Text And Trauma:

Text and Trauma Ian Richard Netton, 2012-12-06 An essay in literary criticism with a difference addressing the nature of blasphemy and using selected novels by Salman Rushdie Najib Mahfuz and Nikos Kazantzakis as case studies A Trauma Theory Reading of the Book of Job Michelle Keener, 2025-06-12 Michelle Keener incorporates advances in modern trauma theory in the interpretation of the book of Job Keener focuses primarily on using the framework of a psychological trauma narrative to read the text providing new insights into how Job functions as a text that deals with trauma After an extensive introduction to the history and fundamentals of trauma theory Keener actively applies a trauma theory reading to the book of Job with special attention paid to the elements of a therapeutic trauma narrative its role in the cognitive resolution of trauma and how this is reflected in the biblical text This approach provides alternative answers to some of the suggested redactions reconstruction and inconsistencies identified in the text of Job by previous scholars Keener also draws in the Wesleyan Quadrilateral as a means of reading the texts and examines how her conclusions may be useful in applied community contexts Mediation, Remediation, and the Dynamics of Cultural Memory Astrid Erll, Ann Rigney, 2009-07-14 This collection of essays brings together two major new developments in cultural memory studies firstly the shift away from static models of cultural memory where the emphasis lies on cultural products in the direction of more dynamic models where the emphasis lies instead on the cultural and social processes involved in the ongoing production of shared views of the past and secondly the growing interest in the role of the media and their role beyond that of mere storage within these dynamics The specific concern of this collection is linking the use of media to the larger socio cultural processes involved in collective memory making The focus rests in particular on two aspects of media use the basic dynamics of mediation and remediation The key questions are What role do media play in the production and circulation of cultural memories How do mediation remediation and intermediality shape objects and acts of cultural remembrance How can new emergent media redefine or transform what is collectively remembered The essays of this collection focus on social historical religious and artistic media memories The authors analyze the memory making impact of news media the mediation and remediation of lieux de m moire the medial representation of colonial and postcolonial of Holocaust and Second World War memories and finally the problematization of these very processes in artistic media forms such as novels and movies Trauma Culture E. Ann Kaplan, 2005-07-11 It may be said that every trauma is two traumas or ten thousand depending on the number of people involved How one experiences and reacts to an event is unique and depends largely on one's direct or indirect positioning personal psychic history and individual memories But equally important to the experience of trauma are the broader political and cultural contexts within which a catastrophe takes place and how it is managed by institutional forces including the media In Trauma Culture E Ann Kaplan explores the relationship between the impact of trauma on individuals and on entire cultures and nations Arguing that humans possess a compelling need to draw meaning from personal experience and to communicate what happens to others she examines the artistic literary and cinematic forms that are often used to bridge the individual and collective experience A number of case studies including Sigmund Freud's Moses and Monotheism Marguerite Duras La Douleur Sarah Kofman's Rue Ordener Rue Labat Alfred Hitchcock's Spellbound and Tracey Moffatt's Night Cries reveal how empathy can be fostered without the sensationalistic element that typifies the media From World War II to 9/11 this passionate study eloquently navigates the contentious debates surrounding trauma theory and persuasively advocates the responsible sharing and translating of catastrophe

Trauma and Literature J. Roger Kurtz, 2018-03-15 As a concept trauma has attracted a great deal of interest in literary studies A key term in psychoanalytic approaches to literary study trauma theory represents a critical approach that enables new modes of reading and of listening It is a leading concept of our time applicable to individuals cultures and nations This book traces how trauma theory has come to constitute a discrete but influential approach within literary criticism in recent decades It offers an overview of the genesis and growth of literary trauma theory recording the evolution of the concept of trauma in relation to literary studies In twenty one essays covering the origins development and applications of trauma in literary studies Trauma and Literature addresses the relevance and impact this concept has in the field

The Gothic in Contemporary British Trauma Fiction Ashlee Joyce, 2019-09-05 This book examines the intersection of trauma and the Gothic in six contemporary British novels Martin Amis's London Fields Margaret Drabble's The Gates of Ivory Ian McEwan's Atonement Pat Barker's Regeneration and Double Vision and Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go In these works the Gothic functions both as an expression of societal violence at the turn of the twenty first century and as a response to the related crisis of representation brought about by the contemporary individual's highly mediated and spectatorial relationship to this violence By locating these six novels within the Gothic tradition this work argues that each text to borrow a term from Jacques Derrida participates in the Gothic in ways that both uphold the paradigm of unspeakability that has come to dominate much trauma fiction as well as push its boundaries to complicate how we think of the ethical relationship between witnessing and writing trauma

Iris Murdoch and Remorse Frances White, 2023-11-24 This exploration of the crucially important role played by remorse in Iris Murdoch's philosophical theological and political thinking identifies it as a critical concept in her moral psychology and a recurrent theme in her art Through engagement with Simone Weil current theories of remorse trauma theory and Holocaust studies it offers fresh perspectives on Murdoch's fiction particularly the late novels her radio play The One Alone and her monograph Heidegger

