Four British Fantasists Charles Butler, 2006-04-25 Four British Fantasists explores the work of four of the most successful and influential fantasy writers of the generation who rose to prominence in the second Golden Age of children's literature in Britain Susan Cooper Alan Garner Diana Wynne Jones and Penelope Lively Drawing on history archeology social geography anthropology and postcolonial theory as well as literary criticism Butler provides a series of new perspectives through which to view these writers achievements He begins by highlighting some points of biographic coincidence e g all four authors were children during WWII all were born within a year or two of each other and all attended Oxford University in the early 1950s when C S Lewis and J R R Tolkien were publishing their seminal fantasies and questions if these factors play any significant role in the development of these fantasy writers The author then uses this question as the springboard for a case study in the assessment of biographical and literary influence The book also considers the role played by Britain itself in determining the shape and preoccupations of these writers fiction Britain is a land with a long history in which contemporary life is constantly juxtaposed with evidence of the past in the form of ancient buildings historic sites and archeological remains By placing the work of Cooper Garner Jones and Lively in the context of British culture and of their own time Butler provides a key to their fascination with history mythology and magic and to the ways in which that fascination has found expression in their fiction Students of children's literature and of fantasy literature as well as readers who are interested in the lives of these four subject authors will find this an insightful read

Red Shift Alan Garner, 2011 Three young men from three different time periods influence each other's destiny with the help of a stone axe

Children's Literature Comes of Age Maria Nikolajeva, 2015-08-27 Originally published in 1996 A detailed analysis of the art of children's literature covering world literature for children children's literature as a canonical art form the history of children's literature from a semiotic perspective and epic polyphony chronotope intertextuality and metafiction in children's literature

How Did Long John Silver Lose his Leg Dennis Butts, Peter Hunt, 2013-11-28 How did Long John Silver Lose His Leg is a diverting tour through some of the bestloved classics of children's literature addressing many of the unanswered questions that inspire intense speculation when the books are laid down Could Bobbie's train really have stopped in time The Railway Children Did Beatrix Potter have the flu in 1909 and did this lead to a certain darkness in her work The Tale of Mr Tod Would the rugby football played by Tom Brown be recognised by sportsmen today Tom Brown's Schooldays The authors speculate entertainingly and informatively on the anomalies and unexplained phenomena found in children's literature and having established the cultural importance of children's books in the modern age also consider the more serious issues raised by the genre Why are we so defensive of the idyllic worlds presented in children s books Why have some of our best loved authors been outed as neglectful parents to their own children Should we everseparate the book from its creator and appreciate the works of writers convicted of crimes against children A treat for any enthusiast of children s literature two of the most distinguished writers on the subject provide rich detail witty explication and serious food for thought

First Light Erica Wagner,2016-05-05 Described by Philip Pullman as the most important British writer of fantasy since Tolkein Alan Garner has been enrapturing readers with works like The Weirdstone of Brisingamen The Owl Service Red Shift and The Stone Book Quartet for more than half a century Now a group of the writers and artists he has inspired over the years have come together to celebrate his life and work in First Light This anthology includes original contributions from David Almond Margaret Atwood John Burnside Susan Cooper Helen Dunmore Stephen Fry Neil Gaiman Elizabeth Garner Paul Kingsnorth Katherine Langrish Helen Macdonald Robert Macfarlane Gregory Maguire Neel Mukherjee Philip Pullman Ali Smith Elizabeth Wein Michael Wood and many many more Whether a literary essay a personal response to Garner s writing or a story about the man himself each piece is a tribute to his remarkable impact Edited by the acclaimed journalist and novelist Erica Wagner First Light will touch the heart of anyone who grew up reading Alan Garner

British Children's Literature and the First World War David Budgen,2018-05-17 Perceptions of the Great War have changed significantly since its outbreak and children s authors have continually attempted to engage with those changes explaining and interpreting the events of 1914 18 for young readers British Children s Literature and the First World War examines the role novels textbooks and story papers have played in shaping and reflecting understandings of the conflict throughout the 20th century David Budgen

focuses on representations of the conflict since its onset in 1914 ending with the centenary commemorations of 2014 From the works of Percy F Westerman and Angela Brazil to more recent tales by Michael Morpurgo and Pat Mills Budgen traces developments of understanding and raises important questions about the presentation of history to the young He considers such issues as the motivations of children s authors and whether modern children s books about the past are necessarily more accurate than those written by their forebears Why for example do modern writers tend to ignore the global aspects of the First World War Did detailed narratives of battles written during the war really convey the truth of the conflict Most importantly he considers whether works aimed at children can ever achieve anything more than a partial and skewed response to such complex and tumultuous events
