A Wounded Innocence Alejandro R. Garcia-Rivera, 2015-03-15 What is the theological significance of art Why has the Church always encouraged the arts What is so profoundly human about the arts In A Wounded Innocence Alejandro R Garcia Rivera answers these questions in a series of sketches that are mixed spiritual and theological reflections on various works of art written in a poetic style These reflections explore the relationship between the multi dimensional spiritual and the arts The first sketch The Beginning of Art introduces the rest that go on to explore further the human artistic and theological implications of a wounded innocence Each sketch reflects on a particular human work of art Some are conventional works of art Others may never find their way into a museum but then that is one of the implications coming out of this book A museum does not define what a work of art is its human depth does In these deeply studied yet spiritually written reflections on each work of art it is hoped that the reader will find his and her own creative depth described perhaps even revealed A Wounded Innocence is both inspiring and informative Readers will learn about art spirituality and theology and will find themselves inspired to look at works of art and even to produce a work of art It sets a new way of doing theology that is at the same time spiritual More importantly Garcia Rivera describes a theology of art Chapters are The Beginning of Art The End of Art Human Freedom and Artistic Creativity Heaven with Us The Human Aspect of Atonement The Tyger and the Lamb and A Wounded Innocence Includes black and white art Alejandro R Garcia Rivera PhD is associate professor of systematic theology at the Jesuit School of Theology at Berkeley The author of numerous articles he also wrote a Catholic Press Association award winning book on theology and aesthetics titled The Community of the Beautiful The Liturgical Press

Early Christian Attitudes Toward Images Steven Bigham, Stéphane Bigham, 2004 For all iconophiles that is those who accept the dogma of the Seventh Ecumenical Council but especially the Orthodox who claim that the icon has a sacramental and mystical character it is naturally disquieting to hear the claim that the early Christians were aniconic and iconophobic If this claim is true the theology and the veneration of the icon are seriously undermined It is therefore natural for iconophiles to attempt to disprove the thesis according to which the early Christians had no images whatsoever aniconic because they believed them to be idols iconophobic It is equally natural for iconophiles to want to substantiate as much as this is possible their deep intuition that the roots of Christian iconography go back to the apostolic age This study weakens the notion and credibility of the alleged hostility of the early Christians to non idolatrous images providing a more balanced evaluation of this question

Monumental Christianity, or The art and symbolism of the primitive church as witnesses and teachers of one Catholic faith and practice John Patterson Lundy, 1875

The Meaning of Icons Léonide Ouspensky, Vladimir Lossky, 1982 The nature of the icon cannot be grasped by means of pure art criticism nor by the adoption of a sentimental point of view Its forms are based on the wisdom contained in the theological and liturgical writings of the Eastern Orthodox Church and are intimately bound up with the experience of the contemplative life The present work is the first of its kind to give a reliable introduction to the spiritual background of this art The introduction into the meaning and language of the icons by Ouspensky imparts to us in an admirable way the spiritual conceptions of the Eastern Orthodox Church which are often so foreign to us but without the knowledge of which we cannot possibly understand the world of the icon Back cover
