Tethers in Space Handbook William A. Barakat, 1986 Space Tethers and Space Elevators Michel van Pelt, 2009-06-12 Michel van Pelt explains for the first time the principle of space tethers what they are and how they can be used in space He introduces non technical space enthusiasts to the various possibilities and feasibility of space tethers including the technological challenges and potential benefits He illustrates how because of their inherent simplicity space tethers have the potential to make space travel much cheaper while ongoing advances in tether material technology may make even seemingly far fetched ideas a reality in the not too distant future Applications of Tethers in Space ,1985 model of the system and then discusses the design and proof of different control schemes for various problems The dynamics modeling presented is based on Newton and Lagrangian mechanics and the book also introduces Hamilton mechanics and Poincaré surface of section for dynamics analysis and employs both centralized and distributed controllers to derive the formation question of the multi tethered system In addition to the equations and text it includes 3D design drawings schematic diagrams control scheme blocks and tables to make it easy to understand This book is intended for researchers and graduate students in the fields of astronautics control science and engineering Tethers in Space Handbook M. Lorenzini, 2014-10-27 Space tethers are long cables which can be used for propulsion momentum exchange stabilization and altitude control or maintaining the relative positions of the components of a large dispersed satellite spacecraft sensor system Depending on the mission objectives and altitude spaceflight using this form of spacecraft propulsion may be significantly less expensive than spaceflight using rocket engines A number of space tethers have been deployed in space missions Tether satellites can be used for various purposes including research into tether propulsion tidal stabilisation and orbital plasma dynamics Tethers in Space Peter M.
