Traces of Trauma in W. G. Sebald and Christoph Ransmayr Dora Osborne, 2017-12-02 Both W G Sebald 1944 2001 and the Austrian author Christoph Ransmayr 1954 were born too late to know directly the violence of the Second World War and the Holocaust but these traumatic events are a persistent presence in their work In a series of close readings of key prose texts Dora Osborne examines the different ways in which the traces of a traumatic past mark their narratives By focusing on the authors use of visual and topographical tropes she shows how blind spots and inhospitable places configure signs of past violence but ultimately resist our understanding Whilst links between the two authors are well documented this book offers the first full length study of Sebald and Ransmayr and their complicated relation to the traumatic traces of National Socialism Dora Osborne is Lecturer in German at the University of Nottingham

The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater Fran Mason, 2009-07-23 Postmodernist literature embraces a wide range of forms and perspectives including texts that are primarily self reflexive texts that use pastiche burlesque parody intertextuality and hybrid forms to create textual realities that either run in opposition to or in parallel with an external reality fabrications that develop both of these strategies texts that ironize their relationship to reality works that use the aspects already noted to more fully engage with political or cultural realities texts that deal with history as a fiction and texts that elude categorization even within the variety already explored For example in fiction a postmodernist novel might tell a story about a writer struggling with writing only perhaps to find that he is a character in a book by another writer struggling to write a book The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater examines the different areas of postmodernist literature and the variety of forms that have been produced This is accomplished through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries on individual postmodernist writers the important postmodernist aesthetic practices significant texts produced throughout the history of postmodernist writing and important movements and ideas that have created a variety of literary approaches within the form By placing these concerns within the historical philosophical and cultural contexts of postmodernism this reference explores the frameworks within which postmodernist literature of the late twentieth and early twenty first century operates
