T. Bergeron,2014-06-27 While still a young boy Tagan confesses to his parents that he can see into the beautiful world of Quanna Eresse Their over the top reaction convinces Tagan that something is wrong with him and he tries to suppress his ability Forget about it altogether But Tagan comes to learn that those in Quanna Eresse have been waiting for this moment to end a conflict with the Draepkos that started long ago in the pages of history lost to time The Draepkos are also aware of Tagan s ability and are terrified that he learn the truth of things and open the eyes of those they have enslaved for it will spell the end of the tyrannical oppressed world they worked so hard to create There is no way they are about to let that happen The Draepkos decide to keep Tagan under wraps and induct him into the service of Lozan and the Citadel he commands in the hopes that kept away from the citizenry of Brankin Huoh they can control Tagan Tagan is freed from the clutches of the Citadel by Braulor a half brother he didn t know he had and together they flee the pursuit of the Citadel guards and attempt to join Braulor s clan far from the clutches of the Citadel On their escape from the Citadel Tagan is almost killed and while unconscious he is visited by Meyu Kwi a mysterious ambassador who imparts to Tagan the real history of Quanna Eresse and Brankin Huoh and why they are two separate worlds now How it is that Tagan can see into Quanna Eresse while others cannot More importantly he tells Tagan that all of mankind should be a part of the peaceful splendor that is Quanna Eresse and how Tagan can fix the fractured worlds of the Draepkos creation The fear of change extends beyond the low level enforcers however and the scent of freedom wafts up the chain of command extending to those that hide in the shadows to the real power brokers that keep humanity under their boot and the thought of losing control makes them quake and they pull out all the stops to find him With the promise of change in the air there are many who wish to make a grab at the reins of control and like the vegetables in a boiling pot of stew one by one they come from the shadows to join in the hunt for Tagan Each of them driven by their own agenda and their own vision of a future of their creation They all want the same thing and they know Tagan has the been told where to find it They all want to learn the Prophecy of the Amber Eye Beyond Thalassocracies Evi Gorogianni,Peter Pavuk,Luca Girella,2016-08-31 Beyond Thalassocracies aims to evaluate and rethink the manner in which archaeologists approach understand and analyze the various processes associated with culture change connected to interregional contact using as a test case the world of the Aegean during the Late Bronze Age c 1600 1100 BC The 14 chapters compare and contrast various aspects of the phenomena of Minoanisation and Mycenaeanisation both of which share the basic underlying defining feature of material culture change in communities around the Aegean This change was driven by trends manifesting themselves in the dominant palatial communities of each period of the Bronze Age Over the past decade our understanding of how these processes developed and functioned has changed considerably Whereas current discussions on Minoanisation have already been informed by more recent theoretical trends especially in material culture studies and post colonial theory the process of Mycenaeanisation is still very much conceptualized along traditional lines of explanation Since these phenomena occurred in chronological sequence it makes sense that any reappraisal of their nature and significance should target those regions of the Aegean basin that were affected by both processes highlighting their similarities and differences Thus in the present volume we focus on the southern and eastern Aegean in particular the Cyclades Dodecanese and the north eastern Aegean islands      The Mountain Mouse Linda J.
