Terrible Hard Biscuits A Reader In Aboriginal History:

Terrible Hard Biscuits Valerie Chapman, 2020-09-02 A fine beginning for those intent on understanding the colonial past that shaped black and white Australia Richard Broome author of Aboriginal Australians Terrible Hard Biscuits introduces the main themes in the history of Aboriginal Australia the complexity of Aboriginal European relations since 1788 how Aboriginal identity and cultures survived invasion dispossession and dislocation and how indigenous Australians have survived to take their place in today's society Each essay in Terrible Hard Biscuits has been chosen for the clarity of its writing and for its depth of understanding The Aboriginal and non Aboriginal authors range across Australia's post invasion history and their accounts focus on the more traditionally oriented communities in remote areas as well as on urban and fringe dwellers For twenty years the journal Aboriginal History has attracted the best writing on Australia's Aboriginal past Each essay in Terrible Hard Biscuits was selected from this journal to provide essential reading for students of Aboriginal studies and Australian studies The chronological and geographic range of the contents will prove invaluable in surveying a crucial element of Australia's past and present

A Peep at the Blacks' Ian Clark, 2015-01-01 This book is concerned with the history of tourism at the Coranderrk Aboriginal Station at Healesville northeast of Melbourne which functioned as a government reserve from 1863 until its closure in 1924 At Coranderrk Aboriginal mission interests and tourism intersected and the station became a showplace of Aboriginal culture and the government policy of assimilation The Aboriginal residents responded to tourist interest by staging cultural performances that involved boomerang throwing and traditional ways of lighting fires and by manufacturing and selling traditional artifacts Whenever government policy impacted adversely on the Aboriginal community the residents of Coranderrk took advantage of the opportunities offered to them by tourism to advance their political and cultural interests This was particularly evident in the 1910s and 1920s when government policy moved to close the station

Aboriginal Black Power and the Rise of the Australian Black Panther Party, 1967-1972 Alyssa L. Trometter, 2022-01-01 Examining transnational ties between the USA and Australia this book explores the rise of the Aboriginal Black Power Movement in the 1960s and early 1970s Aboriginal adaptation of the American Black Power movement paved the way for future forms of radical Aboriginal resistance including the eventual emergence of the Australian Black Panther Party Through analysis of archival material including untouched government records previously unexamined newspapers and interviews conducted with both Australian and American activists this book investigates the complex and varied process of developing the Black Power movement in a uniquely Australian context Providing a social and political account of Australian activism across Victoria New South Wales and Queensland the author illustrates the fragmentation of Aboriginal Black Power marked by its different leaders protests and propaganda

Aboriginal Sydney Melinda Hinkson, Alana Harris, 2010-10-01 The popular first edition established itself as both authoritative and informative it is both a guide book and an alternative social history told through precincts of significance to the city's Indigenous people The sites within the precincts and their accompanying stories and photographs evoke Sydney's ancient past and allow us all to celebrate the living Aboriginal culture of today Now available as a phone app from iTunes or Google Play <http://bit.ly/16s9zI0>

The Lives of Stories Emma Dortins, 2018-12-05 The Lives of Stories traces three stories of Aboriginal settler friendships that intersect with the ways in which Australians remember founding national stories build narratives for cultural revival and work on reconciliation and self-determination These three stories which are still being told with creativity and commitment by storytellers today are the story of James Morrill's adoption by Birri Gubba people and re-adoption 17 years later into the new colony of Queensland the story of Bennelong and his relationship with Governor Phillip and the Sydney colonists and the story of friendship between Wiradjuri leader Windradyne and the Suttor family Each is an intimate story about people involved in relationships of goodwill care adoptive kinship and mutual learning across cultures and the strains of maintaining or relinquishing these bonds as they took part in the larger events that signified the colonisation of Aboriginal lands by the British Each is a story in which cross-cultural understanding and misunderstanding are deeply embedded and in which the act of storytelling itself has always been an engagement in cross-cultural relations The Lives of Stories reflects on the nature of story as part of our cultural inheritance and seeks to engage the reader in becoming more conscious of our own effect as history makers as we retell old stories with new meanings in the present and pass them on to new generations Aboriginal

