Black Moods Frank Marshall Davis, 2024-03-18 Black

Moods collects for the first time all of Frank Marshall Davis's extant published poems as well as his previously unpublished work. From sharp edged sketches of Southside Chicago's urban landscape to the prismatic world that lay beneath Hawaii's placid surface, Davis's muscular poems blend social, cultural, and political concerns always shaped by his promise to try to be as direct as good blues. John Edgar Tidwell's introduction examines both Davis's poetry and his politics, presenting a subtle portrait of a complex writer devoted to exposing discriminatory practices and reaffirming the humanity of the common people.

Translating Jazz Into Poetry Erik Redling, 2017-02-20 The study develops a new theoretical approach to the relationship between two media, jazz music and writing, and demonstrates its explanatory power with the help of a rich sampling of jazz poems. Currently, the mimetic approach to intermediality, e.g., the notion that jazz poetry imitates jazz music, still dominates the field of criticism. This book challenges that interpretive approach. It demonstrates that a mimetic view of jazz poetry hinders readers from perceiving the metaphoric ways poets rendered music in writing. Drawing on and extending recent cognitive metaphor theories (Lakoff, Johnson, Turner, Fauconnier), it promotes a conceptual metaphor model that allows readers to discover the innovative ways poets translate melody, dynamics, tempo, mood, and other musical elements into literal and figurative expressions that invite readers to imagine the music in their mind's eye, i.e., their mind's ear.

Echo and Reverb Peter Doyle, 2024-08-06 Winner of the Association for Recorded Sound Collections (ARSC) Award for Excellence in Historical Recorded Sound Research, 2006. Echo and Reverb is the first history of acoustically imagined space in popular music recording. The book documents how acoustic effects (reverberation, room ambience, and echo) have been used in recordings since the 1920s to create virtual sonic architectures and landscapes. Author Peter Doyle traces the development of these acoustically created worlds from the ancient Greek myth of Echo and Narcissus to the dramatic acoustic architectures of the medieval cathedral, the grand concert halls of the 19th century, and those created by the humble parlor phonograph of the early 20th century, and finally the revolutionary age of rock n' roll. Citing recordings ranging from Gene Austin's My Blue Heaven to Elvis Presley's Mystery Train, Doyle illustrates how non-musical sound constructs, with all their rich and contradictory baggage, became a central feature of recorded music. The book traces various imagined worlds created with synthetic echo and reverb: the heroic landscapes of the cowboy west, the twilight shores of South Sea islands, the uncanny alleys of dark cityscapes, the weird mindspaces of horror movies, the private and collective spaces of teen experience, and the funky juke joints of the mind.

At the Jazz Band Ball Nat Hentoff, 2010-06-01 Nat Hentoff, renowned jazz critic, civil liberties activist, and fearless contrarian. In a Jewish, atheist, civil libertarian, pro-lifer, he has lived through much of jazz's history and has known many of jazz's most important figures often as friend and confidant Hentoff has been a tireless advocate for the neglected parts of jazz history including forgotten sidemen and women This volume includes his best recent work short essays long interviews and personal recollections From Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong to Ornette Coleman and Quincy Jones Hentoff brings the jazz greats to life and traces their art to gospel blues and many other forms of American music At the Jazz Band Ball also includes Hentoff's keen cosmopolitan observations on a wide range of issues The book shows how jazz and education are a vital partnership how free expression is the essence of liberty and how social justice issues like health care and strong civil rights and liberties keep all the arts and all members of society strong 'Thoughts and Words'
