The Mind Behind The Musical Ear How Children Develop Musical Intelligence:

The Mind Behind the Musical Ear Jeanne Shapiro Bamberger, 1991 Bamberger focuses on the earliest stages in the development of musical cognition Beginning with children's invention of original rhythm notations she follows eight year old Jeff as he reconstructs and invents descriptions of simple melodies The Mind Behind the Musical Ear Jeanne Shapiro Bamberger, 1995 Musical Understanding Betty Hanley, Thomas W. Goolsby, 2002-09-15 Musical Understanding is an outcome of the Symposium on Musical Understanding held in Victoria BC on February 22-23 2001 This collection of essays is not a typical report of proceedings The book features chapters that examine musical understanding from a number of perspectives while addressing theoretical and practical considerations The topics discussed by established teachers and teacher educators from Canada and the United States include constructivism multicultural music education impact of cognition and culture mind/body dualism movement and music and listening to music Child and Adolescent Development William Damon, Richard M. Lerner, Deanna Kuhn, Robert S. Siegler, Nancy Eisenberg, 2012-06-29 This advanced text for psychology human development and education provides students with state of the art overviews of the discipline in an accessible affordable format Unique both in the depth of its coverage and in the timeliness of the research that it presents this comprehensive text conveys the field of child and adolescent development through the voices of scientists who themselves are now shaping the field Teaching Music in Secondary Schools Gary Spruce, 2002 This series brings together a range of articles extracts from books and reports that inform an understanding of secondary schools in today's educational climate Learning in a Musical Key Lisa M. Hess, 2011-09-15 Learning in a Musical Key examines the multidimensional problem of the relationship between music and theological education Lisa Hess argues that in a delightful and baffling way musical learning has the potential to significantly alter and inform our conception of the nature and process of theological learning In exploring this exciting intersection of musical learning and theological training Hess asks two probing questions First What does learning from music in a performative mode require Classical modes of theological education often founder on a dichotomy between theologically musical and educational discourses It is extremely difficult for many to see how the perceived nonmusical learn from music Is musicality a universally human potential In exploring this question Hess turns to the music learning theory of Edwin Gordon which explores music's unique mode of teaching learning its primarily aural/oral mode This challenge leads to the study's second question How does a theologian in the disciplinary sense integrate a performative mode into critical discourse Tracking the critical movements of this problem Hess provides an inherited transformational logic as a feasible path for integrating a performative mode into multidimensional learning This approach emerges as a distinctly relational embodied multidimensional and non-correlational performative mode theology that breaks new ground in the contemporary theological landscape As an implicitly trinitarian method rooted in the relationality of God this non-correlational method offers a practical theological contribution to the discipline of Christian spirituality newly claimed here as a discipline of transformative teaching learning through the highly contextualized and self implicated scholar into relationally formed communities and ultimately into the world
