The Alabaster Egg Gillian Freeman, 1970      The Drifter Jason P. Crawford, 2015-03-31 The drifter is a man out of time Plagued by visions of historic events he never could have witnessed he struggles to understand the strange abilities that seem so natural Then Death comes for him With no choice but to run he must find allies who can protect him until he learns why he is being pursued The keystone of a terrible plan A society of demigods buried in the rolls of history Deadly schemes older than man Welcome to the world of The Essentials      A History of Pre-Cinema V3 Stephen Herbert, 2021-12-16 First published in 2004 This set of 3 volumes collects together for the first time rare and scattered material on the history of pre cinema It includes articles on stereoscopic photography the use of kaleidoscopes optical illusions theatre design magic lanterns and mirrors shadow theatre and much more The articles are taken from sources such as The Magazine of Science The Art Journal The British Journal of Photography Scientific American American Journal of Science and Arts and The Mirror Volume 3 includes the area of Movement in Two Dimensions a study of the animated and projected pictures which preceded the invention of cinematography      The Concept of Creativity in Science and Art Denis Dutton, Michael Krausz, 2014-11-14 This third volume of American University Publications in Philosophy continues the tradition of presenting books in the series shaping current frontiers and new directions in philosophical reflection In a period emerging from the neglect of creativity by positivism Professors Dutton and Krausz and their eminent colleagues included in the collection challenge modern philosophy to explore the concept of creativity in both scientific inquiry and artistic production In view of the fact that Professor Krausz served at one time as Visiting Professor of Philosophy at The American University we are especially pleased to include this volume in the series HAROLD A DURFEE for the editors of American University Publications in Philosophy EDITORS PREFACE While the literature on the psychology of creativity is substantial surprisingly little attention has been paid to the subject by philosophers in recent years This fact is no doubt owed in part to the legacy of positivism whose tenets have included a sharp distinction between what Hans Reichenbach called the context of discovery and the context of justification Philosophy in this view must address itself to the logic of justifying hypotheses little of philosophical importance can be said about the more creative business of discovering them That positivism has held is no more than a merely psychological question since there is no logic of discovery or creation there can be no philosophical reconstruction of it      The Royal Women of Amarna Dorothea Arnold, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1996 The move to a new capital Akhenaten Amarna brought essential changes in the depictions of royal women It was in their female imagery above all that the artists of Amarna departed from the traditional iconic representations to emphasize the individual the natural in a way unprecedented in Egyptian art      My Mother's Child Stella C. Hatgiannis, 2003 Hatgiannis draws a verbal picture of life in a bygone era corner candy stores horse drawn ice cream wagons little red tricycles and territorial fights with the neighborhood kids She describes her visit to Greece as a six year old and her reluctance to admit having a good time She was quite determined to make momma sorry she ever took her away from daddy Hatgiannis describes moments of conflict growing up when told that nice Greek girls don't go to dances get valentines go out with boys and how she tries to prove that yes they do She re-creates scenes from her early childhood and the metamorphosis that takes place when she becomes the sole wage earner and caretaker of her mother Her acquaintance with Telly Savalas is a fun read as she shares the excitement generated by this memorable moment in the life of a little Greek girl grown up Hatgiannis has re-created the past in authentic stories that evoke both tears and laughter Her creative side depicts her twin brother's thoughts in the womb and her mother's ascent to Heaven Hatgiannis writes from the heart as she shares stories from the life of a little Greek girl

The Game-Preserver's Manual, and Keeper's Assistant. Containing full directions for getting up and maintaining a good head of game ... and a few words on the "Night Poaching Prevention Act" of 1862. Fourth edition, considerably enlarged Edward Levett DARWIN, 1866     Which Face of Witch Adriana Madej-Stang, 2015-06-18 For centuries the figure of the witch represented the hostile and feared other on the edge of human society placed in between the world of people and the world of demons Whether she stood for the untamed powers of nature dark powers of knowledge or magic or evil powers derived from the devil she was always identified with fear as a disturbance as a danger to the order of society and to the well being of those who understood themselves as settled within the borders of the patriarchal order and its psychological and sexual corselet In this role the witch appeared in numerous literary works including among others writings by Chaucer Shakespeare and Middleton However since the 1840s the image of the witch has undergone enormous transformations mainly due to the influence of various matriarchate theories and of feminist ideas The witch reclaimed by women for women became an identification figure and representative of their expectations fears hopes and claims This study investigates examples of witches in publications by contemporary British women writers to see how this figure is perceived related to and utilised in their respective texts Iris Murdoch Jeanette Winterson Angela Carter and Fay Weldon among others refer consistently to this witch figure whom they interpret in various creative and surprising ways adopting innovative approaches to this comparably ancient figure     After 1851 Kate Nichols, Sarah Victoria Turner, 2017-02-02 Echoing Joseph Paxton's question at the close of the Great Exhibition What is to become of the Crystal Palace this interdisciplinary essay collection argues that there is considerable potential in studying this unique architectural and art historical document after 1851 when it was rebuilt in the South London suburb of Sydenham It brings together research on objects materials and subjects as diverse as those represented under the glass roof of the Sydenham Palace itself from the Venus de Milo to Sheffield steel souvenir peep eggs to war memorials portrait busts to imperial pageants tropical plants to cartoons made by artists on the spot copies of paintings from ancient caves in India to 1950s film Essays do not simply catalogue and collect this eclectic congregation but provide new ways for assessing the significance of the Sydenham Crystal Palace for both nineteenth and twentieth century studies The volume will be of particular interest to researchers and students of British cultural history museum studies and
