Aesthetic Injustice Dominic McIver Lopes, 2024-08-06 Contrast the glittering palette used to decorate rickshaws on the streets of Mumbai the phlegmatic angst of Nordic noir the taut ovoids of Kwakwaka wakw carving or the kawaii invasion of parts of Tokyo The diversity of the aesthetic ecosystem enriches our lives In Aesthetic Injustice Dominic McIver Lopes draws on his earlier books Beyond Art and Being for Beauty as well as the rich tradition of cultural cosmopolitanism to argue that we have interests in there being diverse conceptions of aesthetic value each one at the centre of a thriving self directed aesthetic culture These interests should govern how from the perspective of our own aesthetic cultures we interact with others aesthetic cultures Lopes articulates an entirely new theory of aesthetic injustice the consequence of neglecting our own interests This theory sheds light on cultural appropriation gendered and racialized ideals of bodily beauty the allocation of resources to the aesthetic pursuits of disabled people and state support for the aesthetic cultures of minority groups In its combination of theoretical innovation with detailed treatment of contemporary issues Aesthetic Injustice forges important connections between aesthetics political philosophy and research on social justice

Burnham's Celestial Handbook, Volume Three Robert Burnham, 2013-04-15 Volume III of a comprehensive three part guide to celestial objects outside our solar system concludes with listings from Pavo to Vulpecula While there are many books on stars there is only one Celestial Handbook Now completely revised through 1977 this unique and necessary reference is available once again to guide amateur and advanced astronomers in their knowledge and enjoyment of the stars After an extensive introduction in Volume I which gives the beginner enough information to follow about 80 percent of the body of the material the author gives comprehensive coverage to the thousands of celestial objects outside our solar system that are within the range of telescopes in the two to twelve inch range The objects are grouped according to the constellations in which they appear Each constellation is divided into four subject sections list of double and multiple stars list of variable stars list of star clusters nebulae and galaxies and descriptive notes For each object the author gives names celestial coordinates classification and full physical description These together with a star atlas will help you find and identify almost every object of interest But the joy of the book is the descriptive notes that follow They cover history unusual movements or appearance and currently accepted explanations of such visible phenomena as white dwarfs novae and super novae cepheids mira type variables dark nebulae gaseous nebulae eclipsing binary stars the large Magellanic cloud the evolution of a star cluster and hundreds of other topics many of which are difficult to find in one place Hundreds of charts and other visual aids are included to help in identification Over 300 photographs capture the objects and are works of beauty that reflect the enthusiasm that star gazers have for their subject Robert Burnham Jr who was on the staff of the Lowell Observatory Flagstaff Arizona conceived the idea of The Celestial Handbook decades ago when he began assembling a notebook of all the major facts published about each celestial object In its former privately printed edition this handbook was acclaimed as one of the most helpful books for astronomers on any level

Contemporary American Women Writers

Catherine Rainwater,William J. Scheick,2021-05-11 Ann Beattie Annie Dillard Maxine Hong Kingston Toni Morrison Cynthia Ozick Grace Paley Marge Piercy Anne Redmon Anne Tyler and Alice Walker all seem to be especially concerned with narrative management The ten essays in this book raise new and intriguing questions about the ways these leading women writers appropriate and transform generic norms and ultimately revise literary tradition to make it more inclusive of female experience vision and expression The contributors to this volume discover diverse narrative strategies Beattie Dillard Paley and Redmon in divergent ways rely heavily upon narrative gaps surfaces and silences often suggesting depths which are lamentably absent from modern experience or which mysteriously elude language For Kingston and Walker verbal assertiveness is the focus of narratives depicting the gradual empowerment of female protagonists who learn to speak themselves into existence Ozick and Tyler disrupt conventional reader expectations of the anti novel and the family novel respectively Finally Morrison s and Piercy s works reveal how traditional narrative forms such as the Bildungsroman and the soap opera are adaptable to feminist purposes In examining the writings of these ten important women authors this book illuminates a significant moment in literary history when women s voices are profoundly reshaping American literary tradition or relocating to a new country and the more recent implications of COVID 19 upon border crossings Tyminski also re-evaluates the term identity as a psychological shorthand suggesting that it can flatten our understanding of human complexity and erase migrant and refugee life stories and differences As one of few books to investigate immigration from a Jungian oriented perspective Robert Tyminski's work offers a new and broad perspective on the mental health issues related to immigration This book will prove essential for clinicians working with refugees and migrants when in training and in practice as well as students and practitioners of psychoanalysis seeking to deepen their understanding of migratory experiences

The Thinking Woman's Guide to Real Magic Emily Croy Barker, 2013-08-01 An imaginative story of a woman caught in an alternate world where she will need to learn the skills of magic to survive Nora Fischer's dissertation is stalled and her boyfriend is about to marry another woman. During a miserable weekend at a friend's wedding, Nora wanders off and walks through a portal into a different world where she is transformed from a drab grad student into a stunning beauty. Before long she has a set of glamorous new friends and her romance with gorgeous masterful Raclin is heating up. It's almost too good to be true. Then the elegant veneer shatters. Nora's new fantasy world turns darker, a fairy tale gone incredibly wrong. Making it here will take skills Nora never learned in graduate school. Her only real ally and a reluctant one at that is the magician Aruendiel, a grim, reclusive figure with a biting tongue and a shrouded past. And it will take her becoming Aruendiel's student and learning magic herself to survive. When a passage home finally opens, Nora must weigh her real life against the dangerous power of love and magic. For lovers of Lev Grossman's The Magicians series, The Magicians and The Magician King, and Deborah Harkness's All Souls Trilogy, A Discovery of Witches and Shadow of Night.

