Cooking John Thorne, 1996-11-16 John Thorne's classic first collection is filled with straightforward eating home cooking vigorous opinions and the gracefully intelligent writing that makes him a cult favorite of people who like to think about food Incisive hilarious and occasionally nostalgic this volume will delight many readers reminding them why they enjoy the pleasures of food and cooking Publishers Weekly Gertrude, Mabel, May Gwendolyn Leick, 2019-06-30 Gertrude Stein's first novel one that was never published during her lifetime was called Q E D She wrote it to exorcise the experience of her first passionate love affair with the New Yorker May Bookstaver the friend and lover of the Bostonian Mabel Haynes a fellow student of Gertrude Stein's at Johns Hopkins Medical School between 1898 and 1902 The impact of the complicated affair on Stein's writing has attracted considerable attention but the subsequent lives of her two intimate friends have not been covered so far in any detailed way Gwendolyn Leick is the granddaughter of Mabel Haynes who moved to Austria-Hungary in 1905 She began writing this book after the chance discovery of her grandmother's part in Gertrude Stein's life some six years ago in order to do justice to these remarkable women The method of writing lays out the things the notions and ideas the people friends relatives lovers husbands in the form of associative entries woven around Gertrude Stein's texts as much as on private letters photographs and other found objects It is an encyclopaedic enterprise rather than a chronologically ordered biographical account The character and the lives of the three protagonists and the times they lived in emerge through the kaleidoscope of the accumulated vignettes Pot in Pans Robyn Griggs Lawrence, 2019-05-08 Pot in Pans A History of Eating Weed is a comprehensive history of cannabis as a unique culinary ingredient from ancient India and Persia to today's explosive new market Cannabis the hottest new global food trend has been providing humans with nutrition medicine and solace against all odds since the earliest cavepeople discovered its powers In colorful detail the book explores the debate over the cannabis plant's taxonomy and nomenclature then follows as it co-evolves with humans throughout history beloved by the masses reviled by the elite and shrouded in conflict and secrecy The story is held together by the thread of the Islamic confection majoun created to manipulate a band of twelfth-century fedayeen a legend that later inspired Western intellectuals and literati to discover and enjoy hashish and majoun It's the story of how a U.S. drug czar got cannabis prohibited around the world and how some cultures worked around that It's the story of how a recipe for majoun made its way into the hands of Alice B. Toklas an expat in Paris and then into the pages of a cookbook published in New York and London leading to a major mix-up in a major motion picture that morphed majoun into the pot brownie and turned the pot brownie into a Western icon forevermore From the rowdy band of artists rebels and intellectuals who partook of majoun's charms and to an activist who made the pot brownie a symbol of compassion it's the story of how cannabis cookery and hash eating survived through decades of global prohibition and the birth of a skies-the-limit cannabis infused food industry Along the way Robyn Griggs Lawrence explores the medicinal qualities of cannabis and its resurgence as a both a recreational drug and a respite from various illnesses and ailments With recipes and stories throughout this work is sure to entertain and inform readers about the history of cannabis as an edible ingredient in a variety of foods Eating Identities Wenying Xu,2018-03-31 The French epicure and gastronome Brillat Savarin declared Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are Wenying Xu infuses this notion with cultural political energy by extending it to an ethnic group known for its cuisines Asian Americans She begins with the general argument that eating is a means of becoming not simply in the sense of nourishment but more importantly of what we choose to eat what we can afford to eat what we secretly crave but are ashamed to eat in front of others and how we eat Food as the most significant medium of traffic between the inside and outside of our bodies organizes signifies and legitimates our sense of self and distinguishes us from others who practice different foodways Narrowing her scope Xu reveals how cooking eating and food fashion Asian American identities in terms of race ethnicity gender class diaspora and sexuality She provides lucid and informed interpretations of seven Asian American writers John Okada Joy Kogawa Frank Chin Li Young Lee David Wong Louie Mei Ng and Monique Truong and places these identity issues in the fascinating spaces of food hunger consumption appetite desire and orality Asian American literature abounds in culinary metaphors and references but few scholars have made sense of them in a meaningful way Most literary critics perceive alimentary references as narrative strategies or part of the background Xu takes food as the central site of cultural and political struggles waged in the seemingly private domain of desire in the lives of Asian Americans Eating Identities is the first book to link food to a wide range of Asian American concerns such as race and sexuality Unlike most sociological studies which center on empirical analyses of the relationship between food and society it focuses on how food practices influence psychological and ontological formations and thus contributes significantly to the growing field of food studies For students of literature this tantalizing work offers an illuminating lesson on how to read the multivalent meanings of food and eating in literary texts Six Women Who Shaped What Americans Eat Michelle Mart,2025-07-15 Six Women Who Shaped What Americans Eat tells the story of how food choice in modern America has been influenced by culture industrial abundance and health narratives Mart reflects on the careers of six women to illustrate the varied and overlapping influences on food choice Each of these women had a substantial impact on American cuisine attitudes toward food and what people chose to eat They highlighted the politics of food the pleasure of food the connection between food and health and the environmental harm of poor food choices Part one of the book discusses the bounties of the modern American food system and covers Hazel Stiebeling Poppy Cannon and Julia Child Stiebeling was a chemist and government nutritionist beginning in the 1930s and shaped dietary guidelines and school lunches that affected generations of Americans Cannon a best selling cookbook author and newspaper columnist gained fame in the 1950s by preaching the wonders of processed food Child another cookbook author and television personality starting in the 1960s celebrated French cuisine and made it accessible to