Peoples and Birds in Australia Philip A. Clarke, 2023-04-03 Australia is home to many distinctive species of birds and Aboriginal peoples have developed close alliances with them over the millennia of their custodianship of this country Aboriginal Peoples and Birds in Australia: Historical and Cultural Relationships provides a review of the broad physical historical and cultural relationships that Aboriginal people have had with the Australian avifauna This book aims to raise awareness of the alternative bodies of ornithological knowledge that reside outside of Western science It describes the role of birds as totemic ancestors and spirit beings and explores Aboriginal bird nomenclature foraging techniques and the use of avian materials to make food medicine and artefacts Through a historical perspective this book examines the gaps between knowledge systems of Indigenous peoples and Western science to encourage greater collaboration and acknowledgment in the future Cultural sensitivity Readers are warned that there may be words descriptions and terms used in this book that are culturally sensitive and which might not normally be used in certain public or community contexts While this information may not reflect current understanding it is provided by the author in a historical context This publication may also contain quotations terms and annotations that reflect the historical attitude of the original author or that of the period in which the item was written and may be considered inappropriate today Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are advised that this publication may contain the names and images of people who have passed away Australian Settler Colonialism and the Cummeragunja Aboriginal Station Fiona Davis, 2014-03-01 In 1938 the anthropologist Norman Tindale gave a classroom of young Aboriginal children a set of crayons and asked them to draw The children residents of the government run Aboriginal station Cummeragunja mostly drew pictures of aspects of white civilization boats houses and flowers What now to make of their artwork Were the children

Following Jesus in Invaded Space Chris Budden,2011-07-27 Christianity is never just about beliefs but habits and practices for better or worse Theology always reflects the social location of the theologian including her privileges and prejudices all the time working with a particular often undisclosed notion of what is normal Therefore theology is never neutral it defends particular constructions of reality and it promotes certain interests Following Jesus in Invaded Space asks what and whose interests theology protects when it is part of a community that invaded the land of indigenous peoples Developing a theological method and position that self consciously acknowledges the church's role in occupying Aboriginal land in Australia it dares to speak of God church and justice in the context of past history and continuing dispossession Hence a Second People's theology emerges through constant and careful attention to experiences of invasion and dislocation brought into dialogue with the theological landscape or tradition of the church Being a descendant of some of the first English invaders in Australia and a witness to the continuing inadequate recognition of the Church's past mistakes in this country theologian Chris Budden felt a strong need to write this book Leaving the past behind does not mean ignoring it and an acknowledgement of mistakes is a prerequisite to any fruitful discourse between invaders and invaded In our endeavours to help the marginalised and the indigenous Budden warns us against the arrogance of pitying them as poor superstitious things who can only be helped by our own superior concept of divine grace As Budden puts it We need to keep listening for voices that remind us that our normal is not necessarily everybody's normal His book encourages us to recognise and appreciate the diverse perspectives of minority theologians It is not just about giving a voice to these people It is about being able to hear their own voice to understand it and then reinterpret our own tradition according to it

Indigenous Intermediaries Shino Konishi,Maria Nugent,Tiffany Shellam,2015-09-29 This edited collection understands exploration as a collective effort and experience involving a variety of people in diverse kinds of relationships It engages with the recent resurgence of interest in the history of exploration by focusing on the various indigenous intermediaries Jacky Jacky Bungaree Moowattin Tupaia Mai Cheealthluc and lesser known individuals who were the guides translators and hosts that assisted and facilitated European travellers in exploring different parts of the world These intermediaries are rarely the authors of exploration narratives or the main focus within exploration archives Nonetheless the archives of exploration contain imprints of their presence experience and contributions The chapters present a range of ways of reading archives to bring them to the fore The contributors ask new questions of existing materials suggest new interpretive approaches and present innovative ways to enhance sources so as to generate new stories

Knowledge of Life Kaye Price,2015-09-17 Knowledge of Life is the first textbook to provide students with a comprehensive guide to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australia The result of extensive research and experience it offers fresh insights into a range of topics and most importantly is written by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander academics

It addresses topics ranging from history and reconciliation to literature and politics to art sport and health It presents social cultural and political perspectives on these areas in a manner that is accessible to undergraduate students from a range of backgrounds and academic disciplines Each chapter opens with a pr cis of the author s journey to engage students and offer them an insight into the author s experiences These authentic voices encourage students to think about the wider issues surrounding each chapter and their real life implications This timely publication emphasises the importance of relationships between non Indigenous and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures Trying to Get It Back Gillian

