Ferrari

The Agreement Of Religions:

The Internal Law of Religions Burkhard Josef Berkmann, 2020-09-22 Comparative law of religions has developed in recent years as a new discipline at the intersection of legal and religious science of theology and anthropology This book presents a systematic theoretical basis for this new discipline While law is mostly associated with the state many religions also have their own internal law These internal legal norms are aimed at a particular form of behaviour on the part of believers They therefore play a particular role in conflicts arising today between certain religious forms of behaviour The comparison of the internal law of religions serves to establish and explain the commonalities and differences between various religious legal traditions The religions examined here include the law of Christian denominations Jewish law Islamic law Hindu law Buddhist law and other religious legal systems The work assesses six current approaches to the comparative law of religions evaluating their strengths and weaknesses leading to the development of a new approach The book discusses the role of religious law in state law and looks to likely future developments The work will be essential for those interested in the administration of justice and politics for those professions where intercultural competence is required and for interreligious dialogue

International Religious Rights and Standards Cometan, 2023-09-23 The principal finding of the doctoral research of Cometan a k a Brandon Reece Taylorian was that the ways governments both authoritarian and democratic use their powers to recognise religions and beliefs and register religious or belief organisations is negatively impacting conditions of freedom of religion or belief Cometan explored the range of recognition and registration issues plaguing religious freedom and other human rights and discovered that there lacks a definitive set of international standards to address some of the granular topics that are causing registration procedures in particular to become onerous and thus impedimental to the free and legal exercise of religion or belief Cometan's International Religious Rights and Standards IRRS document presents a series of standards for how nation states ought to develop their recognition and registration policies and practices to remain FoRB compliant The standards of the IRRS document have been created based on the results of Cometan s PhD research the thesis for which is titled Religious Freedom and State Recognition of Belief Cometan s intention is that the IRRS document will encourage international organisations like the OSCE and the United Nations as well as national and international human rights courts such as the ECtHR to establish more detailed and country specific guidelines to address the breath of registration issues and the recognition issues that often worsen such issues

The Religious Sentiments of the Human Mind Daniel Greenleaf Thompson,1888

Religious Freedom and the Neutrality of the State W. A. R. Shadid,P. Sj. van Koningsveld,2002

The permanent presence of Islam and Muslims is a comparatively recent phenomenon in most countries of the European Union Over the last few decades many initiatives have been launched by Muslim communities in the European Union to create infrastructural provisions for their religious life within the existing legal and social frameworks In fact all countries of the European Union share the principles of religious freedom and non discrimination in their respective Constitutions However the precise way in which these principles are interpreted and applied to Islam depends largely on the historical traditions concerning the relation between State and Religion which differ from one country to another These differences are reflected in recent developments in the communication between the States and their Muslim communities both at national regional and municipal levels They are also reflected in recent developments in legislation and jurisprudence concerning the most essential Islamic core values such as dietary laws the precepts on modest dress Islamic burial practices and the possibilities to found Islamic cemeteries as well as the observance of Friday prayers and annual holidays Looking at the legal position of Islam in the countries of the European Union the authors of this volume discuss the challenges posed by the presence of Islam to the Western European system of relationships between law and religion They argue that these challenges necessitate reforms within the relevant European legislation but differ as to their precise nature They also discuss the difficulties of this task as these adjustments will alter a longstanding balance of rights and privileges recognised by different religious denominations Legal reforms however are not sufficient The creation of a truly multicultural Europe also necessitates fighting against the negative image of Islam and Muslims anti Muslimism or Islamophobia prevailing in most of its member states