Comics, Trauma, and the New Art of War Harriet E. H. Earle, 2017-06-19 Conflict and trauma remain among the most prevalent themes in film and literature Comics has never avoided such narratives and comics artists are writing them in ways that are both different from and complementary to literature and film In Comics Trauma and the New Art of War Harriet E H Earle brings together two distinct areas of research trauma studies and comics studies to provide a new interpretation of a long standing theme Focusing on representations of conflict in American comics after the Vietnam War Earle claims that the comics form is uniquely able to show traumatic experience by representing events as viscerally as possible Using texts from across the form and placing mainstream superhero comics alongside alternative and art comics Earle suggests that comics are the ideal artistic representation of trauma Because comics bridge the gap between the visual and the written they represent such complicated narratives as loss and trauma in unique ways particularly through the manipulation of time and experience Comics can fold time and confront traumatic events be they personal or shared through a myriad of both literary and visual devices As a result comics can represent trauma in ways that are unavailable to other narrative and artistic forms With themes such as dreams and mourning Earle concentrates on trauma in American comics after the Vietnam War Examples include Alissa

Torres's American Widow Doug Murray's The Nam and Art Spiegelman's much lauded Maus These works pair with ideas from a wide range of thinkers including Sigmund Freud Mikhail Bakhtin and Fredric Jameson as well as contemporary trauma theory and clinical psychology Through these examples and others Comics Trauma and the New Art of War proves that comics open up new avenues to explore personal and public trauma in extraordinary necessary ways

Trauma in Adult and Higher Education Laura Lee Douglass, Aubry Threlkeld, Lisa R. Merriweather, 2022-01-01 Trauma in Adult and Higher Education Conversations and Critical Reflections invites readers to think deeply about the experiences of trauma they witness in and outside of the classroom because trauma alters adult learners experience by disrupting identity and interfering with memory relationships and creativity Through essays narratives and cultural critiques the reader is invited to rethink education as more than upskilling and content mastery education is a space where dialogue has the potential to unlock an individual's sense of power and self mastery that enables them to make sense of violence tragedy and trauma Trauma in Adult and Higher Education Conversations and Critical Reflections reveals the lived experiences of educators struggling to integrate those who have experienced trauma into their classrooms whether this is in prison a yoga class or higher education As discourses and programming to support diversity intensifies it is central that educators acknowledge and respond to the realities of the students before them Advocates of trauma-sensitive curriculum acknowledge that trauma shows up as a result of the disproportionate amount of violence and persistent insecurity that specific groups face Race gender sexual orientation ability and immigration are all factors that expose individuals to higher levels of potential trauma Trauma has changed the conversations about what education is and how it should happen These conversations are resulting in new approaches to teaching and learning that address the lived experiences of pain and trauma that our adult learners bring into the classroom and the workforce This collection includes a discussion of salient implications and practices for adult and higher education administrators and faculty who desire to create an environment that includes individuals who have experienced trauma and perhaps prevents the cycle of violence

Thriving in the Wake of Trauma Thema Bryant-Davis, 2008-02-08 Thema Bryant Davis examines the cultural issues that health care professionals need to consider in caring for trauma survivors

Melancholia and Maturation Eric L. Tribunella, 2010-01-15 Coming of age in children's fiction often means achieving maturity through the experience of trauma In classics ranging from Old Yeller to The Outsiders a narrative of psychological pain defies expectations of childhood as a time of innocence and play In this provocative new book Eric L. Tribunella explores why trauma especially the loss of a loved object occurs in some of the most popular and critically acclaimed twentieth century American fiction for children Tribunella draws on queer theory and feminist revisions of Freud's notion of melancholia which is described as a fundamental response to loss arguing that the low grade symptoms of melancholia are in fact what characterize the mature sober and responsible American adult Melancholia and Maturation looks at how this effect is achieved in a society that purports to protect youngsters from every possible source of danger thus requiring melancholia to be induced artificially Each of the book's five chapters focuses on a different kind of lost object sacrificed so as to propel the child toward a distinctively gendered sexual ethical and national adulthood from same sex friends to the companionship of boy and his dog stories from the lost ideals of historical fiction about the American Revolution to the children killed or traumatized in Holocaust novels The author examines a wide spectrum of works including Jack London's dog tales the contemporary realistic novels of S E Hinton and Newbery Medal winners like Johnny Tremain and Bridge to Terabithia Tribunella raises fundamental questions about the value of children's literature as a whole and provides context for understanding why certain books become required reading for youth Eric L Tribunella is assistant professor of English at the University of Southern Mississippi His articles have been published in Children's Literature Association Quarterly Children's Literature in Education The Lion and the Unicorn A Critical Journal of Children's Literature and Children's Literature

Between the Psyche and the Social Kelly Oliver, Steve Edwin, 2002 Between the Psyche and the Social is the first collection that specifically features the field of psychoanalytic social theory emerging in and between psychoanalysis feminism postcolonial studies and queer theory and across the disciplines of philosophy literary film and cultural studies This collection of essays takes the psychoanalytic study of social oppression in some new directions by engaging indeed stirring up unconscious fantasies and ethical tensions at the heart of social subjectivity

