of creative achievements while providing an introduction to the work of an exceptional Australian scholar The book will be important for anyone interested in the Humanities in Australia and particularly for those concerned with Australian historiography There are indications that imaginative teachers of History Honours students are already going back to Hancock's writing and finding students responding positively to it

Nigeria, Nationalism, and Writing History Toyin Falola, Saheed Aderinto, 2010 The second half of the 20th century saw the publication of massive amounts of literature on Nigeria by Nigerian and non Nigerian historians This volume reflects on that literature focusing on those works by Nigerians in the context of the rise and the decline of African nationalist historiography

Illusions of Power Julius Omozuanvbo Ihonvbere, Timothy M. Shaw, 1998 A contemporary account of the traumas dialects and dynamics of Nigeria's distinctive political economy With an analysis located in Nigeria s pre colonial colonial and neo colonial history the authors examine the dynamics of the various pre capitalistic communities of modern day Nigeria emphasising the autonomy creativity and alignments of social and political forces in the processes of market consolidation state and class formation When Capitalists Collide Robert Vitalis,2024-06-28 Robert Vitalis s empirically rich study challenges the left nationalist paradigm through which twentieth century Egyptian history and politics has generally been interpreted He argues with those who explain Egyptian economic development primarily in terms of class and of power struggles between British and Egyptian entrepreneurs and politicians Vitalis offers a rare detailed view of the objectives and political strategies of both international firms and Egypt s own big business rivals He highlights the career of Muhammad Ahmad Abbud modern Egypt s most successful businessman Vitalis s argument can be effectively applied to many other developing countries and his book makes a major contribution to ongoing debates regarding class underdevelopment and nationalism This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995

Nigeria Julius Ihonvbere,2024-11-01 Nigeria is in a long standing crisis Military rule has suffocated civil society and has entrenched a culture of repression corruption and official irresponsibility The reign of Ibrahim Babangida has resulted in near total economic disaster for the country The situation is so bad as Julius Ihonvbere shows that Nigerians are now saying that the days of colonialism were better In this major new study Ihonvbere searches out the sources of Nigeria s predicament He finds them in the country s historical experience and the consequences of that experience since gaining political independence Nigeria has become a society in which its citizens live in fear and its youth emigrate to other countries It is now impossible to survive in the country without belonging to a certain religion living in a particular region having connections with top military officers and being involved with some form of corruption Even involvement in drug pushing or extrajudicial murder is no longer considered a crime but a circumstance of life Such conditions have encouraged the emergence of several popular organizations New alliances of students workers women youths intellectuals professionals and the unemployed transcend ethnic regional and religious differences For the author it is at this emerging level of struggle and interaction that the future of Nigeria lies This work examines several critical but often overlooked or underresearched aspects of Nigeria s political economy Ihonvbere analyzes in detail Nigeria s foreign policy its economic crisis the military the decay of its educational system and democratization He pays particular attention to the paradoxical connection between IMF World Bank supervised structural adjustment and the struggle for democracy His book will be of interest to experts hi socioeconomic development foreign policy analysts students of military science and scholars of African politics and history

Public Policy in the Age of Globalization H. Hveem,K. Nordhaug,2002-11-04 This book focuses on changes in environmental and economic policies in six developing countries It shows how domestic politics interact with international actors such as multilateral institutions It offers lively accounts of the behaviour of political actors interest groups and the civil society in particular environmentalists It shows how ideas such as those of neoliberal economics affect policymaking in particular during or after crisis but also how social protest and demands for sustainable development are mobilized

Privatization and Foreign Investments in Nigeria Lawrence Okechukwu Azubuike, 2009 Nigeria's political economy has straddled the ideological divide between socialism and capitalism The country produces oil and at some point in its existence it embarked on robust state involvement in the economy This was marked by the acquisition or establishment of numerous state enterprises Over the years the performance of these enterprises was found to be dismal and as part of the overall reform of the economy Nigeria has joined the global trend toward reduction in direct state ownership of enterprises Indeed it has embarked on massive divestment of state interests in once publicly owned firms Besides the universal rationale of efficiency one of the objectives of the privatization exercise in Nigeria is the attraction and retention of foreign investments This work examines the direct and indirect linkage between the government's divestiture of its interests in firms on the one hand and foreign investments in the country on the other hand The book is divided into seven chapters Chapter 1 reviews the political and economic history of Nigeria to set the background and context that necessitated the introduction of the reform package of which privatization is just an aspect Chapter 2 is a discussion of various natures of state involvement in an economy This ranges from mere regulation to active participation The chapter discusses the competing conceptual and ideological theories and tries to situate the Nigerian experience within the broader conceptual dichotomies of capitalism socialism and the via media of mixed economy Chapter 3 is an examination of the meaning and rationales for privatization of state owned enterprises generally and the Nigerian attempts in particular Nigeria's privatization program is an ongoing exercise Yet two distinct attempts are identifiable one which started in 1988 and the reinvigoration of the exercise albeit with new constitutive frameworks in 1999 Thus Chapters 4 and 5 review the legal and institutional frameworks for these two exercises Chapter 6 deals with foreign investments in Nigeria The discussion encapsulates the pros and cons of foreign investments especially in Nigeria Chapter 7 explores the direct and indirect linkages between the privatization program in Nigeria and foreign investments in the country This is particularly apposite because one of the touted objectives of the privatization exercise is the attraction of foreign investments A conclusion follows The work finds that although foreign investments appear to have been indirectly boosted by the privatization exercise foreign investors initially did not show interest in direct acquisition of the shares and other interests being relinquished by the government but that that attitude has been changing gradually
