How Testing Came to Dominate American Schools Gerard Giordano, 2005 Although originally designed as instruments to gauge students progress tests eventually were used to modify curricula learning materials pedagogy and many practical features of schooling Tests were employed to shape attitudes toward national issues such as employment immigration and defense Worried about the enormous consequences that were at stake advocates and opponents pitched their cases to educators parents journalists and policymakers and also targeted special audiences Testing proponents pleaded with military leaders businesspeople and scholastic publishers while their adversaries appealed to job seekers college applicants racial minorities and anti establishmentarians This book illustrates how all of these parties showed interest many became passionate and some decisively influenced the course of American educational testing Student Perspectives on Assessment Dennis M. McInerney, Gregory Arief D. Liem, Gavin T. L. Brown, 2009-12-01 Assessment for learning is meant to engage motivate and enable students to do better in their learning However how students themselves perceive assessments both high stakes qualifications and low stakes monitoring is not well understood This volume collects research studies from Europe North and South America Asia and New Zealand that have deliberately focused on how students in primary secondary and tertiary education conceive of experience understand and evaluate assessments Assessment for learning has assumed that formative assessments and classroom practices would be an unqualified success in terms of student learning outcomes Making use of a variety of qualitatively interpreted focus groups observations and interviews and factor analytic survey methods the studies collected in this volume raise doubts as to the validity of this formulation We commend this volume to readers hoping to stimulate their own thinking and research in the area of student assessment We believe the chapters will challenge researchers policy makers teacher educators and instructors as to how assessment for learning can be implemented