Toni Morrison ON Mothers and Motherhood Lee Baxter, 2017-07-01 This collection of essays explores the gamut of Toni Morrison's novels from her earliest to her most recent Each of the essays examines the various ways in which Morrison's work delineates and interrogates Western culture's ideological norms of mothers motherhood and mothering The essays consider Morrison's female and in some cases male characters as challenging the concept that mothering and motherhood is a stable notion The essays reveal both that mothering is a central concept in Morrison's work and that an examination of this pervasive notion illuminates her corpus as a whole Toni Morrison on Mothers and Motherhood offers a wide range of scholarship that provides a compelling look at Morrison's work through an array of interdisciplinary approaches that are grounded in feminist gender studies This interdisciplinary collection of essays will be of interest to scholars and critics concerned with the notions of how we define mother motherhood mothering and the problem of its interpretation within Western society as well as those engaged in the interpretation of African American literature and Morrison's work in particular

Trauma and Dissociation in the Works and Life of Sebastian Barry Niko Pomakis, 2021-01-12 Can language and literature cure psychological trauma If so what forms do they have to take in doing so When does language hit the wall where the unspeakable mandates silence And where might literature come in as the rescuing hand by offering forms of expression which are rooted in speech but transcend the merely spoken This study confronts these issues through the double lenses of Sebastian Barry's oeuvre and the complex of dissociative disorders that are at work both in his creative output and the ways in which he fictionalizes dark and traumatic biographical data Dr Niko Pomakis has studied Philosophy and

English at the Friedrich Alexander University Erlangen Nuremberg FAU and University College Dublin He earned his PhD in English Literature at the FAU Erlangen Nuremberg

Trauma Narratives in Italian and Transnational Women's Writing Tiziana de Rogatis, Katrin Wehling-Giorgi, 2022-12-14 This edited volume is the first to propose new readings of Italian and transnational female authored texts through the lens of Trauma Studies Illuminating a space that has so far been left in the shadows Trauma Narratives in Italian and Transnational Women's Writing provides new insights into how the trope of trauma shapes the narrative temporal and linguistic dimension of these works The various contributions delineate a landscape of female authored Italian and transnational trauma narratives and their complex textual negotiation of suffering and pathos from the twentieth century to the present day These zones of trauma engender a new aesthetics and a new reading of history and cultural memory as an articulation of female creativity and resistance against a dominant cultural and social order

Spirit and Trauma Shelly Rambo, 2010-09-02 Rambo draws on contemporary studies in trauma to rethink a central claim of the Christian faith that new life arises from death Reexamining the narrative of the death and resurrection of Jesus from the middle day liturgically named as Holy Saturday she seeks a theology that addresses the experience of living in the aftermath of trauma Through a reinterpretation of remaining in the Johannine Gospel she proposes a new theology of the Spirit that challenges traditional conceptions of redemption Offered in its place is a vision of the Spirit's witness from within the depths of human suffering to the persistence of divine love

Trauma and Countertrauma, Resilience and Counterresilience Richard B. Gartner, 2016-11-18 Treating traumatized patients takes its toll on the treating clinician giving rise over time to what Richard B Gartner terms countertrauma in the psychoanalyst or therapist Paradoxically a clinician may also be imbued with a sense of optimism or counterresilience after learning how often the human spirit can triumph over heartbreakingly tragic experiences Trauma and Countertrauma Resilience and Counterresilience brings together a distinguished group of seasoned clinicians both trauma specialists and psychoanalysts Their personal reflections show what clinicians all too rarely dare to reveal their personal traumatic material They then discuss how they develop models for acknowledging articulating and synthesizing the countertrauma that arises from long term exposure to patients often harrowing trauma Writing openly using viscerally affecting language the contributors to this exceptional collection share subjective and sometimes intimate material shedding light on the inner lives of people who work to heal the wounds of psychic trauma By the same token many of these clinicians describe how working intimately with traumatized individuals can affect the listener positively recounting how patients resilience evokes counterresilience in the therapist allowing the clinician to benefit from ongoing contact with patients who deal bravely with horrific adversity Paradoxically a clinician may be imbued with a sense of optimism after learning how often the human spirit can triumph over heartbreakingly tragic experiences Trauma and Countertrauma Resilience and Counterresilience will appeal to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic psychotherapists and trauma experts offering a valuable resource to those beginning their careers in mental health work to teachers and supervisors of trauma therapists to experienced clinicians struggling with burnout and to anyone who wants to understand the psychotherapeutic process or indeed the human condition 3-D Cinema and Trauma Dor

Fadlon, 2022-12-16 This book examines 3D cinema across the early 1950s the early 1980s and from 2009 to 2014 providing for the first time not only a connection between 3D cinema and historical trauma but also a consideration of 3D aesthetics from a cultural perspective The main argument of the book is that 3D cinema possesses a privileged potential to engage with trauma Exploring questions of representation embodiment and temporality in 3 D cinema the book takes an interdisciplinary approach offering a compelling analysis to a combination of box office favorites and more obscure films ranging across genres such as horror erotica fantasy science fiction and documentaries Weaving theoretical discussions and film analysis this book renders complex theoretical frameworks such as Deleuze and trauma theory accessible
