The Military Use Of Land A History Of The Defence Estate:

The Military Use of Land John Childs, 1998 This pioneering history of military land use covers firing and manoeuvre ranges training facilities computerized simulation barracks accommodation educational establishments fortifications airfields dockyards depots bases cemeteries memorials battlefield conservation museums and the impact of the military on the urban landscape Examples are drawn from numerous countries Stretching from the Ancient World to the present day the book informs the contemporary debate about the extent of military land use An Environmental History of the UK Defence Estate, 1945 to the Present Marianna Dudley, 2012-05-03 A history of the military use of the landscape and the rise of military environmentalism through the twentieth century Military Geographies Rachel Woodward, 2011-07-15 Military Geographies is about how local space place environment and landscape are shaped by military presence and about how wider geographies are touched by militarism A book about how local space place environment and landscape are shaped by military presence and about how wider geographies are touched by militarism Sets a new agenda for the study of military geography with its critical analysis of the ways in which military control over space is legitimized Explores the ways in which militarism and military activities control development the use of space and our understanding of place Focuses on military lands establishments and personnel in contemporary peacetime settings Uses examples from Europe North America and Australasia Draws on original research into the mechanisms by which the British government manages the defence estate Illustrated with maps plans and other figures Militarized Landscapes Chris Pearson, Peter Coates, Tim Cole, 2010-06-03 The black smoke billowing from burning oil wells during the Gulf War of 1990 91 directed media and public attention towards war's devastating environmental impact Yet even before the first bomb is dropped preparation for warfare materially and imaginatively reshapes rural landscapes and environments This volume is the first to explore the comparative histories and geographies of militarized landscapes Moving beyond the narrow definition of militarized landscapes as theatres of war it treats them as simultaneously material and cultural sites that have been partially or fully mobilized to achieve military aims Ranging from the Korean DMZ to nuclear testing sites in the American West and from Gettysburg to Salisbury Plain Militarized Landscapes focuses on these often secretive hidden dangerous and invariably controversial sites that occupy huge swathes of national territories The Oxford History of Modern War Charles Townshend, 2005 Offering a comprehensive overview of military conflict over several centuries this book consists of fascinating thematic chapters covering air and sea warfare combat experience technology and even opposition to war The Oxford Illustrated History of Modern War Charles Townshend, 2000-06-29 How has war shaped modern society and vice versa How has it changed over the centuries between the introduction of firearms and the invention of the atom bomb How is war waged today This excitingly illustrated book examines the techniques technology and theory of warfare from the military revolution of the seventeenth century to the present day The expert contributors explore major developments and themes including the extraordinary achievements of Napoleon's armies the role of nationalism in battlegrounds as various as the American Civil War and the former Yugoslavia colonial wars the concept and reality of total war guerrilla warfare and people's wars The Oxford Illustrated History of Modern War offers a comprehensive overview of military conflict over several centuries with fascinating thematic chapters covering air and sea warfare combat experience technology and even opposition to war Contributors Jeremy Black University of Exeter John Bourne University of Birmingham John Childs University of Leeds Jean Bethke Elshtain University of Chicago Alan Forrest University of York David French University College London John B Hattendorf Naval War College Rhode Island Richard Holmes Cranfield University Richard Overy King's College London Douglas Porch US Postgraduate Naval School Monterey California Adam Roberts University of Oxford Mark Roseman Keele University Philip Towle University of Cambridge Charles Townshend Keele University Martin van Creveld Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Mobilizing nature Chris Pearson, 2017-10-03 Mobilizing nature traces the environmental history of war and militarisation in France from the creation of Châlons Camp in 1857 to military environmentalist policies in the twentieth century It offers a fresh perspective on the well known histories of the Franco Prussian War Western Front 1914-18 Second World War Cold War and the anti base campaign at Larzac whilst uncovering the largely hidden history of the numerous military bases and other installations that pepper the French countryside Mobilising nature argues that the history of war and militarisation can only be fully understood if human and environmental histories are considered in tandem Preparing for and conducting wars were only made possible through the active manipulation and mobilisation of topographies climatic conditions vegetation and animals But the military has not monopolised the mobilisation of nature Protesters against militarisation have consistently drawn on images of peaceful and productive civilian environments as the preferable alternative to destructive tanks and bombs Written in an accessible style Mobilizing nature will appeal to readers interested in modern France environmental history military geographies and histories anti military protests and environmentalism

Rethinking Leviathan John Brewer, Eckhart Hellmuth, 1999 Rethinking Leviathan offers a new approach to the history of the modern state It concentrates on the eighteenth century and on two cases those of Britain and Germany These two countries have always been test cases for historians and social scientists looking at the development of the modern state because they have been seen as presenting the two main alternatives in the state building process Using a comparative study of the British and German states including Prussia it deconstructs certain clichés about them and forces us to rethink how to study states in the early modern era The volume is less concerned with the theory of the state or the formal constitutional conditions under which governments operate than with their actual modus operandi The subjects covered in this volume include some which have so far been ignored in reconstructing the history of the modern state Australian

Contributions to Strategic and Military Geography Stuart Pearson, Jane L. Holloway, Richard Thackway, 2018-03-08 Drawing from military geography's spatial roots its embrace of dynamic systems and integration of human and biophysical environments this book helps in understanding the value of analyzing patterns processes and systems and cross scale and multi disciplinary ways of acting in a complex world while making the case for a resurgence of strategic and military geography in Australia Here leading experts demonstrate that geography retains its relevance in clarifying the scale and dynamics of defense activities in assessments of the international regional national and site impacts of changes in physical cyber and human geographies The cases presented show Australia contributing to a growing strategic and military geography

