Smoking Star:

Smoking David G. Gilbert, 2014-06-03 Personality psychopathology and emotional factors are intimately related to smoking yet there are few efforts to integrate relevant findings in these areas Taking a comprehensive current and detailed view this text develops an empirically based model that reflects the multi dimensional individual difference related causal paths associated with smoking and its reinforcing and affect modulating effects Starting with a review of models of smoking motivation this volume then goes on to discuss effect and emotion and the nature biological bias and relationships among personality temperament and psychopathology Other chapters focus attention on questions of when in whom and what mechanisms promote and reinforce smoking and tobacco use such as gender differences Utilising the findings of these chapters the integrative biopsychosocial STAR Model Of Smoking Effects And Motivation Is Presented And Its Implications are examined As the percentage of smokers in the general population decreases a growing number of those continuing to smoke will be even more difficult to reach Such individuals will benefit from the individualised and intensive interventions suggested here This text is intended to be of use to psychologists psychiatrists physicians epidemiologists sociologists and other health professionals Smoking Jane Bingham, 2006 This title looks at Smoking and the pros and cons of making particular choices young people must make about their behavior Up to date and detailed information make this a valuable books for understanding what is at stake

Star Gods of the Maya Susan Milbrath, 2010-01-01 A prodigious work of unmatched interdisciplinary scholarship on Maya astronomy and religion Journal of Interdisciplinary History Observations of the sun moon planets and stars played a central role in ancient Maya lifeways as they do today among contemporary Maya who maintain the traditional ways This pathfinding book reconstructs ancient Maya astronomy and cosmology through the astronomical information encoded in Pre Columbian Maya art and confirmed by the current practices of living Maya peoples Susan Milbrath opens the book with a discussion of modern Maya beliefs about astronomy along with essential information on naked eye observation She devotes subsequent chapters to Pre Columbian astronomical imagery which she traces back through time starting from the Colonial and Postclassic eras She delves into many aspects of the Maya astronomical images including the major astronomical gods and their associated glyphs astronomical almanacs in the Maya codices and changes in the imagery of the heavens over time This investigation yields new data and a new synthesis of information about the specific astronomical events and cycles recorded in Maya art and architecture Indeed it constitutes the first major study of the relationship between art and astronomy in ancient Maya culture Milbrath has given us a comprehensive reference work that facilitates access to a very broad and varied body of literature spanning several disciplines Isis Destined to become a standard reference work on Maya archaeoastronomy Utterly comprehensive Andrea Stone Professor of Art History University of Wisconsin Milwaukee The Role of the Media in Promoting and Reducing Tobacco Use Ronald M. Cigarette Nation Daniel J. Robinson, 2021-02-05 In the 1950s the causal link between smoking and lung cancer surfaced in medical journals and mainstream media Yet the best years for the Canadian cigarette industry were still to come as per capita cigarette consumption rose steadily in the 1960s and 1970s In Cigarette Nation Daniel Robinson examines the vibrant and contentious history of smoking to discover why Canadians continued to light up despite the publicized health risks Highlighting the prolific marketing and advertising practices that helped make smoking a staple of everyday life Robinson explores socio cultural aspects of cigarette use from the 1930s to the 1950s and recounts the views and actions of tobacco executives government officials and Canadian smokers as they responded to mounting evidence that cigarette use was harmful The persistence of smoking owes to such factors as product development marketing and retailing innovation public relations sponsored science and government inaction Domestic and international tobacco firms worked to furnish Canadian smokers with hope and doubt hope in the form of reassuring marketing as seen with light and mild cigarette brands and doubt by means of disinformation campaigns attacking medical research and press accounts that aligned cigarettes with serious disease Drawing on a wide range of primary sources including thousands of industry records released during a landmark tobacco class action trial in 2015 Cigarette Nation documents in rich detail the history of one of Canada's foremost public
