Resources in Education ,1997 Blue Veins and Kinky Hair Obiagele Lake,2003-06-30 The author explores how Africans in America internalized the negative images created of them by the European world and how internalized racism has worked to fracture African American unity and thereby dilute inchoate efforts toward liberation In the late 1960s change began with the Black Is Beautiful slogan and new a consciousness which went hand in hand with Black Power and pan African movements The author argues that for any people to succeed they must first embrace their own identity including physical characteristics Naming skin color and hair have been topical issues in the African American community since the 18th century These three areas are key to a sense of identity and self and they were forcefully changed when Africans were taken out of Africa as slaves The author discusses how group and personal names including racial epithets have had far reaching and deep seated effects on African American self perception Most of her attention however is focused on issues of physical appearance which reflect a greater or lesser degree of racial blending She tells us about exclusive African American organizations such as The Blue Vein Society in which membership was extended to African Americans whose skin color and hair texture tended toward those of European Americans although wealthy dark skinned people were also eligible Much of the book details the lengths to which African American women have gone to lighten their complexions and straighten their hair These endeavors started many years ago and still continue although today there is also a large number of women who are adamantly going natural Her historical look at the cultural background to African American issues of hair and skin is the first monograph of its kind To Make Our World Anew Robin D. G. Kelley,Earl Lewis,2000 Written by the most prominent of the new generation of historians this superb volume offers the most up to date and authoritative account available of African American history ranging from the first Africans brought as slaves into the Americas to today s black filmmakers and politicians Here is a panoramic view of African American life rich in gripping first person accounts and short character sketches that invite readers to relive history as African Americans experienced it We begin in Africa with the growth of the slave trade and follow the forced migration of what is estimated to be between ten and twenty million people witnessing the terrible human cost of slavery in the colonies of England and Spain We read of the Haitian Revolution which ended victoriously in 1804 with the birth of the first independent black nation in the New World and of slave rebellions and resistance in the United States in the years leading up to the Civil War There are vivid accounts of the Civil War and Reconstruction years the backlash of notorious Jim Crow laws and mob lynchings and the founding of key black educational institutions The contributors also trace the migration of blacks to the major cities the birth of the Harlem Renaissance the hardships of the Great Depression and the service of African Americans in World War II the struggle for Civil Rights in the 1950s and 60s and the emergence of today s black middle class From Harriet Tubman and Frederick Douglass to Martin Luther King Jr and Louis Farrakhan To Make Our World Anew is an unforgettable portrait of a people

Sweet Release James Davison, Ph.D, 2010-06-03 African Americans have come a long way in the difficult upward struggle from slavery to the relatively broad freedoms enjoyed today Together as a potent and well knit group they have battled endlessly in their march toward freedom Finally according to psychologist James Davison Jr the last step to freedom for black Americans has arrived But that last step must be taken as individuals not as a collective In this assessment of the problems and potentials facing African Americans Dr Davison argues that in order for achieving individuals to advance to the final step of freedom they must break free from the mental shackles created by the black community The central theme of Sweet Release is that the forces that impinge most upon psychological freedom for black Americans come from within Guilt for being successful shame in reaction to the misbehaviors of race peers demands to give back to the community and accusations of trying to be white are just a few of the mechanisms that thwart psychological freedom for black persons Dr Davison argues that individual lifestyles aspirations even identities are constrained by the specter of racial unity As a result for black advancers what remains to be overcome is not the system or them but internalized community attitudes that put a choke hold on individual freedom Unafraid of controversy or candid assessment Dr Davison addresses these and other thorny issues with psychological insight while offering strategies to move beyond group constrictions toward personal freedom James Davison Jr PhD Sacramento CA is a psychologist in private practice and also works in the criminal justice system for the California State Prison system In addition he is the author of Prisoners of Our Past      New Blood Chris Bobel,2010 Chris Bobel is a careful ethnographer respectful of research participants and while she clearly takes a stand on menstrual activism she handily defends her proposition that feminism is finding its balance between reliving its past and creating its future Bobel s work which includes incisive analysis of how third wave activists incorporate and update tactics and strategies of the second wave will be a welcome addition to the scholarship of feminism Elizabeth Kissling author of Capitalizing on the Curse The Business of Menstruation      Reifying Women's Experiences with Invisible Illness Kesha Morant Williams,Frances Selena Morant,2017-12-20 Reifying Women s Experiences with Invisible Illness Illusions Delusions Reality provides a platform that recognizes that the experience of invisible illness is greatly influenced by context and personal circumstance The contributors to this book include women who exude diversity as it relates to race and ethnicity career religious experience education social support and interpersonal relationships From recent college graduates to senior level professionals these women share stories that create a space to advocate on behalf of the individual who is chronically ill rather than focusing on the often privileged perspective of medical professionals
