The Aging Experience:

The Aging Experience Jennie Keith,Christine L. Fry,Anthony P. Glascock,Charlotte Ikels,Jeanette Dickerson-Putman,Henry C. Harpending,Patricia Draper,1994-09-22 In an attempt to understand the meaning of ageing and the treatment of the aged in different cultures seven anthropologists have made studies of 10 communities on four continents the results of which are presented in this book The authors use both qualitative and statistical data to examine such issues as health and well being perceptions of the life course material resources and functionality of elders A unique resource The Aging Experience provides a detailed comparative analysis of ageing worldwide The Aging Experience Russell A. Ward,1979 The Aging Experience Cherry Russell,2024-05-10 Local writing on the subject of old age had tended to a fairly uniform approach focusing on empirical studies of old age as a social problem using census and survey type data Little attention had been paid to theory development Originally published in 1981 this book provides an in depth study of how old age was experienced in contemporary Australian society at the time It was the first major piece of original research on aging to be published in Australia and in several important senses represented a clear departure from the mainstream of Australian gerontology The Aging Experience links original in depth data to a broad theoretical framework Working from the premise that old age is a devalued status it examines the implications of this for the personal experience and interpersonal relations of elderly people Through detailed case studies of elderly Australians their interaction with family age peers and welfare services are described The analysis concentrates less on the overt characteristics of these relationships and their material functions than on their symbolic content and meaning for the participants Thus the study moves beyond conventional statistical documentation of the problems of old age to a sharper delineation of aging as a lived experience It is an approach which offers new perspectives and challenges many of the assumptions underlying previous research Worlds of Difference Eleanor Palo Stoller,Rose Campbell Gibson,1999-07-28 This collection of readings presents a variety of perspectives on ageing from different communities across the United States Native American Puerto Rican African American the elderly homeless white working class gay and Mexican amongst many others The readings cover topics such as life course social and psychological contexts of ageing paid and unpaid activity the American family and health The Aging Experience Bert Cave,2012-07-01 The Aging Experience is the phase of our life that tends to get the least attention in terms of planning and forethought We research and plan where we will go to college where we will live our career opportunities our retirement Even our estates are planned through wills trusts and advance health care directives What we do not usually plan very well or even understand fully is the aging experience we will encounter Faces of Aging Yoshiko Matsumoto,2011-03-17 The chapters in this volume put a human face on aging issues and consider multiple dimensions of the aging experience with a focus on Japan The Collective Spirit of Aging Across Cultures Halaevalu F.Ofahengaue Vakalahi,Gaynell M. Simpson,Nancy Giunta,2014-01-28 The collective inclusive and intersectional framework used in this book speaks to the significance of understanding aging across diverse cultures from multiple perspectives but still as a shared human experience The underlying message of the book is that although we are unique and different in our aging processes we are ultimately connected through this physical mental and spiritual experience of aging Thus regardless of whether we are service providers service recipients educators or merely fellow human beings it is important that we approach the aging experience through a collective lens for discovering and sharing resources as we age honoring the past while simultaneously accepting that the future is here A few select examples of key findings from this collaborative work are as follows First despite progress in the field certain issues remain to be addressed including the challenges of racism and sexism mistreatment the digital divide poverty and other social and economic crises in urban and rural communities as they relate to our aging population Second the need for sustaining a sense of independence among the aged and interdependence among supportive systems is warranted Third our elders continue to benefit from culturally competent services community based health interventions and social services that addresses normative and emerging challenges for them Fourth spirituality in both indigenous and contemporary perspectives remains important for our elders development and quality of life

Aging and the Religious Dimension Susan A. Eisenhandler, 1994-02-17 Aging and religion has been badly neglected in the field of Gerontology This book containing 13 chapters of original theory and research is devoted to understanding the place that religion and spirituality hold in the lives of elderly persons The authors each experts in their own field approach this issue from their backgrounds in the social sciences and the humanities Overall this is a ground breaking collection It is one of the first attempts to seek to understand the role that religion plays in the lives of elderly persons Based on their various multi disciplinary perspectives the authors make use of a variety of qualitative and quantitative methodologies as well as personal narrative and literature to grapple with this issue Finally the book is unique in that it addresses scholars and students including the educated layman rather than the professional alone

Health Psychology Edward P. Sarafino, Timothy W. Smith, David B. King, Anita De Longis, 2020-07-27 The second Canadian edition of Health Psychology Biopsychosocial Interactions integrates multidisciplinary research and theory to help students understand the complex connections between psychology and health This comprehensive yet accessible textbook covers the biopsychosocial factors that impact human health and wellness placing particular emphasis on the distinctive characteristics of the Canadian health care system the issues and challenges unique to Canadian culture and the most recent Canadian research in the field of health psychology Clear student friendly chapters examine topics such as coping with stress and illness lifestyles for enhancing health and preventing illness managing pain and discomfort getting medical treatment and living with chronic illness This fully revised second edition features the latest available data and research from across Canada and around the world New and expanded chapters explore psychosocial factors in aging and dying legalized marijuana use in Canada the link between inflammation and depression Canadian psychosocial models of pain recent Medical Assistance in Dying MAiD legislation weight control

