Crafting the Woman Professional in the Long Nineteenth Century Kyriaki Hadjiafxendi, Patricia

Zakreski, 2016-05-13 Over the course of the nineteenth century women in Britain participated in diverse and prolific forms of artistic labour As they created objects and commodities that blurred the boundaries between domestic and fine art production they crafted subjectivities for themselves as creative workers By bringing together work by scholars of literature painting music craft and the plastic arts this collection argues that the constructed and contested nature of the female artistic professional was a notable aspect of debates about aesthetic value and the impact of industrial technologies All the essays in this volume set up a productive inter art dialogue that complicates conventional binary divisions such as amateur and professional public and private artistry and industry in order to provide a more nuanced understanding of the relationship between gender artistic labour and creativity in the period Ultimately how women faced the pragmatics of their own creative labour as they pursued vocations trades and professions in the literary marketplace and related art industries reveals the different ideological positions surrounding the transition of women from industrious amateurism to professional artistry

Art of Ford Madox Brown Kenneth Bendiner, 2010-11-01 This is the first comprehensive history devoted to the art of Ford Madox Brown 1821 93 in which his paintings establish him as a major figure in the most important new art movement of Victorian England Pre Raphaelitism The book presents a new explanation of the development and basic aims of Pre Raphaelite art as a whole and offers a revealing discussion of the power and importance of the humor and negative spirit that run throughout Brown's work. It also ties Brown's realist approach to British decorative taste at midcentury and redefines his place in the Aesthetic Movement, a cultural trend that dominated the latter half of the nineteenth century. In addition, the artist's socialist leanings and nationalistic tendencies expressed in depictions of workers, children, women, and religious scenes are set out more fully than in any previous literature on the artist.

The World in Paint David Peters Corbett, 2004. Familiar narratives about the nature of English modernism, tradition, and periodization, together with the literary character of English art from the mid-nineteenth to the early twentieth centuries, are abandoned in this innovative and important book. In their stead, David Peters Corbett proposes a new way of looking at this painting, from the Pre-Raphaelites to the Vorticists. Arguing that art history has been too reluctant to confront the fundamental question of how and what the consistency and application of paint signifies, Corbett investigates the work of English artists among them Rossetti, Burne-Jones, Leighton, Watts, Whistler, Sickert, and the modernists of 1914 through a historical examination of the meanings of the visual in English culture. By revealing that for many artists and thinkers, the visual promised to deliver a more profound understanding of the world than language, the book offers a new reading of the art of the period between 1848 and the First World War.

Pleasure Wars: The Bourgeois Experience, Victoria to Freud Peter Gay, 1998-01-17. A master historian shows us a new side of the Victorian Era: the role of the Bourgeois as reactionaries, revolutionaries, and middle of the roaders in the passage of high culture toward modernism. The Victorians, in this richly peopled narrative, maneuvered through decades marked by frequent shifts in taste: some seeking safety in traditional styles, others drawn to the avant-garde of artists, composers, and writers. Peter Gay's panoramic survey offers a fresh view of the ideas and sensibilities that dominated Victorian culture.

Pleasure Wars Peter Gay, 1998. Whereas Education of the Senses focused on the sexual attitudes and practices of the nineteenth century, Bourgeoisie: The Tender Passion concentrates on their notions of love. No less revisionist than he was in his first volume, Gay argues here that the Victorians were able not only to enjoy their sexuality but to know love in its most exalted sense. The realities of love for the Victorians, he shows, came much closer to their ideals than many have thought. Gay delves into a huge body of material, from philosophical treatises to medical texts, from letters and diaries to works of fiction. The book is replete with fascinating insights into the lives and works of individual Victorians: Dickens, Stendhal, Wagner, Oscar Wilde, Beatrice Potter, and Sydney Webb among them, and his discussions range from the discovery of homosexuality to the ways love was diverted or disguised in music and religion.