Funding Religious Heritage Anne Fornerod,2016-03-09 This collection brings together a group of highly respected law and religion scholars to explore the funding of religious heritage in the context of state support for religions The importance of this state support is that on the one hand it illustrates the potential tensions between secular and religious values whilst on the other it constitutes a relevant tool for investigating the question of the legitimacy of such financial support The funding logically varies according to the national system of state religion relationships and this is reflected in the range of countries studied including Belgium Bulgaria Denmark France Italy The Netherlands Spain Turkey and the United Kingdom The book provides clarity in the assignment of funds to religious heritage as well as seeking to define the limit of what relates to the exercise of worship and what belongs to cultural policy It is clear that the main challenge for the future lies not only in managing the dual purpose of religious monuments but also in re using these buildings which have lost their original purpose This collection will appeal to those interested in cultural heritage management as well as law and religion scholars The views expressed during the execution of the RELIGARE project in whatever form and or by whatever medium are the sole responsibility of the authors The European Union is not liable for any use that may be made of the information contained therein Annual Report on International Religious Freedom 2006, October 2007, 110-1 Joint Committee Print, S. Prt. 110-32 ,2008 The Non-Religious and the State Jeffrey Tyssens, Niels De Nutte, Stefan Schröder, 2024-11-04 As the number of the non affiliated and religiously indifferent is on the rise this book adds a hitherto absent historical dimension to the field of secular studies It shows a variety of ways in which the non religious at large be it organizations networks or even committed individuals impact upon the interface between the state and the religious or the non religious To what specific legal statuses have these processes led What elements were taken into consideration when making these decisions Who opted for a recognition of a non confessional lifestance and why Conversely who opted for a wall of separation and why Are things that clear cut Doesn t the variety of choices and frameworks offer a more varied spectrum What continuities and discontinuities are to be observed in the history of seculars and their organizations These patterns divergent and entangled are developed and explained within the broader conception of multiple secularisms The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Peace Jolyon Mitchell, Suzanna R. Millar, Francesca Po, Martyn Percy, 2022-08-02 Incisive contributions from leading and emerging scholars in the field of Peace Studies In the Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Peace a team of renowned scholars delivers an authoritative and interdisciplinary sourcebook that addresses the key concepts history theories models resources and practices in the complex and ambivalent relationship between religion and peace The editors have included contributions from a wide range of perspectives and locations that reflect diverse methods and approaches The Companion provides a collection grounded in experience and context that draws on established developing and new research characterized by academic rigor The differences between the approaches taken by several religious traditions are fully explored and numerous case studies highlight relevant theories models and resources Accessible as either a standalone collection or as a partner to the Companion to Religion and Violence this edited volume also offers A thorough introduction to religion and its search for peace including the relationships between religion and peace and theories and practices for studying the interplay between religion and peace Comprehensive explorations of religion and peace in local contexts including discussions of women s empowerment and peacebuilding in an Islamic context Practical discussions of practices and embodiments of religion and peace including treatments of museums for peace and self religion in global peace movements In depth examinations of lived Christian theologies and building peace including discussions of Martin Luther King Jr and spiritual activism in Scotland Perfect for students and scholars of peacemaking peacekeeping and peace building the Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Peace will also earn a place in the libraries of anyone professionally or personally interested in the field of Peace or Religious Studies International Relations History Politics or Theology Religion as Securitization in Central and Eastern Europe András Máté-Tóth, Kinga Povedák, 2024-09-18 Religion as Securitization in Central and Eastern Europe examines the significance of securitization theory as a reference point in understanding current religious socio cultural and political processes in Central and Eastern Europe CEE It explores contemporary social processes and discourses on security linked to religion and religious institutions CEE has experienced many confluences of security issues with religious interpretations and world views For instance the international refugee and migration crisis could not be separated from the counterpoint between Christianity and Islam in political discussions Similarly the debates on LGBT family recognition and the traditional family model are inseparable from the Christian family as a reference point The security needs of the region are particularly acute trigger points which can be instrumentalized by political power In other words the threat sensitivities of collective identity make the region particularly well suited to being a focus of securitization both from the host side and from the discourses that are enforced from above In this volume the authors approach the validity of securitization in relation to religion and religion itself as securitization from a broader perspective They show not only what religious facts and aspects have become threatening in the process of securitization but also that the function of religion in the CEE region can be described and understood primarily as securitization This unique collection of studies offers a comprehensive theoretical and methodological approach while the case studies are drawn from more than seven countries in the region by leading scholars The book will be of interest to scholars from a wide range of disciplines including political science history anthropology and religious studies It will also function as an important introductory work for students to this specific area of research Law, Religion and Love Paul Babie, Vanja-Ivan Savić, 2017-09-01 Increasingly the modern neo liberal world marginalises any notion of religion or spirituality leaving little or no room for the sacred in the public sphere While this process advances the conservative and harmful behaviours associated with some religions and their adherents exacerbate this marginalisation by driving out those who remain religious or spiritual And all of this is seen through the lens of social science which seems to agree that religion remains important if not in spiritual sense at least as a source of folklore and a means of identification religions remain rooted in the societies from which they emerged and the legal systems of many of those societies emerged from religious sources even if those societies remain unwilling to admit that fact In the modern materialistic world of conformity religion is less a source of guidance than a label of identification The world therefore faces two issues First the decreasing level of spirituality in the West widens the gap between worshippers and those who have left their faith eg agnostics and atheists or those who look at religion as a matter of picking and choosing from a range of options And second the strong connections to religion which remain in many nations but which are often misused in the secular public sphere both in the West and

internationally In such divided worlds both religious and secular forces tend to lock themselves into closed groupings of pure truth and in so doing increase the level of disagreement in turn producing radicalism In short the modern world is divided in two ways between religious and non religious although some have argued that the non religious secular is itself a form of civil religion and between those subscribing to divergent understandings of the same religious tradition While hyperbolic and histrionic the term culture wars nonetheless best captures what we see happening in the public sphere today The question emerges then how best to accommodate the democratic principle which posits that the majority should feel that it lives in a society of its own with the human rights principle holding that is necessary to ensure the full protection of the minority s rights How to balance these seemingly opposed principles We are very familiar with the differences that appear between secular and sacred in the modern world yet what of the similarities amongst scriptures and laws which seek to encourage mutual understanding cooperation and even cohabitation Because religion itself is a source of law a set of exhortations or commands as much as a set of rights every major religion offers an approach to encountering the Other in a positive constructive affirming way and it is here that religions reveal much that they have in common This book draws together the work of scholars engaged in exploring the possibilities for a utopian world in the sense fostered by St Thomas More The essays explore those dimensions of religious and civil law where love however that is defined by relevant texts fosters and encourages acceptance of the Other and will offer perspectives on the ways in which religious or civil state law command one to act in the spirit of love

