The Adventures Of A Parapsychologist:

In Search of the Light Susan J. Blackmore, 2011-03-04 True skepticism has nothing to do with disbelief says Susan Blackmore It is about taking people's claims seriously and trying to understand them As a starry eyed student Blackmore was convinced of the reality of astral planes telepathy and life after death She was determined to devote her life to parapsychology but what she found wasn't what she had bargained for None of her cleverly devised experiments revealed a hint of the psi she was seeking In a determined effort to find it somehow she tested young children in play groups trained students in imagery and altered states of consciousness and even put Tarot cards to the test She visited haunted houses and was regressed to a past life Finally accused of being a psi inhibitory experimenter with the power of abolishing paranormal effects she visited other more successful experimenters Here she found only errors in their experiments In this new and updated edition of The Adventures of a Parapsychologist Blackmore is at last at liberty to explain just what she found in those ill fated experiments at Cambridge She brings her story up to date in a lively and personal account of one scientist's never ending search for the paranormal

Containing contributions from some of the leading figures in Europe on the paranormal, Parapsychology challenges and provokes readers with an up to the minute examination of some of the most puzzling phenomena in psychology. Unlike previous works, the current volume invites readers to step into the shoes of scientists, believers, and sceptics alike to see not only how they must approach the array of weird and wonderful events that demand their attention but also the tools that they use to do their job. A range of intriguing topics is considered, including dream telepathy, near death experiences, alien abductions, belief in astrology, placebo effects, and awareness during anaesthesia and in comas. In addition, readers have the opportunity to engage in experiments with the authors. Exploring these and other areas, the book bridges the gap between traditional psychology and its so-called fringe areas, providing accessible accounts of how science works on the border of its last frontier: the human mind. Parapsychology is for readers from a variety of backgrounds: professionals in the field, students, lay readers, and anyone who wants to understand what the paranormal can tell us about ourselves as we set out into the 21st century. A variety of viewpoints are on offer, with the emphasis on the reader to make their own mind up. Prepared to be unsettled. The Journal of Parapsychology Joseph Banks Rhine, Charles Edward Stuart, William McDougall, 1988. Death and Personal Survival Robert F. Almeder, 1992.
