Before the twentieth century Japanese religious and cultural life was shaped by a variety of yearly ceremonies festivals and customs These annual events nenju gyoji included Shinto festivals in which participants danced through the night to boisterous music and Buddhist temple practices that honored deities great priests or temple founders with solemn rituals and prayers and sometimes when the Buddha was invoked raucous dancing Temples also hosted popular fairs where holy objects and artwork were displayed to the faithful and curious Countless other celebrations were held annually at the residences of the nobility and military elite and at commoner domiciles Kyoto the imperial and cultural capital since the eighth century was the center of many of these events From Kyoto festivals rituals and celebrations diffused to other parts of the land ultimately shaping religious artistic and everyday life as a whole By the seventeenth century the Kyoto public wished to inform itself more accurately about nenju gyoji and their dates and meanings As a result a growing number of guidebooks and almanacs were written and published for the urban populace This volume is the first to present translations of two such publications

Introductory chapters explain Japanese conceptions of time and space within which annual celebrations took place and outline how ceremonies and festivals in and about Kyoto were chronicled described and interpreted from the earliest times to the seventeenth century The final two chapters offer annotated translations of writings from the seventeenth century that catalogue and describe the dates sites meanings and histories of many Kyoto annual events The two works one largely historical the other more ethnographic in nature indicate not only when and where observances and commemorations took place but also how their authors understood the significance of each Both translations feature a large number of illustrations depicting events as they appeared in Kyoto at the time Reference Encyclopedia of the American Indian Barry T.
