'Coloured Revolutions' David Lane,Stephen White,2013-09-13 The communist world was supposed to have had its revolution in 1989 But the demise of the Soviet Union came two years later at the end of 1991 and then perplexingly a series of irregular executive changes began to take place the following decade in countries that were already postcommunist The focus in this collection is the changes that took place in Serbia Georgia Ukraine and Kyrgyzstan between 2000 and 2005 that have together been called the coloured revolutions of no particular colour in Serbia but Rose in Georgia Orange in Ukraine and Tulip in Kyrgyzstan Apart from exploring political change in the coloured revolution countries themselves the contributors to this collection focus on countries that did not experience this kind of irregular executive change but which might otherwise be comparable Belarus and Kazakhstan among them and on reactions to democracy promotion in Russia and China Throughout an effort is made to avoid taking the coloured revolutions at face value however they may have been presented by local leaders and foreign governments with their own agendas and to place them within the wider literature of comparative politics This book was previously published as a special issue of Journal of Communist Studies and Transition Politics
