The Age Of Innocence:

The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 1996-03-01 Edith Wharton's acclaimed novel of love duty and half known truths in Gilded Age New York society with a foreword by bestselling author Elif Batuman Dutiful Newland Archer an eligible young man from New York high society is about to announce his engagement to May Welland a suitable match from a good family when May's cousin the beautiful and exotic Countess Ellen Olenska is introduced into their circle The Countess brings with her an aura of European sophistication and a hint of perceived scandal having left her husband and claimed her independence Her worldliness disregard for society's rules and air of unapproachability attract the sensitive Newland despite his enthusiasm about a marriage to May and the societal advantages it would bring Almost against their will Newland and Ellen develop a passionate bond and a classic love triangle takes shape as the three young people find themselves drawn into a poignant and bitter conflict between love and duty Written in 1920 Edith Wharton's Pulitzer Prize winning novel about a time and place long gone by 1870s New York City beautifully captures the complexities of passion independence and fulfillment and how painfully hard it can be for individuals to truly see one another and their place in the world For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 1920 The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 2006-02-09 Edith Wharton's most famous novel written immediately after the end of the First World War is a brilliantly realized anatomy of New York society in the 1870s The charming Newland Archer is content to live within its constraints until he meets Ellen Olenska whose arrival threatens his impending marriage as well as his comfortable future They lived in a kind of hieroglyphic world where the real thing was never said or done or even thought but only represented by a set of arbitrary signs Edith Wharton's most famous novel written immediately after the end of the First World War is a brilliantly realized anatomy of New York society in the 1870s the world in which she grew up and from which she spent her life escaping Newland Archer Wharton's protagonist charming tactful enlightened is a thorough product of this society he accepts its standards and abides by its rules but he also recognizes its limitations His engagement to the impeccable May Welland assures him of a safe and conventional future until the arrival of May's cousin Ellen Olenska puts all his plans in jeopardy Independent free thinking scandalously separated from her husband Ellen forces Archer to question the values and assumptions of his narrow world As their love for each other grows Archer has to decide where his ultimate loyalty lies The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 2014-02-08 The Age of Innocence centers on an upper class couple's impending marriage and the introduction of a woman plagued by scandal whose presence threatens their happiness Though the novel questions the assumptions and morals of 1870's New York society it never devolves into an outright condemnation of the institution In fact Wharton considered this novel an apology for her earlier novel The House of Mirth which was more brutal and critical Not to be overlooked is Wharton's attention to detail regarding the charms and customs of the upper caste The novel is lauded for its accurate portrayal of how the 19th century East Coast American upper class lived and this combined with the social tragedy earned Wharton a Pulitzer Prize the first Pulitzer awarded to a woman Edith Wharton was 58 years old at publication she had lived in that world and had seen it change dramatically by the end of World War I The title is an ironic comment on the polished outward manners of New York society when compared to its inward machinations It is believed to have been drawn from the popular 1785 painting A Little Girl by Sir Joshua Reynolds that later became known as The Age of Innocence and which was widely reproduced as the commercial face of childhood in the later half of the eighteenth century

