The Story of A Patricia Crain, 2000 Richly illustrated with often antic images from alphabet books and primers The Story of A relates the history of the alphabet as a genre of text for children and of alphabetization as a social practice in America from early modern reading primers to the literature of the American Renaissance Offering a poetics of alphabetization and explicating the alphabet s tropes and rhetorical strategies the author demonstrates the far reaching cultural power of such apparently neutral statements as A is for apple The new market for children s books in the eighteenth century established for the republic of ABC a cultural potency equivalent to its high culture counterpart the republic of letters while shaping its child readers into consumers As a central rite of socialization alphabetization schooled children to conflicting expectations as well as to changing models of authority understandings of the world and uses of literature In the nineteenth century literacy became a crucial aspect of American middle class personality and subjectivity Furnishing the readers and writers needed for a national literature the alphabetization of America between 1800 and 1850 informed the sentimental reform novel as well as the self consciously aesthetic novel of the 1850s Through readings of conduct manuals reading primers and a sentimental bestseller the author shows how the alphabet became embedded in a maternal narrative which organized the world through domestic affections Nathaniel Hawthorne by contrast insisted on the artificiality of the alphabet and its practices in his antimimetic hermetic The Scarlet Letter with its insistent focus on the letter A By understanding this novel as part of the network of alphabetization The Story of A accounts for its uniquely persistent cultural role The author concludes in an epilogue with a reading of postmodern alphabets and their implications for the future of literacy

Arno Schmidt's Zettel's Traum: An Analysis (Studies in German Literature, Linguistics, and Culture) Volker Max Langbehn, 2003 Arno Schmidt 1914-1979 is considered one of the most daring and influential writers of postwar Germany the Germanist Jeremy Adler has called him a giant of postwar German literature Schmidt was awarded the Fontane Prize in 1964 and the Goethe Prize in 1973 and his early fiction has been translated into English to high critical acclaim but he is not a well known figure in the English speaking world where his complex work remains at the margins of critical inquiry Volker Langbehn's book introduces Schmidt to the English speaking audience with primary emphasis on his most famous novel Zettel's Traum One reviewer called the book an elephantine monster because of its unconventional size folio format length 1334 pages and over 10 million characters and unique presentation of text in the form of notes typewritten pages parallel columns and collages The novel narrates the life of the main characters Daniel Pagenstecher Paul Jacobi and his wife Wilma and their teenage daughter Franziska In discussing the life and works of Edgar Allan Poe the four engage in the problems connected with a translation of Poe Langbehn's study investigates how literary language can mediate or account for the world of experiences and for concepts Schmidt's use of unconventional presentation formats challenges us to analyze how we think about reading and writing literary texts Instead of viewing such texts as a representation of reality Schmidt's novel destabilizes this unquestioned mode of representation posing a radical challenge to what contemporary literary criticism defines as literature No comprehensive study of Zettel's Traum exists in English Volker Langbehn is assistant professor of German at San Francisco State University

Playful Letters Erika Mary Boeckeler, 2017-11 Alphabetic letters are ubiquitous multivalent and largely ignored Playful Letters reveals their important cultural contributions through Alphabetics a new interpretive model for understanding artistic production that attends to the signifying interplay of the graphemic phonemic lexical and material capacities of letters A key period for examining this interplay is the century and a half after the invention of printing with its unique media ecology of print manuscript sound and image Drawing on Shakespeare anthropomorphic typography figured letters and Cyrillic pedagogy and politics this book explores the ways in which alphabetic thinking and writing inform literature and the visual arts and it develops reading strategies for the letterature that underwrites such cultural production Playful Letters begins with early modern engagements with the alphabet and the human body an intersection where letterature emerges with startling force The linking of letters and typography with bodies produced a new kind of literacy In turn educational habits that shaped letter learning and writing permeated the interrelated practices of typography orthography and poetry These mutually informing processes render visible the persistent crumbling of words into letters and their reconstitution into narrative poetry and image In addition to providing a rich history of literary and artistic alphabetic interrogation in early modern Western Europe and Russia Playful Letters contributes to the continuous story of how people use new technologies and media to reflect on older forms including the alphabet itself

Imagining Language Jed Rasula,Steve McCaffery,2001 When works such as Joyce s Finnegans Wake and Stein s Tender Buttons were first introduced they went so far beyond prevailing linguistic standards that they were widely considered unreadable if not scandalous Jed Rasula and Steve McCaffery take these and other examples of twentieth century avant garde writing as the starting point for a collection of writings that demonstrates a continuum of creative conjecture on language from antiquity to the present The anthology which spans three millennia generally bypasses chronology in order to illuminate unexpected congruities between seemingly discordant materials Together the writings celebrate the scope and prodigality of linguistic speculation in the West going back to the pre Socratics