Weiss,2015-03-02 Trying to Get It Back Indigenous Women Education and Culture examines aspects of the lives of six women from three generations of two indigenous families Their combined memories experiences and aspirations cover the entire twentieth century The first family Pearl McKenzie Pauline Coulthard and Charlene Tree are a mother daughter and granddaughter of the Adnyamathanha people of the Flinders Range in South Australia The second family consists of Bernie Sound her neice Valerie Bourne and Valerie s daughter Brandi McLeod Sechelt women from British Columbia Canada They talk to G Aborigines & Activism Jennifer Clark,2008 In a provocative reappraisal of the 1960s Aborigines Activism recontextualises the history of Aboriginal activism within wider international movements Concurrent to anti war protests women s movements burgeoning civil rights activism in the United States and the struggles of South Africa s anti apartheid freedom righters dramatic political changes took place in assimilated Australia that challenged its status quo From the early days of grassroots resistance through to Charles Perkins 1965 Freedom Ride the 1967 Referendum Canberra s Tent Embassy and beyond this is the story of the Great Southern Land s racial awakening a time when Aborigines and their white supporters achieved paradigmatic shifts in the search for equality justice and human dignity that still has powerful implications for 21st century Australia This is an engaging study of the stories of racial awakening in Australia that marked the coming of the wind of change Through rigorous research the author shows how supporters of Indigenous Australians and their struggles for equality pushed Australia into the 60s literally and figuratively The book also puts the Australian experience of the 60s into an international perspective portrayed as unique but not in isolation Australian Frontier

Wars, 1788-1838 John Connor,2002 From the Swan River to the Hawkesbury and from the sticky Arnhem Land mangrove to the soft green hills of Tasmania this book describes the major conflicts fought on the Australian frontier to 1838 Based on extensive research and using overseas frontier wars to add perspective to the Australian experience The Australian Frontier Wars 1788 1838 will change our view of Australian history forever Growing up Indigenous: Developing Effective Pedagogy for Education and Development R.M. Nichol,2011-07-23 This is a fascinating account of traditional socialisation and Indigenous forms of learning in Australia and Melanesia It draws from rich ethnographic historical and educational material There has never been a greater need for a socially and historically informed yet critical account of the mismatch between traditional ways realities of life in Indigenous communities villages and enclaves and the forms of education provided in schools Raymond Nichol a specialist in Indigenous education and pedagogy surveys the links too often disparities between ethnographic detail of life on the ground and the schooling provided by nation states in this vast region Most importantly he explores and suggests ways community developers and educators Indigenous and non Indigenous may work to bridge the gaps in social rights educational and economic development This is relevant for all Indigenous communities their survival and development Many vexed issues are discussed such as race ethnicity identity discrimination self determination development and relevant effective pedagogical learning and schooling strategies John Dowie John

Dowie,2001 With a full color gallery of artist John Dowie s works this exciting new book celebrates eight decades of artistic achievement by a great Australian sculptor painter and writer Editor Tracey Lock Weir charts Dowie s progress over the years and her informative essay is illuminated by John Dowie s own humorous writings Balanced Urban Development:

Havea,2014-06-05 This book engages a complex subject that mainline theologies avoid Indigenous Australia The heritages wisdoms and dreams of Indigenous Australians are tormented by the discriminating mindsets and colonialist practices of non Indigenous peoples This book gives special attention to the torments due to the arrival and development of the church

Mohawk Interruptus Audra Simpson,2014-05-27 Mohawk Interruptus is a bold challenge to dominant thinking in the fields of Native studies and anthropology Combining political theory with ethnographic research among the Mohawks of Kahnaw ke a reserve community in what is now southwestern Quebec Audra Simpson examines their struggles to articulate and maintain political sovereignty through centuries of settler colonialism The Kahnaw ke Mohawks are part of the

Haudenosaunee or Iroquois Confederacy Like many Iroquois peoples they insist on the integrity of Haudenosaunee governance and refuse American or Canadian citizenship Audra Simpson thinks through this politics of refusal which stands in stark contrast to the politics of cultural recognition Tracing the implications of refusal Simpson argues that one sovereign political order can exist nested within a sovereign state albeit with enormous tension around issues of jurisdiction and legitimacy Finally Simpson critiques anthropologists and political scientists whom she argues have too readily accepted the assumption that the colonial project is complete Belying that notion Mohawk Interruptus calls for and demonstrates more robust and evenhanded forms of inquiry into indigenous politics in the teeth of settler governance Bluff Rock Katrina Schlunke,2005-01-01 The past is a problem for us We know certain events happened sometimes exactly when and yet our longing for certainty cannot be satisfied we tell stories about where we come from and who we are We change these stories sometimes minutely sometimes radically This is an original and courageous book Schlunke who grew up in the New England area takes this one story the massacre s of Aborigines at Bluff Rock in New England during the 1840s and looks at the many ways it is organised as a memory of Indigenous non Indigenous relations Schlunke breaks new ground as she probes the hidden histories of Indigenous settler encounters and addresses herself urgently to the problems of history in Australia
