Okpewho's African Oral Literature is a marvelous piece of scholarship and wide ranging research. It presents the most comprehensive survey of the field of oral literature in Africa. Emmanuel Obiechina, a tour de force of scholarship in which Okpewho casts his net across the African continent searching for its verbal forms through voluminous recent writings and presents African oral literature in a new voice proclaiming the literariness of African folklore. Dan Ben Amos: This is an outstanding book by a scholar whose work has already influenced how African literature should be conceived. Professor Okpewho is a scholar with a special talent to nurture scholarship in others. After this work African literature will never be the same. Mazisi Kunene. Isidore Okpewho for many years Professor of English at the University of Ibadan is one of the handful of African scholars who has facilitated the growth of African oral literature to its status today as a literary enterprise concerned with the artistic foundations of human culture. This comprehensive critical work firmly establishes oral literature as a landmark of high artistic achievement and situates it within the broader framework of contemporary African culture.

African-American Folktales for Young Readers Richard Young, Judy Dockrey Young, 1993. A collection of folktales from the African American oral tradition presented as they have been told by professional black storytellers from Rhode Island to Oklahoma.

The Short Story in South Africa Rebecca Fasselt, Corinne Sandwith, 2022-03-24. This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000. The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa. In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction, erotic fiction, flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity. This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimagined in the present. Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles, interviews and personal reflective pieces, the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form. Finally, the book considers the place of the short story in twenty-first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post-apartheid or post-transitional. The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa, this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature.
