The Amateur Boatwomen Eily Gayford, 1996-04-01      The British Industrial Canal Jodie Matthews, 2023-06-15

Thousands of literary popular non fiction and archival texts since the eighteenth century document the human experience of the British industrial canal This book traces networks of literary canal texts across four centuries to understand our relationships with water with place and with the past In our era of climate crisis this reading calls for a rethinking of the waterways of literature not simply as an antique transport system but as a coal fired energy system with implications for the present This book demonstrates how waterways literature has always been profoundly interested in the things we dig out of the ground and the uses to which they are put The industrial canal never just connected parts of Britain via its literature we read the ways in which we are in touch with previous centuries and epochs how canals linked inland Britain to Empire how they connected forms of labour and people to water      A Mistletoe Kiss Katie Flynn, 2010-08-05 It was only a mistletoe kiss Miss Preece told herself stepping out into the icy December evening and locking the library doors behind her A mistletoe kiss means nothing everyone knows that but this did not quench the warm glow inside her Hetty Gilbert is a canal child with no permanent address so when she needs to join the library she cannot do so Miss Preece dislikes children but Hetty s longing for books touches a chord and she stretches the rules to allow the girl to read on the premises Soon Hetty s chief desire is to become a librarian like her friend But with war on the horizon their lives will never be the same In 1939 Hetty joins in the war effort for her knowledge of canal boats is desperately needed whilst Miss Preece can only sit and listen to the dangers her young friend faces knowing she herself can do nothing to help But her chance will come and with it the meaning behind that fragile mistletoe kiss      Canal 250 Anthony Burton, 2011-05-02 When a young English nobleman was thwarted in love he abandoned the court retired to his estate near Manchester and built a canal to serve his coalmines The Bridgewater Canal was the sensation of the age and led others to follow the example of the enterprising Duke of Bridgewater From his starting point in 1760 over the next half century Britain was covered by a network of waterways that became the lifeblood of the Industrial Revolution This is the story of 250 years of history on those canals and of the people who made and used them The book tells of the great engineers such as Telford Brindley and Jessop and of the industrialists such as Wedgwood and Arkwright who promoted the canals they built It also tells the story of the anonymous navvies who dug the canals the men and women who ran the boats and the workers who kept the canals running Covering the entire history of the canal network from the glorious early days through the years of decline caused by rail and then road competition up to the subsequent revival of the canals as leisure routes this wonderfully illustrated book is a must have for all canal enthusiasts      The Home Front in Britain Janis Lomas, 2014-10-29 The Home Front in Britain explores the British Home Front in the last 100 years since the outbreak of WW1 Case studies critically analyse the meaning and images of the British home and family in times war challenging prevalent myths of how working and domestic life was shifted by national conflict      Barging Round

Britain John Sergeant, David Bartley, 2015-02-12 Barging Round Britain by David Bartley is a beautifully illustrated guide to a unique and fascinating part of our history the canal network Explore the people and places that have forged this national treasure from the birth of the Industrial Revolution to the leisure explosion on our waterways today Fully illustrated with maps and photographs the book will trace canal routes across the UK from the Georgian grandeur of Bath to the dramatic splendour of the Scottish Highlands This is the official tie in to the ITV series coming to prime time TV in January 2015 David Bartley s Barging Round Britain includes a foreword and chapter introductions by the presenter of the TV series John Sergeant
