That Branch Of The Lake Of Como:

Propositions Massimiliano Carrara, Elisabetta Sacchi, 2006 This special issue of GPS collects 11 papers and a long introduction by leading philosophers and young researchers which tackle more or less from close the topic of propositions by trying to provide the reader with a cross section of the ongoing debate in this area The raised issues range over the semantics the ontology the epistemology and the philosophy of mathematics and stimulate the reader to reflect on crucial problems such as the following are propositions objects In the positive case what kind of objects are they Can they be grasped by cognitive creatures such as we are When can we say that two people entertain the same proposition Have propositions any role to play in speech act theory Even though the notion of proposition has received considerable attention in the past philosophical debate it is still of great interest in particular in connection with the attacks which have recently been launched against it in the theory of language The volume which is equipped with a long and detailed introduction that supplies the young reader with useful background information on the different stances in the debate could prove useful also for didactic purposes
