Larrington,2024-04-16 Over the last twenty five years the history of emotion field has become one of the most dynamic and productive areas for humanities research This designation and the marked leadership of historians in the field has had the unlooked for consequence of sidelining literature in particular secular literature as evidence source and object of emotion study Secular literature whether fable novel fantasy or romance has been understood as prone to exaggeration hyperbole and thus as an unreliable indicator of the emotions of the past The aim of this book is to decentre history of emotion research and asks new questions ones that can be answered by literary scholars using literary texts as sources how do literary texts understand and depict emotion and crucially how do they generate emotion in their audiences those who read them or hear them read or performed

The Gender of Money in Middle English Literature Diane Cady,2019-10-01 The Gender of Money in Middle English Literature Value and Economy in Late Medieval England explores the vital and under examined role that gender plays in the conceptualization of money and value in a period that precedes and shapes what we now recognize as the discipline of political economy Through readings of a range of late Middle English texts this book demonstrates the ways in which gender ideology provided a vocabulary for articulating fears and fantasies about money and value in the late Middle Ages These ideas inform beliefs about money and value in the West particularly in realms that are often seen as outside the sphere of economy such as friendship love and poetry Exploring the gender of money helps us to better understand late medieval notions of economy and to recognize the ways in which gender ideology continues to haunt our understanding of money and value albeit often in occluded ways

Memory and Confession in Middle English Literature Kisha G. Tracy,2017-05-06 This book argues that the traditional relationship between the act of confessing and the act of remembering is manifested through the widespread juxtaposition of confession and memory in Middle English literary texts and furthermore that this concept permeates other manifestations of memory as written by authors in a variety of genres This study through the framework of confession identifies moments of recollection within the texts of four major Middle English authors Langland Chaucer Gower and the Gawain Poet and demonstrates that these authors deliberately employed the devices of recollection and forgetfulness in order to indicate changes or the lack thereof both in conduct and in mindset in their narrative subjects Memory and Confession in Middle English Literature explores memory s connection to confession along with the recurring textual awareness of confession s ability to transform the soul demonstrating that memory and recollection is used in medieval literature to emphasize emotional and behavioral change