The Age of Innocence Annotated Edith Wharton, 2021-02-21 The Age of Innocence is a novel by Edith Wharton published to widespread acclaim in 1920 Set in the late 19th century among the monied upper class in America during the gilded age it recreates the setting and cultural details with exceptional realism while contrasting the elegant and mannered facade of the upper classes with their grasping and cruel schemes The story opens at a performance of Faust at the old Academy of Music A man named Newland Archer is in attendance and revels in his success and prospects The scion of one of the wealthiest and most socially important New York families he is a successful lawyer and is set to marry the young beautiful and sheltered May Welland May is an ideal social match for Newland and he anticipates the perfection of their marriage in terms of the parties and connections opening up before him Newland meets May's cousin Countess Ellen Olenska Thirty years old and beautiful Ellen is independent and shows her scorn for the social niceties of wealthy society Ellen is cultured and intelligent but has caused scandal by leaving her husband Count Olenska Newland finds himself powerfully attracted to Ellen and suddenly sees May as a dull and provincial girl When Ellen announces her intention to divorce her husband an act that would ruin the Welland family name one of Newland's law partners asks that he intervene with Ellen and convince her not to Newland begins calling on the Countess in order to convince her that she should simply remain living separately from her husband Newland and Ellen begin corresponding via letters and come to know each other very well as a result Newland enjoys Ellen's intelligence and her willingness to question society's rules and her role in them where May's willingness to play by those rules and conform to her family's wishes seems increasingly unattractive Ellen agrees not to divorce her husband His admiration and attraction to Ellen grows during this period Alarmed at his feelings for Ellen Newland travels to Florida to visit with May and her family and asks May to move up their wedding date because he can sense his resolve crumbling May refuses horrified at upsetting the careful balance of society rules She accuses Newland of having second thoughts about her appropriateness to be his wife and Newland insists he still loves her Newland confesses his love to Ellen who is shocked She agrees to remain in America only if Newland promises they will merely be platonic friends which he does May relents and sends a telegram agreeing to accelerate the wedding plans hinting that she understands better than Newland what is happening Newland and May marry Their marriage is one of convenience there is no love or passion and Newland finds May dull He also finds his old life of parties and social events dull and thinks constantly of Ellen Ellen has moved to Washington D C and their correspondence has ended but Newland finds himself thinking of her constantly He meets Ellen by chance in Newport Rhode Island and finds her circumstances have changed The family has cut off her allowance because Count Olenska wishes her to return to him and she refuses He tells her he wishes her to become his mistress since divorce would be impossible for both of them Ellen initially refuses and returns to New York to care for her grandmother in order to have her allowance reinstated Newland with renewed access to Ellen becomes determined to seize his chance at happiness and keeps pushing Ellen to become his mistress When Ellen tells Newland she will consummate their relationship Newland is ecstatic but then Ellen informs him suddenly that she is returning to Europe without explanation Newland decides to leave May and accompany Ellen there May announces to Newland that she is pregnant however and furthermore tells him she had confessed as much to Ellen earlier Newland understands that Ellen decided

Ellen Olenska May's exotic and beautiful 30 year old cousin Ellen has returned to New York from Europe after scandalously separating herself per rumor from a bad marriage to a Polish count. At first Ellen's arrival and its potential taint on the reputation of his bride to be's family disturb Newland but he becomes intrigued by the worldly Ellen who flouts New York society's fastidious rules. As Newland's admiration for the countess grows so does his doubt about marrying May, a perfect product of Old New York society. His match with May no longer seems the ideal fate he had imagined. Ellen's decision to divorce Count Olenski causes a social crisis for the other members of her family who are terrified of scandal and disgrace. Living apart can be tolerated but divorce is unacceptable. To save the Welland family's reputation a law partner of Newland asks him to dissuade Countess Olenska from divorcing the count. He succeeds but in the process comes to care for her. Afraid of falling in love with Ellen, Newland begs May to accelerate their wedding date but she refuses. Newland tells Ellen he loves her. Ellen corresponds but is horrified that their love will aggrieve May. She agrees to remain in America separated but still married to Count Olenski only if they do not sexually consummate their love. Newland receives May's telegram agreeing to wed sooner. Newland and May marry. He tries unsuccessfully to forget Ellen. His society marriage is loveless and the social life he once found absorbing has become empty and joyless. Though Ellen lives in Washington and has remained distant, he is unable to cease loving her. Their paths cross while he and May are in Newport, Rhode Island. Newland discovers that Count Olenski wishes Ellen to return to him but she has refused, although her family wants her to reconcile with her husband and return to Europe. Frustrated by her independence, the family has cut off her money as the count had already done.

Edith Wharton born Edith Newbold Jones January 24 1862 August 11 1937 was a Pulitzer Prize winning American novelist short story writer and designer. She was nominated for the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1927 1928 and 1930. Wharton combined her insider's view of America's privileged classes with a brilliant natural wit to write humorous incisive novels and short stories of social and psychological insight. She was well acquainted with many of her era's other literary and public figures including Theodore Roosevelt.
