The Cultural Contradictions of Motherhood Sharon Hays, 1996-01-01 Working mothers today confront not only conflicting demands on their time and energy but also conflicting ideas about how they are to behave they must be nurturing and unselfish while engaged in child rearing but competitive and ambitious at work As more and more women enter the workplace it would seem reasonable for society to make mothering a simpler and more efficient task Instead Sharon Hays points out in this original and provocative book an ideology of intensive mothering has developed that only exacerbates the tensions working mothers face Drawing on ideas about mothering since the Middle Ages on contemporary childrearing manuals and on in depth interviews with mothers from a range of social classes Hays traces the evolution of the ideology of intensive mothering an ideology that holds the individual mother primarily responsible for child rearing and dictates that the process is to be child centered expert guided emotionally absorbing labor intensive and financially expensive Hays argues that these ideas about appropriate mothering stem from a fundamental ambivalence about a system based solely on the competitive pursuit of individual interests In attempting to deal with our deep uneasiness about self interest we have imposed unrealistic and unremunerated obligations and commitments on mothering making it into an opposing force a primary field on which this cultural ambivalence is played out
