The Church of All Ages Howard A. Vanderwell, 2007-12-17 Many congregations today experience collisions between parents who want to spend time with their children and age segregated church programming as well as between the children worshiping in their pews and the increasing number of seniors in the same pew Among the questions these congregations struggle to address are these Should we try to hold the generations together when we worship Is it even possible Led by pastor and resource developer Howard Vanderwell nine writers pastors teachers worship planners and others serving in specialized ministries offer their reflections on issues congregational leaders need to address as they design their worship ministry In addition numerous sidebars illustrate the diversity of practices in the church today Contributors do not propose easy answers or instant solutions Rather they guide readers as they craft ministries and practices that fit their own community heritage and history Each chapter includes questions for reflection and group discussion and an appendix provides guidelines for small group use The thread that connects these varied contributions is the belief that there is no greater privilege for Christians than worshiping God and there is no better way to do that than as an intergenerational community in which all are important and all encourage and nurture the faith of the others

Hotchkiss, 2009-04-15 In Governance and Ministry Dan Hotchkiss offers congregational leaders a roadmap and tools for changing the way boards and clergy work together to lead congregations Hotchkiss demonstrates that the right governance model is the one that best enables a congregation to fulfill its mission to achieve both the outward results and the inward quality of life to which it is called Resources on governance for the nonprofit sector have burgeoned over the past decade and this book translates some of what is most helpful from that world for clergy and lay leaders it also recognizes that in some ways congregations are unique and need governance structures and processes different from those that work in other organizations Leaders must continually balance the conserving function of an institution with the expectation of disruptive change inducting creativity that comes when individuals peek past the temple veil and catch fresh visions of the Holy Governance in congregations is not the science of achieving optimal results through organizational re engineering Governance is an expressive art like preaching The forms of our congregations must reflect the values and perceptions of the sacred at their heart Congregations need skills and methods for negotiating our way of governance and for passing the torch effectively to new leaders Shaping Spiritual Leaders Abigail Johnson, 2007-08-17

Supervision the shaping of spiritual leaders occurs formally and informally in many aspects of congregational life Every year thousands of pastors supervise field education students and interns staff members and lay leaders often supervise committee members or other staff clergy and lay leaders supervise each other as a way to offer support and establish accountability While supervision enhances the work of all concerned it is rarely explicitly addressed in congregations For over fifteen years Abigail Johnson has supervised and trained others to supervise candidates for ordination within the United Church of Canada Recognizing that supervision is as important in the formation of lay leaders as in the life of candidates for ordination she has developed this book to guide all who supervise others in a congregation Johnson views supervision as a ministry and shows how leaders can use their own innate gifts to enhance their supervision skills By shaping the supervision relationship based on the gifts of the people involved as well as the context in which the relationship occurs supervision can become an opportunity for mutual growth and learning that strengthens all other areas of ministry This book provides a hands on approach to supervision addressing key areas such as identifying a learning focus covenanting managing conflict understanding and using power and authority offering and receiving feedback and evaluation and celebrating and ending the supervisory relationship Supervisors who pay attention to these and other key areas will help those they supervise develop their gifts for ministry in all forms The Lutheran Observer ,1903 The Reformed Presbyterian and Covenant ,1887 Guidelines for Leading Your Congregation 2013-2016 - Advocates for Inclusiveness Gen Com on the Status and Role of Women, General Commission on Religion and Race, 2012-11-01 Your task as an advocate for inclusiveness and as coordinator of your ministry group is to help every ministry committee and aspect of your church to be intentional about the full and equal participation of women and racial and ethnic persons in the life of the church As you advocate for an inclusive church you are helping the church to reflect the fullness of the ministry of Christ This Guideline is designed to help equip you in leading this ministry group in your congregation This is one of the twenty six Guidelines that cover church leadership areas including Church Council and Small Membership Church the administrative areas of Finance and Trustees and ministry areas focused on nurture outreach and witness including Worship Evangelism Stewardship Christian Education age level ministries Communications and more To see a full list of Guidelines search by typing keywords Guidelines for Leading Your Congregation 2013 2016 and click search
