Kaufman,2012-12-06 The ongoing globalization of financial markets has increased the importance to users of financial services policy makers and financial analysts of understanding the structure and operation of banking systems in other countries as well as that in their own country This volume contributes to such an understanding The structure and operation of the banking system are described for 10 important countries plus the European Economic Community under one cover The contributing authors are knowledgeable and widely respected experts The author or at least one of the coauthors of each chapter is a resident of the country described Each chapter follows a broadly similar outline although the attention devoted to any particular area varies substantially according to authors perceptions of its relative importance in the particular country The chapters spotlight the similarities and differences among the structures The volume should serve as both a handy and authoritative reference guide for practitioners regulators and students of international banking An early benefit of the book was an international conference held in Chicago in the fall of 1989 on the world integration of financial markets A number of the authors of the chapters presented brief versions of their papers The conference was sponsored jointly by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and the MidAmerica Institute The audience was primarily senior officers and regulators of financial institutions in the midwest The conference generated considerable interest in both the subject matter and the contents of this book

Banking in Switzerland Niklaus Blattner,Hans Genberg,Alexander Swoboda,2012-12-06 Oliver Landmann Nobody needs to be convinced of the importance of banking for the Swiss economy The financial sector grew well above average in the past decade and now accounts for almost 10 % of GDP Compared to the economy wide average it creates more than double as much value added per employee and it is a major contributor to Swiss export revenues But this is no cause for complacency The industry is subject to rapid change as the competitive climate has become rougher nationally and internationally Major structural weaknesses have come to the surface which raise serious questions about the extent of the required structural adjustments Thus banking was an ideal candidate for a major case study in the framework of the National Research Programme No 28 which is devoted to Switzerland's external economic challenges The programme was commissioned by the Swiss government and is carried out by the Swiss National Science Foundation The research project on the financial sector was directed by Professors Niklaus Blattner Hans Genberg and Alexander Swoboda who assembled a team of research economists from the Graduate Institute of International Studies the International Centre for Monetary and Banking Studies both at Geneva and the Labour and Industrial Economics Research Unit at the University of Basel This joint research effort has yielded an impressive crop of descriptive data analytical insights and policy oriented conclusions

Switzerland, Selected Issues and Statistical Appendix, 2000 The Common Agricultural Policy of the European Community International Monetary Fund, 1988-11-25 This chapter discusses principles and consequences of the common agricultural policy CAP of the European Community EC It shows that agricultural pricing policies aimed at supporting farm incomes were already in place in EC member countries before the inception of the CAP indeed in the presence of these policies the CAP was a logical consequence of the extension of the common market to the agricultural sector Thus the flaws of the CAP can be traced back to national policies and attitudes toward agriculture Recognition of the burden of agricultural support on the rest of the economy as well as the growing budgetary costs has elicited a greater public interest in the CAP Equally the trade frictions caused by export subsidies have underlined the CAP's international implications For these reasons the member states appear more determined than hitherto to bring agricultural expenditure under control Given the wider effects of the CAP both on EC economies and the international community it is to be hoped that current efforts at reform will be successful

Privatization George K. Yarrow, Piotr Jasiński, 1996

Policy Coordination in the European Monetary System International Monetary Fund, 1988-09-15 This chapter discusses various aspects of policy coordination in the European Monetary System EMS The purpose of the first paper in this chapter is to provide a survey of the process of European monetary integration with focus on the EMS its purposes evolution and the experience gathered since its establishment in early 1979 In its present stage of evolution the EMS has developed a body of general institutional procedures to promote consistency among the policies and objectives of participating countries The search for consistency inevitably gives rise to consequent constraints such as those implicit in the specific rules on exchange rate and international reserve management that characterize the exchange rate mechanism ERM By drawing on an analysis of the role of monetary policy in balance of payments adjustment under different monetary systems and exchange rate arrangements the second paper focuses on the crucial issues involved when an attempt is made to set rules for monetary policy coordination in a system of fixed but adjustable exchange rates such as the EMS

Policies for Developing Foreign Exchange Markets;

Occ. Paper No. 60 International Monetary Fund, 1988-06-16 This paper describes and analyzes forward market systems with varying degrees of sophistication and it assesses them from the viewpoint of a smaller industrial or developing country asking itself how it could institute such a system or how it could further develop an existing system in a way consistent with its institutional and macroeconomic structure All industrial countries except Iceland now have forward exchange markets in which the rate is determined by the market Forward markets that have been liberalized in several countries in the 1980s have matured quickly There are several variants of market determined systems which could be envisaged An auction market could be devised for forward transactions but is unlikely to be practical because the supply of forward exchange probably may not be determined in advance sufficiently accurately As the last stage of its development the market could be extended from underlying commercial transactions to forward transactions of a purely financial character a process that is taking place in most of the few industrial countries that have retained regulated forward systems Development of a forward market is not a panacea for incorrect financial policies In fact cultivation of the market will require the adoption and maintenance of realistic financial policies

European Monetary System International Monetary Fund, 1990-11-15 This paper discusses various developments and perspectives of the European Monetary System EMS There have been three phases in the development of the EMS from its beginning in March 1979 to March 1983 can be seen as a phase of trial and orientation from March 1983 to 1987 can be described as one of consolidation and The Basle Nyborg agreement marked the end of the consolidation phase characterized by the striving for stability the emergence of the deutsche mark as the anchor currency and the predominance of intramarginal intervention in partner currencies EMS has allowed simultaneous progress toward external and internal stability The EMS Agreement provided for fluctuation margins offering some flexibility and for the possibility of central rate changes which could compensate for diverging monetary policies As divergences were narrowed central rate adjustments could be small so as not to affect market rates thus minimizing the potential for destabilizing capital flows

The Impact of the European Community's internal Market on the EFTA International Monetary Fund, 1990-12-04 This paper provides an overview of the likely impact of the creation of the European Community EC internal market on the European Free Trade Association EFTA members The focus is on the four freedoms and the institutional and legal changes required for increased economic cooperation between the EC and EFTA Although not formally part of the negotiations certain tax issues are also raised The paper is in ten parts and includes a summary and glossary The paper also discusses the institutional and legal changes that may prove necessary for greater EC EFTA cooperation and the implications of the internal market for trade production and resource allocation in the EFTA countries It examines issues related to trade in goods mainly industrial goods and transport services and considers issues of labor mobility and trade in financial services Changes would also appear desirable in the areas of industrial and intellectual property rights notably counterfeiting trademarks copyrights and patents

Developments in international Trade Policy International Monetary Fund,1988-12-15 This paper discusses reviews major issues and developments in the trade area and outlines the problems in the multilateral trading system that governments face as they seek to liberalize trade in the Uruguay Round of trade negotiations The paper s emphasis is on policy developments in the major trading nations as they relate to trade in both industrial and agricultural products The survey also includes a review of trade policies in developing countries and refers to available quantitative evidence on protectionism wherever possible The increased use of nontariff measures reflects in part the fact that most industrial countries have bound a considerable proportion of their tariffs particularly on industrial products at relatively low levels Restrictions are particularly widespread in industries suffering from excess capacity such as steel and where comparative advantage has generally shifted to developing countries The lack of major liberalization in agriculture in the US Canada Free Trade Agreement has led some industrial countries to suggest that the US interest in multilateral negotiations is now primarily in agriculture and in some selected new areas such as telecommunications banking and patent protection Books in Print of the United Nations System United Nations.
