The African-American Image in Crisis Sidney Rahim Sharif, 1985-01-01      The Black Image in the White Mind Robert M. Entman, Andrew Rojecki, 2024-05-31 Living in a segregated society white Americans learn about African Americans not through personal relationships but through the images the media show them The Black Image in the White Mind offers the most comprehensive look at the intricate racial patterns in the mass media and how they shape the ambivalent attitudes of Whites toward Blacks Using the media and especially television as barometers of race relations Robert Entman and Andrew Rojecki explore but then go beyond the treatment of African Americans on network and local news to incisively uncover the messages sent about race by the entertainment industry from prime time dramas and sitcoms to commercials and Hollywood movies While the authors find very little in the media that intentionally promotes racism they find even less that advances racial harmony They reveal instead a subtle pattern of images that while making room for Blacks implies a racial hierarchy with Whites on top and promotes a sense of difference and conflict Commercials for example feature plenty of Black characters But unlike Whites they rarely speak to or touch one another In prime time the few Blacks who escape sitcom buffoonery rarely enjoy informal friendly contact with White colleagues perhaps reinforcing social distance in real life Entman and Rojecki interweave such astute observations with candid interviews of White Americans that make clear how these images of racial difference insinuate themselves into Whites thinking Despite its disturbing readings of television and film the book's cogent analyses and proposed policy guidelines offer hope that America's powerful mediated racial separation can be successfully bridged Entman and Rojecki look at how television news focuses on black poverty and crime out of proportion to the material reality of black lives how black experts are only interviewed for black themed issues and how black politics are distorted in the news and conclude that while there are more images of African Americans on television now than there were years ago these images often don't reflect a commitment to racial comity or community building between the races Thoroughly researched and convincingly argued Publishers Weekly Drawing on their own research and that of a wide array of other scholars Entman and Rojecki present a great deal of provocative data showing a general tendency to devalue blacks or force them into stock categories Ben Yagoda New Leader Winner of the Frank Luther Mott Award for best book in Mass Communication and the Robert E Lane Award for best book in political psychology      Word, Image, and the New Negro Anne Elizabeth Carroll, 2005 This book focuses on the collaborative illustrated volumes published during the Harlem Renaissance in which African Americans used written and visual texts to shape ideas about themselves and to redefine African American identity Anne Elizabeth Carroll argues that these volumes show how participants in the movement engaged in the processes of representation and identity formation in sophisticated and largely successful ways Though they have received little scholarly attention these volumes constitute an important aspect of the cultural production of the Harlem Renaissance Word Image and the New Negro marks the beginning of a long overdue recovery of this legacy and points the way to a greater understanding of the potential of texts to influence social change Anne Elizabeth Carroll is Assistant Professor of English at Wichita State University      Empower the People Theodore Walker,2023-01-31 Out of such different voices as the political philosophy of Martin Luther King black power and black nationalism the social science of William Julius Wilson and Nathan and Julia Hare the music and dance of Stevie Wonder and the blues black womanist theology and the preaching of his own home church Walker conducts a choir that is more than a chorus in a hymn that is more than a song The words call for a common struggle for comprehensive social empowerment black family by black family and black church by black church as he sets an agenda for the 1990s The rhythm and the harmony are his own as on occasion is a clear and strong solo voice Philip E Devenish University of Chicago Divinity School      African Americans and the Pacific War, 1941-1945 Chris Dixon,2018-09-20 In the patriotic aftermath of Pearl Harbor African Americans demanded the right to play their part in the war against Japan As they soon learned however the freedom for which the United States and its allies was fighting did not extend to African Americans Focusing on African Americans experiences across the Asia Pacific theater during World War Two this book examines the interplay between national identity the racially segregated US military culture and the possibilities of transnational racial advancement as African Americans contemplated not just their own oppression but that of the colonized peoples of the Pacific region In illuminating neglected aspects of African American history and of World War Two this book deepens our understanding of the connections between the United States role as an international power and the racial ideologies and practices that characterized American life during the mid twentieth century      In a Classroom of Their Own Keisha Lindsay,2018-07-02 Many advocates of all black male schools ABMSs argue that these institutions counter black boys racist emasculation in white overly female classrooms This argument challenges racism and perpetuates antifeminism Keisha Lindsay explains the complex politics of ABMSs by situating these schools within broader efforts at neoliberal education reform and within specific conversations about both endangered black males and a boy crisis in education Lindsay also demonstrates that intersectionality long considered feminist is in fact a politically fluid framework As such it represents a potent tool for advancing many political agendas including those of ABMSs supporters who champion antiracist education for black boys while obscuring black girls own race and gender based oppression in school Finally Lindsay theorizes a particular means by which black men and other groups can form antiracist and feminist coalitions even when they make claims about their experiences that threaten bridge building The way forward Lindsay shows allows disadvantaged groups to navigate the racial and gendered politics that divide them in pursuit of productive and progressive solutions Far thinking and boldly argued In a Classroom of Their Own explores the dilemmas faced by professionals and parents in search of equitable schooling for all students black boys and otherwise      New Perspectives on the Nation of Islam Dawn-Marie Gibson,Herbert Berg,2017-02-17 New Perspectives on the Nation of Islam contributes to the ongoing dialogue about the nature and influence of the Nation of Islam NOI bringing fresh insights to areas that have previously been

