Symbolic Landscapes:

Symbolic Landscapes Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2008-11-09 Symbolic Landscapes presents a definitive collection of landscape place studies that explores symbolic cultural levels of geographical meanings. Essays written by philosophers, geographers, architects, social scientists, art historians, and literati bring specific modes of expertise and perspectives to this transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary study of the symbolic level human existential spatiality. Placing emphasis on the pre-cognitive genesis of symbolic meaning as well as embodied experiential lived geography, the volume offers a fresh quasi-phenomenological approach. The editors articulate the epistemological doctrine that perception and imagination form a continuum in which both are always implicated as complements. This approach makes a case for the interrelation of the geography of perception and the geography of imagination, which means that human cultural geography offers only an abstraction if indeed an aesthetic geography is constituted merely as a sub-field. Human cultural geography can only approach spatial reality through recognizing the intimate interrelative dialectic between the imaginative and perceptual meanings of our landscapes place worlds. This volume reinvigorates the importance of the topic of symbolism in human cultural geography, landscape studies, philosophy of place, architecture and planning, and will stand among the classics in the field.

Social Formation and Symbolic Landscape Denis E. Cosgrove, 1998 Hailed as a landmark in its field since its first publication in 1984, Denis E. Cosgrove's Social Formation and Symbolic Landscape has been influential well beyond geography. It has continued to spark lively debate among historians, geographers, art historians, social theorists, landscape architects, and others interested in the social and cultural politics of landscape.

The Assessment of German Cultural Landscapes Jessica Matloch, 2018-03-09 Jessica Matloch examines the importance of regional cultural landscape for their residents using the approach of willingness to pay She identifies that almost each resident of every region prefers water landscapes Furthermore landscape perception is often influenced by education and by the resident's relationship with nature The impact of the relationship to the region differs between regions and resident groups Regarding the involvement in or for the landscape the results suggest that specific groups of residents are more willing to volunteer in and for regional landscapes than others The analyses illustrate that the region is used the most to relax and the least for cultural purposes

Landscapes of Power Sharon Zukin, 1993-03-12 The momentous changes which are transforming American life call for a new exploration of the economic and cultural landscape In this book Sharon Zukin links our ever expanding need to consume with two fundamental shifts places of production have given way to spaces for services and paperwork and the competitive edge has moved from industrial to cultural capital From the steel mills of the

Rust Belt to the sterile malls of suburbia to the gentrified urban centers of our largest cities the creative destruction of our economy a process by which a way of life is both lost and gained results in a dramatically different landscape of economic power Sharon Zukin probes the depth and diversity of this restructuring in a series of portraits of changed or changing American places Beginning at River Rouge Henry Ford s industrial complex in Dearborn Michigan and ending at Disney World Zukin demonstrates how powerful interests shape the spaces we inhabit Among the landscapes she examines are steeltowns in West Virginia and Michigan affluent corporate suburbs in Westchester County gentrified areas of lower Manhattan and theme parks in Florida and California In each of these case studies new strategies of investment and employment are filtered through existing institutions experience in both production and consumption and represented in material products aesthetic forms and new perceptions of space and time The current transformation differs from those of the past in that individuals and institutions now have far greater power to alter the course of change making the creative destruction of landscape the most important cultural product of our time Zukin s eclectic inquiry into the parameters of social action and the emergence of new cultural forms defines the interdisciplinary frontier where sociology geography economics and urban and cultural studies meet
