A. Sutherland,2014-01-13 The study of Thackeray s major fiction reconstructs the novelist s working methods with the help of manuscript material much of it previously unpublished The book s main argument is directed against the commonplace view that Thackeray was in some way a careless artist Much that appears casual or unpremeditated in his work can in fact be explained by the mode of composition which he developed in response both to the publishing conditions of his age and to his own artistic temperament An appreciation of Thackeray s writing habits helps clear up much of the critical confusion which has surrounded his reputation in the last hundred years A particular feature of interest in the book is the use made of Thackeray s preparatory working materials These were widely dispersed after the writer s death and have never been comprehensively examined Drawings from New York Collections. Vol. 1, The Italian Renaissance ,1967 Medieval Illuminators and Their Methods of Work Jonathan James Graham Alexander,1992-01-01 Who were the medieval illuminators How were their hand produced books illustrated and decorated In this beautiful book Jonathan Alexander presents a survey of manuscript illumination throughout Europe from the fourth to the sixteenth century He discusses the social and historical context of the illuminators lives considers their methods of work and presents a series of case studies to show the range and nature of the visual sources and the ways in which they were adapted copied or created anew Alexander explains that in the early period Christian monasteries and churches were the main centers for the copying of manuscripts and so the majority of illuminators were monks working in and for their own monasteries From the eleventh century lay scribes and illuminators became increasingly numerous and by the thirteenth century professional illuminators dominated the field During this later period illuminators were able to travel in search of work and to acquire new ideas they joined guilds with scribes or with artists in the cities and their ranks included nuns and secular women Work was regularly collaborative and the craft was learned through an apprenticeship system Alexander carefully analyzes surviving manuscripts and medieval treatises in order to explain the complex and time consuming technical processes of illumination its materials methods tools choice of illustration and execution From rare surviving contracts he deduces the preoccupation of patrons with materials and schedules Illustrating his discussion with examples chosen from religious and secular manuscripts made all over Europe Alexander recreates the