eating disorders and exercise and much more Throughout the text updated illustrative examples cross cultural references and real world cases reinforce key points and strengthen student comprehension retention and interest Aging Harry R. Moody,2006-01-13 Welcome to the world s most unique and dynamic textbook on aging Widely praised and adopted in previous editions the Fifth Edition of Aging once again presents key issues in an engaging and accessible fashion Organized unlike any other traditional textbook author Harry R Moody presents basic concepts followed by controversies supported by carefully chosen adapted readings The result is the most captivating introduction to gerontology available today Aging and Diversity Chandra M. Mehrotra,Lisa S. Wagner,Chandra Mehrotra,2013-03-07 This new edition has been completely rewritten and includes chapters that address key topics in diversity and aging research methods psychological aging health beliefs behaviors and services health disparities informal and formal care for older persons work and retirement religious affiliation and spirituality and death dying and bereavement Taking a broad view of diversity Mehrotra and Wagner discuss elements of diversity such as gender race or ethnicity religious affiliation social class rural urban community location and sexual orientation Including these elements allows them to convey some of the rich complexities of our diverse culture complexities that provide both challenges to meet the needs of diverse population and opportunities to learn how to live in a pluralistic society Throughout the book Mehrotra and Wagner present up to date knowledge and scholarship in a way that engages readers in active learning Rather than simply transmitting information the authors place ongoing emphasis on developing readers knowledge and skills fostering higher order thinking and encouraging exploration of personal values and attitudes Distinctive features of the book include Opening vignettes for each chapter that present a sampling of how the issues to be discussed apply to diverse elders Active learning experiences that invite readers to interview diverse elders conduct internet searches and give an analysis of a case study Quizzes at the end of the chapters help readers ascertain the extent to which they have learned the material the key for each quiz includes details about correct and incorrect responses so that additional learning can occur Aging and Diversity Online boxes interspersed throughout the book provide internet resources that readers may use to find new research and publications Suggested readings and audiovisual resources given at the end of each chapter serve as a guide to additional information on topics covered in the chapter This approach of presenting the material will help the readers understand and apply key concepts and principles in ways that will not only improve the lives of older people they serve but will also enhance their own aging experience Faces of Aging Yoshiko Matsumoto,2011-03-17 The indisputable fact of Japan s rapidly aging population has been known for some time But beyond statistics and implications for the future we do not know much about the actual aging process Senior citizens and their varied experiences have for the most part been obscured by stereotypes This fascinating new collection of research on the elderly works to put a human face on aging by considering multiple dimensions of the aging experience in Japan Faces of Aging foregrounds a spectrum of elder centered issues social activity caregiving generational bias suicide sexuality and communication with medical professionals to name a few from the perspective of those who are living them The volume s diverse contributors represent the fields of sociology anthropology medicine nursing gerontology psychology film studies gender studies communication and linguistics offering a diverse selection of qualitative studies of aging to researchers across the social sciences Worlds of Difference Eleanor Palo Stoller,Rose Campbell Gibson,2000 This collection of readings presents a variety of perspectives on ageing from different communities across the United States Native American Puerto Rican African American the elderly homeless white working class gay and Mexican amongst many others The readings cover topics such as life course social and psychological contexts of ageing paid and unpaid activity the American family and health

Psychological Perspectives of Helplessness and Control in the Elderly P.S. Fry, 1988-12-01 The past few years have witnessed widespread acceptance of the notion that few elderly individuals are willing to stand by silently in the process of growing and to relinquish whatever actual controls autonomy or control beliefs they had in the past Increasingly old age is viewed as the dynamics of growth in mastery control and self efficacy on the one hand and a relative decline in psychological and physical resources on the other It is the intent of this volume to communicate both aspects of these changes and to offer a comprehensive review of the cross fertilization of the field of gerontology and the psychology of reactance freedom and control Leading psychologists and social science researchers from the United States Canada and Europe give their views on the meaning and application of control related constructs having specific implications for the field of human aging They address themselves to one or more of the major themes issues or concerns which currently figure in discussions of control beliefs and control constructs as they apply to aging and old age Written primarily for scholars researchers and developmental theorists interested in the complexities and generativity of control constructs and their applications for the psychological well being of older adults the data and issues presented will be equally informative to gero psychologists and mental health professionals concerned with healthy adaptive functioning of the elderly

Subjective Views of Aging Yuval Palgi, Amit Shrira, Manfred Diehl, 2022-08-26 This book focuses on the concept of subjective views of aging This concept refers to the way individuals conceptualize and perceive the aging process Social and cultural perceptions regarding older adults are incorporated and internalized into views people hold regarding their own aging process The book contains three parts which present theoretical empirical and translational perspectives about subjective views of aging The theoretical section expands the framework of subjective views of aging with the inclusion of additional concepts and further integrates these concepts by accounting for their synergistic effects The empirical section presents recent developments in the field starting at the intra individual level as assessed by ecological momentary assessments going through the level of interpersonal relationships and concluding at the social and cultural levels Finally the translational section presents recent endeavours to develop interventions aimed at advancing favourable views of aging This cutting edge edited book includes chapters written by internationally renowned scholars in the field and serves as an up to date resource for scholars in the field as well as a textbook for students in courses like social gerontology lifespan psychology and life course sociology
