Missed Approach to Death Andrew J. Dilk, 2004-01-21 The aviation public is fascinated by accidents such as American 570 TWA Egypt Air and now the Columbia shuttle disaster as well as the hundreds of private airplane accidents throughout the United States annually including the pathos of the John F Kennedy Jr flight to Marthas Vineyard This audience includes those who take commercial and private flights those involved in aviation transportation pilots air traffic controllers lawyers law and aviation students who will be captured by the events leading to the crash of a private airplane while one of the pilots attempted an instrument approach to a small city airport after receiving a clearance to land from the FAAs nearby Boston radar facility Exposed is the trail of the tragedy its investigation and the litigation before an irascible and imperious Federal judge in Boston Adding to the intensity is the allegation of Government intimidation of an expert and the provoking air traffic control testimony of a former National Transportation Safety Board investigator hired by the parties suing the U S whose testimony contradicts the very radar data utilized by him in his earlier official NTSB accident report

Radiation Nation Natasha Zaretsky, 2018-02-13 On March 28 1979 the worst nuclear reactor accident in U S history occurred at the Three Mile Island power plant in Central Pennsylvania Radiation Nation tells the story of what happened that day and in the months and years that followed as local residents tried to make sense of the emergency The near meltdown occurred at a pivotal moment when the New Deal coalition was unraveling trust in government was eroding conservatives were consolidating their power and the political left was becoming marginalized Using the accident to explore this turning point Natasha Zaretsky provides a fresh interpretation of the era by disclosing how atomic and ecological imaginaries shaped the conservative ascendancy Drawing on the testimony of the men and women who lived in the shadow of the reactor Radiation Nation shows that the region s citizens especially its mothers grew convinced that they had sustained radiological injuries that threatened their reproductive futures Taking inspiration from the antiwar environmental and feminist movements women at Three Mile Island crafted a homegrown ecological politics that wove together concerns over radiological threats to the body the struggle over abortion and reproductive rights and eroding trust in authority This politics was shaped above all by what Zaretsky calls biotic nationalism a new body centered nationalism that imagined the nation as a living mortal being and portrayed sickened Americans as evidence of betrayal The first cultural history of the accident Radiation Nation reveals the surprising ecological dimensions of post Vietnam conservatism while showing how growing anxieties surrounding bodily illness infused the political realignment of the 1970s in ways that blurred any easy distinction between left and right Journal of Health, Physical Education, Recreation ,1942 CliffsNotes