African-American Teens Discuss Their Schooling Experiences Gail L. Thompson, 2002-01-30 For decades researchers and policymakers have grappled with the issue of the underachievement of African American students An age old problem has been that these students on average lag behind their peers of other racial ethnic groups in math science and reading Recently California like some other states has implemented a high stakes standardized testing program that has revealed that when test scores are disaggregated along racial ethnic lines the scores of African American students continue to trail those of their peers The study described in this book was undertaken in an effort to uncover schooling practices that are advantageous or detrimental to the achievement of African American students The study was based on interviews and questionnaire results from nearly 300 African American high school seniors Most of these students resided in a region that had a low college attendance rate and a high child poverty rate The students were given an opportunity to discuss numerous issues pertaining to their schooling experiences including teacher attitudes and expectations the curriculum homework practices the quality of services provided by their high school counselors racism at school school safety parental involvement and their early reading habits and attitudes about reading In addition to quantitative results most chapters include detailed narratives describing the elementary and secondary schooling

Associate Professor of English University of California, 2000-10-09 Hundreds of memoirs novels plays and movies have been devoted to the American war in Vietnam In spite of the great variety of mediums political perspectives and the degrees of seriousness with which the war has been treated Katherine Kinney argues that the vast majority of these works share a single story that of Americans killing Americans in Vietnam Friendly Fire in this instance refers not merely to a tragic error of war it also refers to America's war with itself during the Vietnam years Starting from this point this book considers the concept of friendly fire from multiple vantage points and portrays the Vietnam age as a crucible where America's cohesive image of itself is shattered pitting soldiers against superiors doves against hawks feminism against patriarchy racial fear against racial tolerance Through the use of extensive evidence from the film and popular fiction of Vietnam i.e. Kovic's Born on the Fourth of July Didion's Democracy O'Brien's Going After Cacciato Rabe's Sticks and Bones and Streamers Kinney draws a powerful picture of a nation politically culturally and socially divided and a war that has been memorialized as a contested site of art media politics and ideology      The Impact of Race on U.S. Foreign Policy Michael L. Krenn, 2020-08-26

This book shows that race has played an important role in the nation's foreign relations from the time the first English colonists clambered onto the shores of the North American continent It also shows that the colonists had already progressed rather far in defining themselves in racial terms      African Americans in U.S. Foreign Policy Linda Heywood, Allison Blakely, Charles Stith, Joshua C. Yesnowitz, 2015-01-30 Bookended by remarks from African American diplomats Walter C. Brogdon,2013-05-29 African Americans have always wrestled with hopelessness Yet in the face of hopelessness African Americans fought for hope that America can be a land of equality opportunity and justice The fight for hope has been difficult and has taken a toll on African Americans Today the signs of hopelessness abound in black communities across the nation as an increasing number of leaders express concern about a pervasive problem that they could not identify Beyond the continuing injustices and inequities linked to systemic racism they recognize a growing internal apathy in African Americans This internal apathy is nihilism the embrace of nothingness meaninglessness and internalized oppression Nihilism has been slowly emerging since the 1980s and is the reason there is an increasing number of blacks who turn to defeating and destructive behaviors that only worsen their plight In nihilism s wake leaders and communities are left trying to help people who have turned on themselves and abandoned hope that things can get better The first step toward hope requires an understanding of hopelessness Only then can we step into a world that pushes people to the brink and hope to make a difference Hope on the Brink offers an exploration into this hopelessness     Black Women and Popular Culture VaNatta