American cooks and palates Part two examines the hidden costs of abundance and covers Frances Moore Lapp Marion Nestle and Alice Waters Lapp was an author and activist concerned with the environmental impact of food in the late 20th century and who is credited with bringing vegetarianism into the mainstream Nestle was an academic nutritionist government consultant and author who decried the undue influence of food corporations Waters a celebrity chef restaurateur and food activist became a symbol of alternative food movements in the 21st century Provided by publisher

F Is for France Piu Marie Eatwell, 2016-06-28 Exploring a culture filled with arcane laws historical incidents and bizarre paradoxes Piu Eatwell's follow up to her award winning and critically acclaimed myth buster They Eat Horses Don't They is a delightful exploration of France's quirky literary and culinary heritage From absinthe and catacombs to former French soccer player Zinedine Zidane Eatwell leaves no stone unturned taking readers off the beaten path to explore the kind of information that gets missed in guidebooks and official information sources Who could imagine for example that there is a village in France where UFOs are banned from landing Or that there is a verifiable population of wild kangaroos in the forests surrounding Paris These and many other off beat delights are just some of the curiosities awaiting readers in this journey through byways and hidden treasures of this endlessly fascinating and paradoxical country Full of the richness and variety of France beyond the platitudes including recipes and charming illustrations F is for France is an ideal gift book and a must read for Francophiles and anyone with an interest in French travel and culture

A Taste of Power Katharina Vester, 2015-10-02 A Taste of Power is an investigation of the crucial role culinary texts and practices played in the making of cultural identities and social hierarchies since the founding of the United States Nutritional advice and representations of food and eating including cookbooks literature magazines newspapers still life paintings television shows films and the internet have helped throughout American history to circulate normative claims about citizenship gender performance sexuality class privilege race and ethnicity while promising an increase in cultural capital and social mobility to those who comply with the prescribed norms The study examines culinary writing and practices as forces for the production of social order and at the same time as points of cultural resistance against hegemonic norms especially in shaping dominant ideas of nationalism gender and sexuality suggesting that eating right is a gateway to becoming an American a good citizen an ideal man or a perfect mother Cookbooks as a low prestige literary form became the largely unheralded vehicles for women to participate in nation building before they had access to the vote or public office for middle class authors to assert their class privileges for men to claim superiority over women even in the kitchen and for Lesbian authors to reinscribe themselves into the heteronormative economy of culinary culture The book engages in close reading of a wide variety of sources and genres to uncover the intersections of food politics and privilege in American culture Provided by publisher

Consumption and the Literary Cookbook Roxanne Harde, Janet Wesselius, 2020-11-18 Consumption and the Literary Cookbook offers readers the first book length study of literary cookbooks Imagining the genre more broadly to include narratives laden with recipes cookbooks based on cultural productions including films plays and television series and cookbooks that reflected and or shaped cultural and historical narratives the contributors draw on the tools of literary and cultural studies to closely read a diverse corpus of cookbooks By focusing on themes of consumption gastronomical and rhetorical the sixteen chapters utilize the recipes and the narratives surrounding them as lenses to study identity society history and culture The chapters in this book reflect the current popularity of foodie culture as they offer entertaining analyses of cookbooks the stories they tell and the stories told about them

Food and Culture in the Works of Ford Madox Ford, Gertrude Stein, and Virginia Woolf Nanette O'Brien, 2024-01-09 Writing about food has long been a part of autobiographical expression that combines culinary record keeping and histories drawing on the personal and the cultural Concentrating on the transatlantic work of Ford Madox Ford Gertrude Stein and Virginia Woolf this book illuminates modernist uses of the terms civilization and barbarism showing how these concepts are shaped by the rules of preparing and eating food in literature and in public Nanette O'Brien introduces the concept of culinary Impressionism as an extension and repositioning of current scholarly thinking about Ford's literary Impressionism and his synesthetic writing about cookery and small farming She also presents a new reading of Stein's crafting of her modernist authority as interlinked with her cooks and shows Stein's and Toklas's jointly authored unpublished cookbook draft as evidence of their direct authorial collaboration and of Stein adapting domestic culinary techniques into her other writing O'Brien goes on to present new archival research demonstrating that Virginia Woolf's representation of the financial and culinary difference between men's and women's dining in colleges at the University of Cambridge is justified and the material inequality was in fact worse than previously understood This disparity in institutional food intensifies Woolf's later reimagining of the term civilization While drawing on themes of modernism and life writing the everyday domestic life and gender the book argues that food is a vehicle for positive modernist reconceptions of civilization

Fat Sex: New Directions in Theory and Activism Helen Hester, Caroline Walters, 2016-03-09 While fat sexual bodies are highly visible as vehicles for stigma there has been a lack of scholarly research addressing this facet of contemporary body politics Fat Sex New Directions in Theory and Activism seeks to rectify this bringing debates about fat sex into the academic arena and providing a much needed critical space for voices from across the spectrum of theory and activism It examines the intersection of fat sex and sexuality within a contemporary cultural landscape that is openly hostile towards fat people and their perceived social and aesthetic transgressions Acknowledging and engaging with some of the innovative work being done by artists activists and academics around the issue of fat sex this collection both challenges preconceptions regarding fatness and sexuality but also critiques and debates various aspects of the fat activist approach It draws on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives bringing together work from the UK US Europe and Australia to offer a wide ranging examination of the issues of size sex and sexuality A cutting edge exploration not only of fat sex but of identity politics neoliberalism and contemporary body activism in general Fat Sex New Directions in Theory and Activism will be of interest to scholars of sociology cultural studies geography porn studies and literary studies working on questions of gender sexuality and the body
