Sheridan, 1995 Thomas E Sheridan has spent a lifetime in Arizona living off it and seeking refuge from it He knows firsthand its canyons forests and deserts he has seen its cities exploding with new growth and like many other people he sometimes fears for its future In this book Sheridan sets forth new ideas about what a history should be Arizona A History explores the ways in which Native Americans Hispanics and Anglos have inhabited and exploited Arizona from the pursuit of the Naco mammoth 11 000 years ago to the financial adventurism of Charles Keating and others today It also examines how perceptions of Arizona have changed creating new constituencies of tourists environmentalists and outside business interests to challenge the dominance of ranchers mining companies and farmers who used to control the state Sheridan emphasizes the crucial role of the federal government in Arizona s development throughout the book As Sheridan writes about the past his eyes are on the inevitable change and compromise of the present and future He balances the gains and losses as global forces interact more and more with local cultural and environmental factors Recollecting History beyond Borders Lhoussain Simour, 2014-11-19 Recollecting History beyond Borders looks closely at the experience of Moroccan captives acrobats and dancing women in America throughout various historical periods It explores the mobility of Moroccans beyond borders and their cultural interactions with the American self and civilization and offers a broad discussion on the negotiation of the complex dynamics of representation and on the various discursive ramifications of the cultural contacts initiated by ordinary Moroccan travellers I Up from Slavery; an Unfinished Journey Archie Morris III D.P.A., 2019-03-21 For a period of eighty five years the M

Street Dunbar High School was an academically elite all black public high school in Washington DC As far back as 1899 its students came in first in citywide tests given in both black and white schools Over this eighty five year span approximately 80 percent of M Street Dunbar s graduates went on to college even though most Americans white or black did not attend college at all Faculty and students were mutually respectful to one another and disruptions in the classroom were not tolerated Yet in this era of best practices this public high school has received virtually no attention in the literature or in policy considerations for inner city education The Dunbar High School today with its new building and athletic facilities is just another ghetto school with abysmal standards and low test score results despite the District of Columbia s record of having some of the country s highest levels of money spent per pupil The purpose of this study is to explore the history of a high school that was successful in teaching black children from low income families and to determine if the learning model employed there could be successful in a modern inner city public education environment

Understories: Plants and Culture in the American Tropics Lesley Wylie, 2023-11-15 Understories Plants and Culture in the American Tropics establishes the central importance of plants to the histories and cultures of the extended tropical region stretching from the U S South to Argentina Through close examination of a number of significant plants cacao mate agave the hevea brasiliensis kudzu the breadfruit soy and the ceiba pentandra among others this volume shows that vegetal life has played a fundamental role in shaping societies and in formulating cultural and environmental imaginaries in and beyond the region Drawing on a wide range of cultural traditions and forms across literature popular music art and film the essays included in this volume transcend regional and linguistic boundaries to bring together multiple plant centred histories or understories narratives that until now have been marginalized or gone unnoticed Attending not only to the significant influence of humans on plants but also of plants on humans this book offers new understandings of how colonization globalization and power were and continue to be imbricated with nature in the American tropics
