Terre Violente:

The Literatures of the French Pacific Raylene Ramsay, 2014-03-31 A path breaking analysis of hybridity in the literatures of the Francophone Pacific

Francophone Post-colonial Cultures Kamal Salhi, 2003-01-01 A collection of discussions of literary texts from areas as diverse as Europe and North Africa the Caribbean and South Asia regions of the world that seem to have only their language in common But despite enormous differences among all the countries where French is spoken Francophone literatures tend to deal with a smiliar spread of issues This volume positions the study of the Francophone world and its cultures as a comparative project in which post colonial Francophone cultures and the specific alterity of these cultures emerge as inextricable from and essential to an understanding of modern France The volume is organized by region with an international roster of contributions and includes summaries of selected creative and critical works and a guide to selected terms and figures

Violence in French and Francophone Literature and Film , 2015-06-29 Stories of violence such as the account in Genesis of Cain s jealousy and murder of Abel have been with us since the time of the earliest recorded texts Undeniably the scourge of violence fascinates confounds and saddens What are its uses in literature its appeal forms and consequences Anchored by Alice Kaplan s substantial contribution the thirteen articles in this volume cover diverse epochs lands and motives One scholar ponders whether accounts of Huguenot martyrdom in the sixteenth century might suggest more pride than piety Another assesses the real versus the true with respect to a rape scene in The Heptameron Female violence in fairy tales by Madame d Aulnoy points to gender politics and the fragility of female solidarity while another article examines similar issues in the context of Ananda Devi s works in present day Mauritius Other studies address the question of sadism in Flaubert the unstable point of view of Emmanuel Carr re s L Adversaire the ambivalence toward violence in Chamoiseau s Texaco the notions of terror and tabula rasa in the writings of Blanchot the undoing of traditions of narrative continuity and authority in the 1998 film vendre and consequences of the power differential in a repressive Haiti as depicted in the film Vers le Sud 2005 Paradoxes emerge in several studies of works where victims may become perpetrators or vice versa

The Kanak Awakening David A. Chappell, 2013-10-31 In 1853 France annexed the Melanesian islands of New Caledonia to establish a convict colony and strategic port of call Unlike other European settler dominated countries in the Pacific the territory s indigenous people remained more numerous than immigrants for over a century Despite military conquest land dispossession and epidemics its thirty language groups survived on tribal reserves and nurtured customary traditions and identities In addition colonial segregation into the racial category of canaques helped them to find new unity When neighboring anglophone colonies began to decolonize in the 1960s France retained tight control of New Caledonia for its nickel reserves reversing earlier policies that had granted greater autonomy for the islands Anticolonial protest movements culminated in the 1980s Kanak revolt after which two negotiated peace accords resulted in autonomy in a progressive form and officially recognized Kanak identity for the first time But the near parity of settlers and

Kanak continues to make nation building a challenging task despite a 1998 agreement among Kanak and settlers to seek a common destiny This study examines the rise in New Caledonia of rival identity formations that became increasingly polarized in the 1970s and examines in particular the emergence of activist discourses in favor of Kanak cultural nationalism and land reform multiracial progressive sovereignty or a combination of both aspirations Most studies of modern New Caledonia focus on the violent 1980s uprising which left deep scars on local memories and identities Yet the genesis of that rebellion began with a handful of university students who painted graffiti on public buildings in 1969 and such activists discussed many of the same issues that face the country s leadership today After examining the historical cultural and intellectual background of that movement this work draws on new research in public and private archives and interviews with participants to trace the rise of a nationalist movement that ultimately restored self government and legalized indigenous aspirations for sovereignty in a local citizenship with its own symbols Kanak now govern two out of three provinces and have an important voice in the Congress of New Caledonia but they are a slight demographic minority Their quest for nationhood must achieve consensus with the immigrant communities much as the founders of the independence movement in the 1970s recommended

Corporeal Archipelagos Julia Frengs,2017-12-27 Corporeal Archipelagos Writing the Body in Francophone Oceanian Women s Literature offers an examination of contemporary literature from the French speaking Oceanian region through a focus on four of its most prolific women writers and the ways in which these writers negotiate identity construction through one of the most powerful identity markers in the region the body The question of the body how one is to make meaning through corporeality how one represents the body and what role the body plays in identity construction is not only a question with which feminists and postcolonial theorists have been grappling for nearly a half century The body is of integral significance to autochthonous Oceanian societies whose views of corporeality are not built upon a dualistic mind body binary that has influenced Western thought since the era of Descartes but rather on a cosmological epistemological axis that comprehends the body as intertwined with symbolic social and ideological understandings of identity Beginning with an analysis of the ways in which the Oceanian body has been portrayed and consumed as an exotic object of fascination throughout three centuries of European literature the book examines the myriad methods by which women writers break away from exotic myths and reappropriate the body as a powerful tool that enables them to confront the question of self definition in French speaking Oceania The authors examined in this book employ culturally racially and sexually specific bodies in the creation of an original confrontational literature that transgresses historically and culturally imposed boundaries audaciously inserting their voices the voices of Oceania into the postcolonial francophone literary scene

Continuity and Change Milly Buonanno,2000 Continuity and Change examines the growth of fictional television in five major European countries Focusing on drama and comedy it analyzes the degree to which an increase in the production of fictional television and the extension of fictional television s presence into prime time has led to histories in the difficult movement toward a national identity Historical romances describe the harshness of life for freed convicts the impossibility of love between a liberated prisoner and a free settler Sagas of late nineteenth century indentured laborers seeking a living on the nickel rich main island speak similarly of physical struggle sacrifice and ultimately of contribution to the country's development and the right to a place in the new land Kanak texts disseminate that community's oral culture and largely silenced voice through the printed word In a world still moving from colonial to postcolonial frames the engagement of these works with vital contemporary questions of historical legacy legitimacy and cultural hybridity is intensely political Aesthetics is a political ethics as the different communities of New Caledonia experiment with artistic and textual forms to write their distinctive place in the land Nights of Storytelling is a collaborative work complemented by La nuit des contes a subtitled DVD of images and text which features key works read or spoken generally in the original French It provides visual and aural access for the book's Anglophone readers to the specific cultural linguistic and geographic contexts of these historical and literary works
