Strippers, Showgirls, and Sharks Peter Filichia, 2013-05-28 Wait Gypsy didn't win the Tony for Best Musical That's a question that gets asked over and over again every time a new Rose takes to the runway in the Broadway classic Gypsy In Strippers Showgirls and Sharks the popular syndicated theatre critic Peter Filichia chronicles the history of the American musical by looking at those shows that did not win the Tony Award for Best Musical It happens every spring The American Theatre Wing bestows its annual awards Only those shows that have reached Broadway are nominated and while all Tony Awards are created equal in height width and depth the universally acknowledged biggest prize is the Best Musical Tony The envelope is opened The winner is announced and then the screeching begins Oh no They gave it to that Did the best musical always win the Best Musical prize Were there other factors that kept a more deserving show from copping the prize Peter Filichia answers all these questions and more in Strippers Showgirls and Sharks as he looks at many of the 153 previous Best Musical Nominees that didn't win the big prize What were the biggest omissions Gypsy had the distinct displeasure of not being either the first or second choice of the committee In 1959 when Ethel Merman and a variety of strippers took the stage the Tony for Best Musical was a tie between The Sound of Music and Fiorello In 1971 Stephen Sondheim's Follies and its ghostly showgirls lost to a groovy re-tuning of Two Gentlemen of Verona that hasn't passed the test of time And in 1957 West Side Story its Jets and Sharks were bested by the fine people of River City Iowa singing their Americana hearts out in The Music Man If you love Broadway scratch your head on Tony Award night and still can't figure out how a show you loathed won the Tony for Best Musical you will love riding through the years with Peter Filichia one of America's most respected and popular theatre critics