Companion to Empire David Rojinsky, 2010 This volume traces a genealogy of the varied conceptions and functions of alphabetic writing in Hispanic cultures of the pre modern and early colonial periods The historical junctures selected are those at which the written word in grammatical historical and legal discourse assumed increased ideological importance for bolstering different kinds of imperial power In effect Companion to Empire posits a constellation of historical scenarios rather than a singular mythical origin in which the alliance between writing and imperium might be discerned The corpus of primary texts considered in the volume derives from works by foundational figures in the history of pre modern language theories Isidore of Seville Alfonso X the Wise Antonio de Nebrija and from those identified with the early transatlantic expansion of alphabetic writing Peter Martyr D Anghiera Bernardino de Sahag n Nu o Beltr n de Guzm n By reading these canonical texts against the grain the author avoids the totalizing gesture of histories of the language and instead focuses upon the relationship between prestige written languages the creation of a literate mentality and the need to consolidate imperium on both sides of the Atlantic Companion to Empire will thus be of interest to those adopting a post philological approach to Hispanic Studies as well as those interested in medieval and transatlantic imperium studies

offers a fresh and rigorous new interpretation of how to approach the study of communication signs and meaning Grounded in a deductive theory of interacting systems Piotr Sadowski's book provides an accessible account of the hierarchy of communication Divided into two parts this book argues in the first section that a deductive semiotic theory generates communication situations of increasing complexity from contiguous communication to indirect referential forms based on indexical iconic and symbolic signs Within this system Sadowski explains how key concepts of the semiotic model such as information parainformation and metainformation can account for degrees of cognitive complexity of communication processes including the perception and interpretation of signs on literal and figurative levels After this clear step by step exposition of the theory of interacting systems Systemic Semiotics then explores various applications of this theory providing new insights into problems subsumed under communication studies cultural theory literary and film studies and psychology

Vernacular Eloquence Peter Elbow, 2012-01-13 Since the publication of his groundbreaking books Writing Without Teachers and Writing with Power Peter Elbow has revolutionized how people think about writing Now in Vernacular Eloquence he makes a vital new contribution to both practice and theory The core idea is simple we can enlist virtues from the language activity most people find easiest speaking for the language activity most people find hardest writing Speech with its spontaneity naturalness of expression and fluidity of thought has many overlooked linguistic and rhetorical merits Through several easy to employ techniques writers can marshal this wisdom of the tongue to produce stronger clearer more natural writing This simple idea it turns out has deep repercussions Our culture of literacy Elbow argues functions as though it were a plot against the spoken voice the human body vernacular language and those without privilege making it harder than necessary to write with comfort or power Giving speech a central role in writing overturns many empty preconceptions It causes readers to think critically about the relationship between speech writing and our notion of literacy Developing the political implications behind Elbow's previous books Vernacular Eloquence makes a compelling case that strengthening writing and democratizing it go hand in hand

From Sign to Signing Wolfgang G. Müller, Olga Fischer, 2003 This volume a sequel to Form Miming Meaning 1999 and The Motivated Sign 2001 offers a selection of papers given at the Third International Symposium on Iconicity in Language and Literature Jena 2001 The studies collected here present a number of new departures Special consideration is given to the way non linguistic visual and auditory signs such as gestures and bird sounds are represented in language and more specifically in signed language and how such signs influence semantic conceptualization Other studies examine more closely how visual signs and representations of time and space are incorporated or reflected in literary language in fiction as well as experimental poetry A further new approach concerns intermedial iconicity which emerges in art when its medium is changed or another medium is imitated A more abstract diagrammatic type of iconicity is again investigated with reference to both language and literature some essays focus on the device of reduplication isomorphic tendencies in word formation and on creative iconic patterns in syntax while others explore numerical design in Dante and geometrical patterning in Dylan Thomas A number of theoretically oriented papers pursue post Peircean approaches such as the application of reader response theory and of systems theory to iconicity

The Victorian Illustrated Book Richard Maxwell, 2002 US scholars of literature explore how illustrated books became a cultural form of great importance in England and Scotland from the 1830s and 1840s to the end of the century Some of them consider particular authors or editions but others look at general themes such as illustrations of time maps and metaphors literal illustration and city scenes Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR A Bibliographic History of the Book Joseph Rosenblum, 1995 skillfully compiled should be useful to anyone interested in placing his or her studies in the context of printed and bound literature ENGLISH LITERATURE IN TRANSITION 1880 1920