Minority Recognition and the Diversity Deficit Jessika Eichler, Kyriaki Topidi, 2022-11-17 This book addresses one of the most serious societal questions of our time: how to create new spaces and frameworks for minority recognition given the State-centric sovereignty discourse and the persisting equality jargon that dominate today's world. By so doing, it approaches minority rights by means of a critical engagement with its underlying premises. Notably, it makes attempts to both construct and reconfigure neglected legal categories in particular collective rights and to deconstruct domestic constitutional orders. More precisely, it does so through diametrically opposed levels of analysis: that is, top-down and bottom-up logics by exploring sociolegal strategies, forms and formats of governance on the one hand and grassroots demands on the other. Drawing on empirical findings in Europe and Latin America, the book gives us a sense of how recognition needs to be contextualised against the background of right-wing trends in Europe and the rebuilding of the State in the Andes. This is a fascinating study of one of the key questions engaging human rights, minority studies and discrimination law.

The Ethics of Identity Kwame Anthony Appiah, 2023-10-03 A bold vision of liberal humanism for navigating today's complex world of growing identity politics and rising nationalism. Collective identities such as race, nationality, religion, gender and sexuality clamor for recognition and respect, sometimes at the expense of other things we value. To what extent do they constrain our freedom and to what extent do they enable our individuality? Is diversity of value in itself? Has the rhetoric of human rights been overstretched? Kwame Anthony Appiah draws on thinkers through the ages and across the globe to explore such questions, developing an account of ethics that connects moral obligations with collective allegiances and that takes aim at clichés and received ideas about identity. This classic book takes seriously both the claims of individuality, the task of making a life, and the claims of identity, these large and often abstract social categories through which we define ourselves.

The Plural States of Recognition Michel Seymour, 2010-01-20 Critical reflections by established academics on the crisis of multiculturalism that occurred in Great Britain, Netherlands and Canada. It provides an occasion to develop a sophisticated understanding of societies characterized by religious, ethnic and cultural diversity.

Historical Understanding Zoltán Boldizsár Simon, Lars Deile, 2022-02-24 The first decades of the new century shake old certainties In a whirlwind of profound changes do we have more history or less Does history overwhelm us in all domains of life or is historical understanding in yet another crisis The answers do not come easily The recent demise of humanities education the technological alterations of our social lifeworlds and the human condition the anthropogenic changes in the Earth system the growing sense of memory trauma and historical injustice as alternative approaches to the past seem to entail contradictions and complexities that do not fit very well with our existing notions of historical understanding Historical thought as we know it is facing manifold challenges and we struggle to grasp a larger picture that could encompass them Boasting a range of contributions from leading scholars this volume attempts just that In an innovative collection of short essays Historical Understanding explores the current shape of historical understanding today by surveying a variety of historical relations to the past present and future in the face of socio political ecological and technological upheavals This book is an invaluable research tool for students and researchers alike presenting a kaleidoscope like overview of manifold new ways which we navigate historically in coping with present day challenges both in wider society and in historiography

Contextual Subjects Robert Leckey, 2008-01-01 Law and legal discourse both presuppose and produce legal subjects Views on the nature of the legal subject will constantly shift therefore with changes in the law Contextual Subjects argues that a new view of the legal subject has indeed emerged and that it is now embedded in the social context and relationships This claim is developed through a contrast of Canadian family law and administrative law as it was in the mid twentieth century and as it is today Robert Leckey argues that it is not only the subject that is contextual Legal discourse and adjudication have also become more contextual making family law and administrative law themselves contextual subjects Leckey bolsters this argument through the use of relational theory a rich strand of feminist political theory that advocates a contextual method and seeks to promote constructive relationships that enable relational autonomy Developments in family law and administrative law therefore exemplify the contextualism called for by relational theorists Leckey points to the importance of contextualization but he is not uncritical of relational theory insisting that it should articulate more forcefully its normative vision of good relationships and offer clear recommendations in contested areas Contextual Subjects is the most thorough and sustained application of relational theory to legal examples to appear to date It is unique in Canadian legal scholarship for the way it pairs family law and administrative law and within legal scholarship in English for its integration of common law and civil law

Planet Claire, Suite for Cello and Sad-Eyed Lovers Jeff Porter, 2021-01-05 The second installment in Ann Hood's Gracie Belle imprint challenges the traditional solemnity that characterizes nonfiction books of grief loss and sorrow Few readers will fail to be gripped by this tragically common story about death and what comes after for those left behind A haunting and thought provoking consideration of death and how utterly it rips apart our lives Kirkus Reviews Starred Review Planet Claire is the story of the untimely death of the author's wife and his candid account of the following year of madness and grief As his life unravels Porter analyzes his sadness with growing interest He talks to Claire as if to evoke a presence to mark a space for memory He reports on his daily walks and shares observations of life s sadness while reminiscing about various moments in their life together Like Orpheus the author searches for a lost love and what he finds is not the dog of doom but flashes of an intimate symmetry that brighten the darkest places of sorrow The second title from Ann Hood s Gracie Belle imprint Planet Claire takes readers on a journey of sorrow that recalls memorable works by C S Lewis A Grief Observed Joan Didion The Year of Magical Thinking and Julian Barnes Levels of Life Porter s memoir however is also playful quirky and self ironic in a way that challenges the genre s traditional solemnity Like the novel Grief Is the Thing with Feathers by Max Porter this is an unpredictably funny account of heartbreak as if to say there s something about the magnitude of loss that troubles even earnestness
