The Power Of Language Texts And Translations:

The Power of Language Francis Ponge, 1979 The Power of Language Francis Ponge, 1979 Researching Language, Text and Technology in Translation Tengku Sepora Tengku Mahadi, 2022-11-03 With the intention to show to the world the rigor of translation research Researching Language Text and Technology in Translation came forward with a collection of recent translation studies focusing on the aspects of language text and technology in relation to translation There is a total of seven studies with the first chapter presenting the validity of translation research while the rest portraying many different topics such as the difference between human and machine translation when translating the memoir of Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad the translation of cultural humor for animated comedies a look into the colonial perspective when it comes to translating literature from the east and various other topics that are both interesting and bring many different cultures around the world into view This book can benefit academics students particularly research and graduate students translators and those who are interested in language and translation It is hoped that its casual yet educational content can open minds and stimulate ideas among its readers especially in the terms of translation and of how it connects the world together Translation and Minority Lawrence Venuti, 2016-04-29 The premise of this volume is a question What can the concept of minority bring to the practice and study of translation Minority is understood here to mean a cultural or political position that is subordinate whether the social context that so defines it is local national or global This position is occupied by languages and literatures that lack prestige or authority the non standard and the non canonical what is not spoken or read much by a hegemonic culture Yet minorities also include the nations and social groups that are affiliated with these languages and literatures the politically weak or underrepresented the colonized and the disenfranchised the exploited and the stigmatized Translation today is itself a minor use of language a lesser art an invisible craft that commands less cultural capital and fewer legal privileges than original composition Yet the focus in this collection is not on what translators worldwide have in common but on the distinctive forms that translating takes when it is done by or on behalf of minorities The articles in this volume present a variety of case studies that illuminate the linguistic and cultural problems posed by such translating as well as the economic and political agendas it has served Together these pieces show that the concept of minority is worth exploring because it inspires innovation in translation practice and research Minor cultures are coincident with new translation strategies new translation theories and new syntheses of the diverse methodologies that constitute the discipline of translation studies Words, Texts and Worlds in Translation Aditya Kumar Panda, 2022-09-15 This book studies various aspects of translation It deals with the identity of translation its determinants politics and translation and the translation of scientific terminology It also discusses some translations in the light of various theoretical approaches and strategies The examples provided here as well as the translations discussed and the approaches adopted for analysis will definitely add to the knowledge system of translation studies comparative literature and applied linguistics Sociology of Translation Suryanarayan Ransubhe, 2018-09-25 Sociology of Translation is the translation of Suryanarayan Ransubhe's Hindi book. The translation is a process of dialogue among cultures. Hence translation plays an important role in social transformation. In the Indian context, which is layered with its intricacies of a caste-based society, there have been significant changes due to the process of translation. Dr. Surya Narayan Ransubhe has achieved a new insight due to his rich social and academic experience, and this long experience of translating various Dalit and other marginalized literature has helped him in delivering some original thoughts in the field of translation studies. This book is a journey of alternate knowledge systems and cultures.

Translation as Text Albrecht Neubert, Gregory M. Shreve, 1992 The basic tenet here is that we do not translate words but texts and that these competing models can be integrated into a more global theory of translation by viewing the translation process as a primarily textual process. The authors examine in detail the characteristics that make a good translation a text, focusing particularly on the empirical relationship between the theory of translation and its practice.

Essays on the Languages of the Bible and Bible-translations Robert Needham Cust, 1890 Translating Sensitive Texts Karl Simms, 1997 This volume brings together twenty-two of the world's leading translation and interpreting theorists to address the issue of sensitivity in translation. Whether in novels or legal documents, the Bible or travel brochures, in translating ancient texts or providing simultaneous interpretation, sensitive subject matter, contentious modes of expression, and the sensibilities of the target audience are the biggest obstacles to acceptance of the translator's work. The contributors bring to bear a wide variety of approaches: generative, cognitive, lexical, and functional. In confronting this problem and in negotiating the competing claims of source cultures and target cultures in the areas of cultural, political, religious, and sexual sensitivity, all of the articles are presented here for the first time, and in his Introduction, Karl Simms gives an overview of the philosophical and linguistic questions which have motivated translators of sensitive texts through the ages. This book will be of interest to all working translators and interpreters and to teachers of translation theory and practice.

Using Technologies for Creative-Text Translation James Luke Hadley, Kristiina Taivalkoski-Shilov, Carlos S. C. Teixeira, Antonio Toral, 2022-08-11 This collection reflects on the state of the art of research into the use of translation technologies in the translation of creative texts, encompassing literary texts but also extending beyond to cultural texts and charts their development and paths for further research. Bringing together perspectives from scholars across the discipline, the book considers recent trends and developments in technology that have spurred growing interest in the use of computer-aided translation (CAT) and machine translation (MT) tools in literary translation. Chapters examine the relationships between translators and these tools, the extent to which they already use such technologies, the challenges they face, and prevailing attitudes towards these tools, as well as the ethical implications of such technologies in translation practice. The volume gives special focus to drawing on examples with and beyond traditional literary genres to look to these technologies' use in working with the larger group of creative texts, setting the stage for many future research opportunities. The book will be of particular interest to students and scholars in translation studies especially those with an interest in literary translation translation technology translation practice and translation ethics Chapters 2 3 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>