Architectures Andrew Ballantyne, 2008-04-15 Architectures Modernism and After surveys the history of the building from the advent of industrialization to the cultural imperatives of the present moment Brings together international art and architectural historians to consider a range of topics that have influenced the shape profile and aesthetics of the built environment Presents crucial moments in the history of the field when the architecture of the past is made to respond to new and changing cultural circumstances Provides a view of architectural history as a part of a continuing dialogue between aesthetic criteria and social and cultural imperatives Part of the New Interventions in Art History Series which is published in conjunction with the Association of Art Historians

Island Thinking Sophia Davis, 2019-07-30 Island Thinking is a cultural historical and geographical study of Englishness in a key period of cultural transformation in mid twentieth century Britain as the empire shrank back to its insular core The book uses a highly regional focus to investigate the imaginative appeal of islands and boundedness interweaving twentieth century histories of militarisation countryside nature conservation and national heritage to create a thickly textured picture of landscape and history Referred to as an island within an island Suffolk's corner of England provides fascinating stories displaying a preoccupation with vulnerability and threat refuge and safety The book explores the portrayal of the region in mid century rural writing that rediscovered the countryside as well as the area's extensive militarisation during the Second World War It examines various enclosures from the wartime radar project to make Britain an island again to the postwar establishment of secluded nature reserves protecting British birds

Fields of Battle P. Doyle, Matthew R. Bennett, 2013-03-14 Terrain has a profound effect upon the strategy and tactics of any military engagement and has consequently played an important role in determining history In addition the landscapes of battle and the geology which underlies them has helped shape the cultural iconography of battle certainly within the 20th century In the last few years this has become a fertile topic of scientific and historical exploration and has given rise to a number of conferences and books The current volume stems from the international Terrain in Military History conference held in association with the Imperial War Museum London and the Royal Engineers Museum Chatham at the University of Greenwich in January 2000 This conference brought together historians geologists military enthusiasts and terrain analysts from military academic and amateur backgrounds with the aim of exploring the application of modern tools of landscape visualisation to understanding historical battlefields This theme was the subject of a Leverhulme Trust grant F 345 E awarded to the University of Greenwich and administered by us in 1998 which aimed to use the tools of modern landscape

visualisation in understanding the influence of terrain in the First World War This volume forms part of the output from this grant and is part of our wider exploration of the role of terrain in military history Many individuals contributed to the organisation of the original conference and to the production of this volume Warfare, State and Society on the Black Sea Steppe, 1500-1700 Brian Davies, 2014-04-04 This crucial period in Russia's history has been neglected by historians but Brian Davies' study provides an essential insight into the emergence of Russia as a great power

Warfare Ecology Gary E. Machlis, Thor Hanson, Zdravko Špirić, Jean E. McKendry, 2011-06-06 The purpose of this book is specific and ambitious to outline the distinctive elements, scope and usefulness of a new and emerging field of applied ecology named warfare ecology Based on a NATO Advanced Research Workshop held on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico, the book provides both a theoretical overview of this new field and case studies that range from mercury contamination during World War I in Slovenia to the ecosystem impacts of the Palestinian occupation and from the bombing of coral reefs of Vieques to biodiversity loss due to violent conflicts in Africa Warfare Ecology also includes reprints of several classical papers that set the stage for the new synthesis described by the authors Written for environmental scientists, military and humanitarian relief professionals, conservation managers and graduate students in a wide range of fields Warfare Ecology is a major step forward in understanding the relationship between war and ecological systems

Environmental Security and Ecoterrorism Hami Alpas, Simon M. Berkowicz, Irina Ermakova, 2011-05-19 In recent years the concept of environmental security has been adapted to include preparedness for acts of ecoterrorism This latter term has now become synonymous with environmental terrorism where the perpetrator uses the environment as a weapon to harm an opponent The intended outcome is usually large scale deaths, severe damage to the environment and instilling fear in the general population This book explores various facets of ecoterrorism including the role of the state in pursuing and maintaining environmental security, a review of the concept of ecoterrorism, food security challenges and weaknesses, technological countermeasures to enable rapid detection or response and existing pollution sources and hazards that may serve as targets for terrorist acts In sum, this volume provides a useful overview for both the layperson and experienced researchers

Scarred Landscapes C. Pearson, 2008-10-31 Based on detailed archival research and site visits Scarred Landscapes is the first environmental history of Vichy France From mountains and marshlands to foresters and resisters it examines the intricate and often surprising connections between war history and the natural environment during these turbulent years

Emerging Landscapes Davide Deriu, Krystallia Kamvasinou, 2016-05-06 Emerging Landscapes brings together scholars and practitioners working in a wide range of disciplines within the fields of the built environment and visual arts to explore landscape as an idea, an image and a material practice in an increasingly globalized world Drawing on the synergies between the fields of architecture and photography this collection takes a multidisciplinary approach combining practice based research with scholarly essays It explores and critically reassesses the interface between representation, the imaginary and symbolic shaping of the human environment and production the physical and material changes wrought on the land At a time of environmental crisis and the end of nature shifting geopolitical boundaries and economic downturn Emerging Landscapes reflects on the state of landscape and its future mapping those practices that creatively address the boundaries between possibility opportunity and action in imagining and shaping landscape Journal of the Society for Army Historical Research Society for Army Historical Research (London, England),2000 American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1998 R R Bowker Publishing,1999-03 The Journal of Military History ,2007-07
