Monson, Jay Ennis Anderson

Sonoran Desert Spring:

Sonoran Desert Spring John Alcock, 1985 When the Rains Come John Alcock, 2009-04-17 Life in the desert is a waiting game waiting for rain And in a year of drought the stakes are especially high John Alcock knows the Sonoran Desert better than just about anyone else and in this book he tracks the changes he observes in plant and animal life over the course of a drought year Combining scientific knowledge with years of exploring the desert he describes the variety of ways in which the wait for rain takes place and what happens when it finally comes The desert is a land of five seasons featuring two summers hot dry months followed by monsoon and Alcock looks at the changes that take place in an entire desert community over the course of all five He describes what he finds on hikes in the Userly Mountains near Phoenix where he has studied desert life over three decades and where frequent visits have enabled him to notice effects of seasonal variation that might escape a casual glance Blending a personal perspective with field observation Alcock shows how desert ecology depends entirely on rainfall He touches on a wide range of topics concerning the desert s natural history noting the response of saguaro flowers to heat and the habits of predators whether soaring red tailed hawk or tiny horned lizard He also describes unusual aspects of insects that few desert hikers will have noticed such as the disruptive color pattern of certain grasshoppers that is more effective than most camouflage When the Rains Come is brimming with new insights into the desert from the mating behaviors of insects to urban sprawl and features photographs that document changes in the landscape as drought years come and go It brings us the desert in the harshest of times and shows that it is still teeming with life

Encyclopedia of the World's Biomes , 2020-06-26 Encyclopedia of the World s Biomes is a unique five volume reference that provides a global synthesis of biomes including the latest science All of the book s chapters follow a common thematic order that spans biodiversity importance principal anthropogenic stressors and trends changing climatic conditions and conservation strategies for maintaining biomes in an increasingly human dominated world This work is a one stop shop that gives users access to up to date informative articles that go deeper in content than any currently available publication Offers students and researchers a one stop shop for information currently only available in scattered or non technical sources Authored and edited by top scientists in the field Concisely written to guide the reader though the topic Includes meaningful illustrations and suggests further reading for those needing more specific information Desert Sense Bruce Grubbs,2005-01-10 Techniques for traversing desert terrain by vehicle by mountain bike or on foot Strategies for comfort safety and survival in extreme conditions Selecting gear and equipment for this special environmentLike any desert aficionado Bruce Grubbs is obsessed with water how much to bring how to carry it how to conserve it and how to find it in the backcountry But desert exploration involves much more Grubbs provides the knowledge and skills you need to move through this landscape with confidence In addition to techniques for hiking and mountain biking special to desert conditions Grubbs tells how to prepare your vehicle for remote desert roads and how to avoid getting stuck in sand or busting a tire He discusses navigating in the desert dry camping skills and techniques for minimum impact on this starkly beautiful but fragile environment There are tips for dealing with desert heat and cold and other challenges sharp spiny plants and venomous snakes are easy to avoid with a little preparation and know how But just in case Grubbs troubleshoots the worst case scenarios Throughout he gives an understanding of desert climate and seasons and the unique plants and creatures at home in it Murray Springs C. Vance Haynes,Bruce B. Huckell,2022-04-05 The Murray Springs Site in the upper San Pedro River Valley of southeast Arizona is one of the most significant Clovis sites ever found It contained a multiple bison kill a mammoth kill and possibly a horse kill in a deeply stratified sedimentary context Scattered across the buried occupation surface with the bones of late Pleistocene animals were several thousand stone tools and waste flakes from their manufacture and repair Because of the unique occurrence of an algal black mat that buried the Clovis age surface immediately after abandonment the distributional integrity of the artifacts and debitage clusters is exceptional for Paleoindian sites Excavation of the Clovis hunters camp 50 to 150 meters south of the kills revealed artifactual evidence typical of hunting camp activity including hide working and weapons repair Impact flakes conjoining with Clovis points clearly tied the camp to the bison kill The unique nature of the site and this comprehensive study of the excavated material constitute one of the most important contributions to our knowledge of Paleoindian hunters in the New World Annual Report United States. Physiological Ecology of North American Desert Plants Stanley D. Smith,Russell K. Monson,Jay Ennis Anderson,1997 This book begins with the physical and biological characterization of the four North American deserts and a description of the primary adaptations of plants to environmental stress In the following chapters the authors present case studies of key species representing dominant growth forms of the North American deserts and provide an up to date and comprehensive review of the major patterns of adaptations in desert plants One chapter is devoted to several important exotic plants that have invaded North American deserts The book ends with a synthesis of the adaptations and resource requirements of North American desert plants Further it addresses how desert plants may respond to global climate change

Arizona Highways ,1986 Columnar Cacti and Their Mutualists Theodore H. Fleming,Alfonso Valiente-Banuet,2002-08 A collection of writings on the ecology evolution and conservation of columnar cacti and their vertebrate mutualists demonstrating that the survival of these cacti depends on animals who pollinate them and disperse their seeds Bringing Home the Wild Juliet C. Stromberg,2023-10-17 This book follows a two decade journey in urban conservation gardening on a four acre irrigated parcel in Phoenix Arizona from the perspective of a retired botanist and her partner Through a playful use of language and humor the book not only introduces the plants who are feeding them buffering the climate and elevating their moods but also presents the animals and fungi who are pollinating the plants and recycling the waste This work shows all of us the importance of observing appreciating and learning from one s surrounding ecosystem

Getting Over the Color Green Scott Slovic, 2001 Desert vistas are often deemed vacant inhospitable wastelands Don t suggest that to Joy Harjo Pat Mora or other contemporary southwestern writers In these arid stretches often devoid of green today s southwestern writers see pyrotechnic colors and Gothic shapes that excite and often overwhelm the imagination And they capture this excitement in words that fix these desert images in the minds of readers who may too often look at the world through green colored glasses This anthology of contemporary nature writing from the Greater Southwest brings together a host of writers including peers of Edward Abbey such as Charles Bowden and Ann Zwinger and representatives of a new generation of writers such as Rick Bass and Terry Tempest Williams The book is an eclectic blend of nonfiction and fiction field notes and poetry through which artists of diverse backgrounds both celebrate and illuminate the unique vitality and complexity of southwestern literature proving that green is only one of many colors on their palette The selections included here range all across the southwestern landscape and explore adventures in the wild topics in natural history living close to the land and efforts at conservation and restoration They clearly demonstrate that there is grace and beauty in this often maligned part of the world both in the human traditions that have developed in the region and in the natural features of the desert itself
