Terror And Apocalypse Psychological Undercur:

Blood That Cries Out From the Earth James Jones, 2008-04-11 Religious terrorism has become the scourge of the modern world What causes a person to kill innocent strangers in the name of religion As both a clinical psychologist and an authority on comparative religion James W Jones is uniquely qualified to address this increasingly urgent question Research on the psychology of violence shows that several factors work to make ordinary people turn evil These include feelings of humiliation or shame a tendency to see the world in black and white and demonization or dehumanization of other people Authoritarian religion or fundamentalism Jones shows is a particularly rich source of such ideas and feelings which he finds throughout the writings of Islamic jihadists such as the 9 11 conspirators Jones goes on to apply this model to two very different religious groups that have engaged in violence Aum Shinrikyo the Buddhist splinter group behind the sarin gas attacks in the Tokyo subway system and members of the extreme religious right in the U S who have advocated and committed violence against abortion providers Jones notes that not every adherent of an authoritarian group will turn to violence and he shows how theories of personality development can explain why certain individuals are easily recruited to perform terrorist acts New Critical Essays on Kurt Vonnegut D.
