The Aims Of Representation Subject Text History:

The Aims of Representation Murray Krieger, 1987-03-02 Writing the Social Text Richard Brown, 2017-07-05 During the past decade it has become commonplace to interpret social and cultural reality the very groundwork of the social sciences as linguistic constructions Not only is society viewed as a text but scientific texts themselves are seen as rhetorical constructions This collection of scholarly essays begins with an overview of this emerging field and covers the specific stylistic practices by which social scientists create objective or true representations of society The volume closes with a consideration of the more telling challenges to the rhetorics of the social sciences and how these might be encompassed or overcome

The Past as Text Gabrielle M. Spiegel, 1999-11-08 This study of familiar medieval histories and chronicles argues that the historian should be aware of the discursive nature literary modes and ideological investments of such texts as well as the social circumstances to which they were applied and by which they were generated Postmodernism has challenged historians to look at historical texts in a new way and to be skeptical of the claim that one can confidently retrieve fact from historical writings In The Past as Text historian Gabrielle M Spiegel sets out to read medieval histories and chronicles in light of the critical theoretical problems raised by postmodernism At the same time she urges a method of analysis that enables the reader to recognize these texts simultaneously as artifice and as works deeply embedded in a historically determinate knowable social world Beginning with a theoretical basis for the study of medieval historiography Spiegel demonstrates her theory in practice offering readings of medieval histories and chronicles as literary social and political constructions The study insightfully concludes that historians should be equally aware of the discursive nature literary modes and ideological investments of such texts and the social circumstances to which they were applied and by which they were generated Arguing for the social logic of the text Spiegel provides historians with a way to retrieve the social significance and conceptual claims produced by these medieval or any historical writings

Mikhail Bakhtin Graham Pechey, 2007-04-11 Mikhail Bakhtin is one of the most influential theorists of philosophy as well as literary studies His work on dialogue and discourse has changed the way in which we read texts both literary and cultural and his practice of philosophy in literary refraction and philological exploration has made him a pioneering figure in the twentieth century convergence of the two disciplines In this book Graham Pechey offers a commentary on Bakhtin's texts in all their complex and allusive textuality keeping a sense throughout of the historical setting in which they were written and of his own interpretation of and response to them Examining Bakhtin's relationship to Russian Formalism and Soviet Marxism Pechey focuses on two major interests the influence of Eastern Orthodox Christianity upon his thinking and Bakhtin's use of literary criticism and hermeneutics as ways of doing philosophy by other means

Shakespeare and the Question of Theory Geoffrey H. Hartman, Patricia Parker, 2004-06-01 The theoretical ferment which has affected literary studies over the last decade has called into question traditional ways of thinking about classifying and interpreting texts Shakespeare has been not just the focus of a variety of divergent critical movements within recent years but also increasingly the locus of emerging debates within and with theory itself This collection of essays written by distinguished and powerful critics in the fields of literary theory and Shakespeare studies is intended both for those interested in Shakespeare and for those interested more generally in the emerging debates within contemporary criticism and theory

Materializing Democracy Russ Castronovo, Dana D. Nelson, 2002-06-21 Investigates the complex histories and conflicting desires that are generally concealed behind the term democracy

The Politics and Poetics of Journalistic Narrative Phyllis Frus, 1994-06-24 The Politics and Poetics of Journalistic Narrative investigates the textuality of all discourse arguing that the ideologically charged distinction between journalism and fiction is socially constructed rather than natural Phyllis Frus separates literariness from aesthetic definitions regarding it as a way of reading a text through its style to discover how it makes reality

Murder by Accident Jody Enders, 2009-08-01 Over fifty years ago it became unfashionable even forbidden for students of literature to talk about an author's intentions for a given work In Murder by Accident Jody Enders boldly resurrects the long disgraced concept of intentionality especially as it relates to the theater Drawing on four fascinating medieval events in which a theatrical performance precipitated deadly consequences Enders contends that the marginalization of intention in critical discourse is a mirror for the marginalization and misunderstanding of theater Murder

by Accident revisits the legal moral ethical and aesthetic limits of the living arts of the past pairing them with examples from the present whether they be reality television snuff films the accidental live broadcast of a suicide on a Los Angeles freeway or an actor who jokingly fired a stage revolver at his temple causing his eventual death This book will force scholars and students to rethink their assumptions about theory intention and performance both past and present

Abolition's Public Sphere Robert Fanuzzi, 2003 Echoes of Thomas Paine and Enlightenment thought resonate throughout the abolitionist movement and in the efforts of its leaders to create an anti slavery reading public In Abolition's Public Sphere Robert Fanuzzi critically examines the writings of William Lloyd Garrison Frederick Douglass Henry David Thoreau and Sarah and Angelina Grimke and their massive abolition publicity campaign pamphlets newspapers petitions and public gatherings geared to an audience of white male citizens free black noncitizens women and the enslaved Including provocative readings of Thoreau's Walden and of the symbolic space of Boston's Faneuil Hall Abolition's Public Sphere demonstrates how abolitionist public discourse sought to reenact eighteenth century scenarios of revolution and democracy in the antebellum era Fanuzzi illustrates how the dissemination of abolitionist tracts served to create an imaginary public that promoted and provoked the discussion of slavery However by embracing Enlightenment abstractions of liberty reason and progress Fanuzzi argues abolitionist strategy introduced aesthetic concerns that challenged political institutions of the public sphere and prevailing notions of citizenship Insightful and thought provoking Abolition's Public Sphere questions standard versions of abolitionist history and in the process our understanding of democracy itself

Stirrings in the Archives Wolfgang Ernst, 2015-08-14 Like most of Wolfgang Ernst's work Das Rumoren der Archiv explored the concept of archival and media theory from a current cultural digital context Ernst challenges the traditional perspective of the cultural heritage institution and how it relied on media for creating storing and disseminating digital information Archives have a place in a digital society and the archivist's role will be more increasingly vital in the future As Ernst points out his work will show a way out of the archive away from the notion that the era of archive is coming to an end Here is the long awaited English translation of this seminal work exploring cultural heritage before the archives throughout history and from today into the future Ernst work emphasized a need to recognize media as a method for capturing and preserving our collective cultural identity It is vital that archivists promoted a greater awareness of how media technology augmented the creation management and dissemination of digital content

The Word in Black and White Dana D. Nelson, 1992-01-02 Dana Nelson provides a study of the ways in which Anglo American authors constructed race in their works from the time of the first British colonists through the period of the Civil War She focuses on some eleven texts ranging from widely known to little considered that deal with the relations among Native African and Anglo Americans and places her readings in the historical social and material contexts of an evolving U S colonialism and internal imperialism Nelson shows how a novel such as The Last of the Mohicans sought to reify the Anglo historical past and simultaneously suggested strategies that would serve Anglo Americans against Native Americans as the frontier pushed farther west Concluding her work with a reading of Harriet Jacobs's Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Nelson shows how that text undercuts the racist structures of the pre Civil War period by positing a revised model of sympathy that authorizes alternative cultural perspectives and requires Anglo Americans to question their own involvement with racism
