Groves, 2020-11-24 This book explores the culture of migration that emerged in Malawi in the early twentieth century as the British colony became central to labour migration in southern Africa Migrants who travelled to Zimbabwe stayed for years or decades and those who never returned became known as machona the lost ones Through an analysis of colonial archives and oral histories this book captures a range of migrant experiences during a period of enormous political change including the rise of nationalist politics and the creation and demise of the Central African Federation Following migrants from origin to destination and in some cases back again this book explores gender generation ethnicity and class and highlights life beyond the workplace in a racially segregated city Malawian men and women shaped the culture and politics of urban Zimbabwe in ways that remain visible today Ultimately the voluntary movement of Africans within the African continent raises important questions about the history of diaspora communities and the politics of Nations and their Histories S. Carvalho, F. Gemenne, 2009-10-09 Nations and their belonging in post colonial Africa Histories highlights the importance of the past and its uses in the formation of modern nations and national identities The book looks at the construction of different national historiographies as well as present representations of the past in the political and cultural life of nations covering the five continents Writing Revolt T. Creary, 2011 Catholic theologians have developed the relatively new term inculturation to discuss the old problem of adapting the church universal to specific local cultures Europeans needed a thousand years to inculturate Christianity from its Judaic roots Africans efforts to make the church their own followed a similar process but in less than a century Until now there has been no book length examination of the Catholic church's pastoral mission in Zimbabwe or of African Christians efforts to inculturate the church

Ranging over the century after Jesuit missionaries first settled in what is now Zimbabwe this enlightening book reveals two simultaneous and intersecting processes the Africanization of the Catholic Church by African Christians and the discourse of inculturation promulgated by the Church With great attention to detail it places the history of African Christianity within the broader context of the history of religion in Africa This illuminating work will contribute to current debates about the Catholic Church in Zimbabwe and throughout Africa Racial Conflict in Rhodesia Graham Charles Kinloch, 1978 Coalition Formation and Social Revolution in Ethiopia and Zimbabwe Vernon Damani Johnson, 1985 L'Afrique Robert Cornevin, Marianne Cornevin, 1962 Training & Methods Series University of Wisconsin--Madison.
