Sorrows And Rejoicings:

Sorrows and Rejoicings Athol Fugard, 2002 Two women meet in a small Karoo village after the funeral of David the man they both loved One is white and was his wife The other is black and the mother of his child David who was driven into exile because of his political activism against apartheid reappears in the searing memories of the women During a hot afternoon of truth and reconciliation treaties of love are painfully hammered out The young confront the old and what is hope for these individuals is hope for the new South Africa New Perspectives in Diasporic Experience Connie Rapoo, Maria Luisa

Coelho, Zahira Sarwar, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Taking a transcultural and interdisciplinary approach to Diaspora studies New Perspectives in Diasporic Experience offers a wide range of new and challenging perspectives on Diaspora and confirms the relevance of this field to the discussion of contemporary forms of identity construction movement settlement membership and collective identification This volume investigates constructions of diasporic identity from a variety of temporal and spatial contexts They explore encounters between diasporic communities and host societies and examine how diasporic experiences can contribute to perpetuating or challenging normalised perceptions of the Other The authors discuss how visual and literary representations become an integral part of diasporic experiences and identities Other themes examined include communities attempts to reverse the negative effects of Diaspora and maintain cultural continuity as well as generational differences and dialogue within the Diaspora and the power that individuals have to negotiate marginal identities in diasporic settings

Responding to Global Challenges Camilla Arundie Tabe, Joseph Sam Ngong, 2023-10-05 This book critically explores global challenges from linguistic and literary standpoints aimed at contributing towards their mitigation Composed of two parts contributors to the first section examine issues such as language use in the Anglophone crisis in Cameroon the Covid 19 pandemic migration ethnic conflict hate speech and language shift The second part comprises essays that foreground global problems in literary texts Contributors survey global problems like terrorism gender inequality racism and neo colonialism which engender horror and fuel violence Drawn from various literary texts from Cameroon Africa Europe and America contributors propose language and literature responses to global issues These include using appropriate language and concrete techniques to assist citizens and world leaders convey precise messages for better understanding and nation building New communication strategies could also be adopted to keep life going and improve solidarity worldwide Finally contributors submit that dialogue could be a panacea through stakeholder collaboration and that negotiation is a productive solution to peace and harmony Theater World

The Land of Pluck Mary Mapes Dodge, 1894 A collection of stories about young children from Holland and America

The land of pluck [Holland] stories and sketches Mary Elizabeth Dodge, Mary Mapes Dodge, 1894 Athol Fugard Alan Shelley, 2009-04-30 A playwright whose work is appreciated on a global scale Athol Fugard's plays have done more to document and provide a cultural commentary on Apartheid era South Africa than any other writer in the last century Using mostly migrant workers and township dwellers and staging guerrilla raid productions in black areas Fugard frequently came into conflict with the government forcing him to take his work overseas Consequently powerful plays such as The Blood Knot Sizwe Banzi is Dead and Master Harold and the boys came to broadcast the inequities of the Apartheid era to the world Fugard's work retains an insistent influence and is studied and performed the world over Alan Shelley's study is an accessible but profound analysis of the man his work and its influence the social injustices that drive him and the lives of those who people his remarkable plays

Experiments in Freedom Anton Krueger, 2009-10-02 Experiments in Freedom examines ways in which identities have been represented in recent South African play texts published in English It begins by exploring descriptions of identity from various philosophical psychological and anthropological perspectives and elaborates ways in which drama is uniquely suited to represent as well as to effect transformations of identity In exploring the fraught terrain of identity studies the book examines a selection of play texts in terms of five different discourses of identity gender nationalism ethnicity syncretism and race Instead of building a sustained thesis throughout his text Krueger writes in short bursts about a multiplicity of topics extending his explorations rhizomatically into the crevices of a new South African society loath to relinquish its stranglehold on the politics of identity

The Undergraduate's Companion to African Writers and Their Web Sites Miriam E. Conteh-Morgan, 2005-10-30 Now a firmly established part of world literature course offerings in many general education curricula African literature is no longer housed exclusively with African Studies programs and is often studied in English French Portuguese Women s Studies and Comparative Studies departments This book helps fill the great need for research materials on this topic presenting the best resources available for 300 African writers These writers have been carefully selected to include both well known writers and those less commonly studied yet highly influential They are drawn from both the Sub Sahara and the Maghreb the major geographical regions of Africa The study of Africa was introduced into the curriculum of institutions of higher learning in the United States in the 1960s when the Black Consciousness movement in the United States and the Cold War and decolonization movements in Africa created a need for the systematic study of other regions of the world Between 1986 and 1991 three Africans won Nobel literature prizes Soyinka Mahfouz and Gordimer and the visibility of African writers increased They are now a firmly established part of world literature courses in many general education curricula throughout North America African Writers is meant to serve as a resource for introductory material on 300 writers from 39 countries These writers were selected on the basis on two criteria that there is material on them in an easily available reference work and that there is some information of research value on free Web sites Each writer is from the late 19th or 20th century with the notable exception of Olaudah Equiano an 18th century African whose slave narrative is generally considered the first work of African literature All entries are annotated
