Glued to the Set Steven D. Stark, 1998 Call it literate fun Ranging from the 1940 s to the 1990 s and focusing on 60 programs that will surprise you Stark comments on TV history in a smart pithy voice and reveals how as a nation we ve moved from Lucy and Ricky to Roseanne and Dan from Howdy Doody to Sesame Street and what that says about us You may think you know television but when Steven Stark is finished pushing your buttons with fighting words and brilliant insights you ll see what television has done to us as a nation in a whole new way From Beaver to Roseanne Ed Sullivan to Oprah Monday Night Football to MTV Stark takes us on a guided tour of the tube providing startling revelations about the power of its sixty most important shows and events in the history of television He catches in bright focus a hilarious strange and compelling image of ourselves as reflected on the small screen and he shows us with striking logic the awesome power of television over our future and our fate

Who Shot the Sheriff? J. Fred MacDonald, 1987 This intriguing book is a study of the rise and fall of an American genre of entertainment and communication whose symbols and rhetoric helped define American society for decades Flourishing in the 1950s and 1960s the television Western has deteriorated to the point where it is now irrelevant and meaningless Tracing the evolution of the Western from the late 1940s to the 1980s the author ties the genre to the political innocence and confidence of the Cold War years and suggests that the social reevaluations that began in the 1960s undermined the believability of Westerns and their entertainment value Seeking to understand the demise of the TV Western the book offers an analysis of the interrelationships between popular culture television and sociopolitical development in the United States during the past four decades