Religious Education Ednan Aslan, Margaret Rausch, 2018-06-06 The authors of this volume examine theory and practice regarding past and present roles of Jewish Christian and Islamic religious education in nurturing tolerance interpreted as mutual respect for and recognition of other groups in Eastern Albania Bulgaria Kosovo Macedonia Moldova Montenegro and Romania and Western Finland Germany Italy Latvia and Spain Europe Israel Nigeria and Uzbekistan They also explore potential roles of religion and exclusivism in fostering Islamic state NGOs etc but also averting Islamic legal theory authority Sufism etc radicalization and of secular states in allowing but also banning minority religious education in public schools With contributions from Friedrich Schweitzer Martin Rothgangel Gerhard Langer Daniela Stan Arto Kallioniemi Juan Ferreiro Galguera Maria Chiara Giorda Rossana M Salerno Viorica Gora Postic Constantin Iulian Damian Valentin Ilie Dzintra Ili ko Ayman Agbaria Zilola Khalilova Raid al Daghistani Osman Ta tan Moshe Ma oz Adriana Cupcea Muhamed Ali R diger Lohlker and Dele Ashiru The Editors Ednan Aslan is the Chair of Islamic Theological studies at the University of Vienna where he is a Professor for Islamic Education Margaret Rausch is scholar researcher and university instructor in the field of Islamic and Religious Studies

Law and Religion in the 21st Century Dr Rinaldo Cristofori, Professor Silvio Ferrari, 2013-02-28 This book brings together leading international scholars of law and religion to provide an overview of current issues in State religion relations The first part of the collection offers a picture of recent developments in key countries and regions The second part is focused on Europe and in particular on the Nordic States and the post communist countries where State religion systems have undergone most profound change The third and final part is devoted to four issues that are currently debated all over the world the relations between freedom of expression and freedom of religion proselytism and the right to change religion the religious symbols and the legal status of Islam in Europe and Canada The work will be a valuable resource for academics students and policy makers with an interest in the interaction between law and religion

International Law and Religion Martti Koskeniemi, Mónica García-Salmones Rovira, Paolo Amorosa, 2017-08-15 This book maps out the territory of international law and religion challenging received traditions in fundamental aspects On the one hand the connection of international law and religion has been little explored On the other most of current research on international legal thought presents international law as the very victory of secularization By questioning that narrative of secularization this book approaches these traditions from a new perspective From the Middle Ages early conceptualizations of rights and law to contemporary political theory the chapters bring to life debates concerning the interaction of the meaning of the legal and the sacred The contributors approach their chapters from an array of different backgrounds and perspectives but with the common objective of investigating the mutually shaping relationship of religion and law The collaborative endeavour that this volume offers makes available substantial knowledge on the question of international law and religion

Religion and Law in Finland Matti Kotiranta, 2025-02-19 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this convenient resource provides systematic information on how Finland deals with the role religion plays or can play in society the legal status of religious communities and institutions and the legal interaction among religion culture education and media After a general introduction describing the social and historical background the book goes on to explain the legal framework in which religion is approached Coverage proceeds from the principle of religious freedom through the rights and contractual obligations of religious communities international transnational and regional law effects and the legal parameters affecting the influence of religion in politics and public life Also covered are legal positions on religion in such specific fields as church financing labour and employment and matrimonial and family law A clear and comprehensive overview of relevant legislation and legal doctrine make the book an invaluable reference source and very useful guide Succinct and practical this book will prove to be of great value to practitioners in the myriad instances where a law related religious interest arises in Finland Academics and researchers will appreciate its value as a thorough but concise treatment of the legal aspects of diversity and multiculturalism in which religion plays such an important part

Religion and Equality W. Cole Durham, Jr., Donlu D Thayer, 2016-05-26 This volume presents an analysis of controversial events and issues shaping a rapidly changing international legal political and social landscape Leading scholars and experts in law religious studies and international relations thoughtfully consider issues and tensions arising in contemporary debates over religion and equality in many parts of the world The book is in two parts The first section focuses on the anti discrimination dimension of religious freedom norms examining the developing law on equality and human rights and how it operates at international and national levels The second section provides a series of case studies exploring the contemporary issue of same sex marriage and how it affects religious groups and believers This collection will be of interest to academics and scholars of law religious studies political science and sociology as well as policymakers and legal practitioners The Methods of Science and Religion Tiddy Smith, 2019-07-05 Tiddy Smith argues that the conflict between science and religion is ultimately a disagreement about what kinds of methods we should use for investigating the world Specifically scientists and religious folk disagree over which belief forming methods are reliable In the course of justifying any scientific claim scientists typically appeal to methods which generate agreement between independent investigators and which converge on the same answers to the same questions In contrast religious claims are typically justified by methods which neither generate agreement nor converge in their results for example dreams visions mystical experiences etc This fundamental difference in methodologies can neatly account for the conflict between science and religion
