Towards a Textual Theory of Metonymy Abdul Gabbar Mohammed Al-Sharafi, 2000

Metonymy Jeannette Littlemore, 2015-01-29 Metonymy is a type of figurative language used in everyday conversation a form of shorthand that allows us to use our shared knowledge to communicate with fewer words than we would otherwise need I ll pencil you in and let me give you a hand are both examples of metonymic language Metonymy serves a wide range of communicative functions such as textual cohesion humour irony euphemism and hyperbole all of which play a key role in the development of language and discourse communities Using authentic data throughout this book shows how metonymy operates not just in language but also in gesture sign language art music film and advertising It explores the role of metonymy in cross cultural communication along with the challenges it presents to language learners and translators Ideal for researchers and students in linguistics and literature as well as teachers and general readers interested in the art of communication

Metonymy and Language Charles Denroche, 2014-12-05 Metonymy and Language presents a new theory of language and communication in which the central focus is on the concept of metonymy the recognition of partial matches and overlaps Through the use of original data sets and rigorous primary research Denroche characterizes metonymy as key to understanding why language is so fit for purpose and how it achieves such great subtlety and flexibility This study develops the notion of metonymic competence and demonstrates that metonymic behavior is often pursued for its own sake in recreational activities such as quizzes puzzles and play and shows the possible impact of the application of metonymic processing theory to professional fields such as language teaching and translator training Furthermore it proposes a research approach with metonymy at its center metonymics which Denroche suggests could provide a powerful framework for addressing issues in numerous fields of practice in the arts and sciences

Metaphor, Metonymy and Lexicogenesis Andrew Goatly, 2024-11-15 This book investigates the interaction between new English lexis and metaphor metonymy figures meticulously defined and contrasted in terms of similarity contiguity It advances three main hypotheses i derived lexis is more likely to be figurative in meaning and usage than the bases from which it is derived ii

derivation obscures the figurative origins of this lexis to varying degrees depending on differing processing strategies iii lexicalisation is determined by Relevance in Sperber and Wilson's sense to the needs of a culture or its powerful interest groups where culture following Norman Fairclough is characterised as an ensemble of recognised action discourse genres This volume is distinctive in exploring the relations between grammar and metonymy and providing numerous examples of metaphorical and metonymic lexis as it reflects society's changing needs and contested ideologies The Routledge Handbook of Translation, Feminism and Gender Luise von Flotow, Hala Kamal, 2020-06-09 The Routledge Handbook of Translation Feminism and Gender provides a comprehensive state of the art overview of feminism and gender awareness in translation and translation studies today Bringing together work from more than 20 different countries from Russia to Chile Yemen Turkey China India Egypt and the Maghreb as well as the UK Canada the USA and Europe this Handbook represents a transnational approach to this topic which is in development in many parts of the world With 41 chapters this book presents discusses and critically examines many different aspects of gender in translation and its effects both local and transnational Providing overviews of key questions and case studies of work currently in progress this Handbook is the essential reference and resource for students and researchers of translation feminism and gender Brand Equity Planning with Structuralist Rhetorical Semiotics Rossolatos, George, 2014-01-01 Brand Equity Planning with Structuralist Rhetorical Semiotics furnishes an innovative conceptual model and methodology for brand equity planning with view to addressing a crucial gap in the existing marketing and semiotic literatures concerning how advertising multimodal textual elements may be transformed into brand associations with an emphasis on rhetorical relations as modes of connectivity between a brand's surface and depth grammar The scope of this project is interdisciplinary spanning research areas such as brand equity structuralist semiotics textual semiotics visual and film semiotics multimodal rhetoric Film theory psychoanalysis The proposed connectionist model of the brand trajectory of signification is operationalized through a methodological framework that encompasses a structuralist semiotic interpretative approach to the textual formation of brand equity supported by quantitative content analysis with the aid of the software Atlas.ti and the application of multivariate mapping techniques

Grasping for Power from the Tree of Life Amy E. Meverden, 2025-10-30 Interpreting the Tree of Life from the book of Revelation as a symbolic critique of power the image becomes a potential tool for reimagining life beyond imperial control This book examines the biblical Tree of Life in Revelation 22 and its roots in Genesis 2:3 as a potent symbol of kingship and power by connecting it with ancient Southwest Asian and Roman imperial iconography of sacred trees Through a tripart methodology of intertextuality visual exegesis and metonymy Grasping for Power from the Tree of Life A Visual Reading of Revelation 22 explores how sacred trees reflect power dynamics particularly in the context of empire Amy E Meverden analyzes the Tree of Life in Revelation 22 alongside Roman imperial vegetation symbolism in the Ara Pacis Augustae 9 BCE and the Genesis Tree of Life alongside ancient Southwest Asian iconography in the Ashurbanipal Garden frieze 669-631 BCE

These symbols underscore the emperor's authority as the divine's earthly representative with vegetation serving as a visual extension of dominance and resource control. This book argues that the Tree of Life not only critiques power abuses but also has the metonymic potential to inspire visions of life beyond oppressive systems while also risking the re-imposition of empire through interpretation. In this way, the Tree of Life stands as a complex symbol of both resistance to and reinforcement of imperial power.
