The Marshall Plan in Austria Gunter Bischof, Anton Pelinka, Dieter Stiefel, 2018-12-20 Perhaps no country benefitted more from the Marshall Plan for assistance in reconstruction of Europe after World War II than Austria On a per capita basis each American taxpayer invested 80 per person in the Plan each Austrian received 133 from the European recovery program more than any other of the sixteen participating countries Without the Marshall Plan the Austrian economic miracle of the 1950s would have been unthinkable Despite this contemporary Austria seems to have forgotten this essential American contribution to its postwar reconstruction This volume in the Contemporary Austrian Studies series examines how the plan affected Austria and how it is perceived today The political context of the Marshall Plan in Austria is addressed in essays by Jill Lewis and Matthew Berg Dieter Stiefer describes the vast Soviet economic exploitation of their Austrian occupation zone Andrea Komlosy shows how the Marshall Plan helped complete the division of Europe Siegfried Beer suggests the secret involvement of the CIA in the Marshall Plan while Hans J3rgen Schr der analyzes the effectiveness of Marshall Plan propaganda programs in Germany and Austria The macroeconomic impact of Marshall Plan funds on Austrian economic policy is outlined by Hans Seidel Kurt Tweraser Georg Rigele and G3nter Bischof suggest the microeconomic importance of funds for the steel electricity and tourist sectors of the Austrian economy Wilhelm Kohler s sweeping analysis compares the American transfer of funds to postwar Europe with current debates about the cost of European Union enlargement The legacy of the Marshall Plan is addressed by former Austrian Finance Minister Ferdinand Lacina Kurt Loffler and Hans Fubenegger summarize the activities of the Economic Recovery Program Fund Coming on the heels of the fiftieth anniversary of the Marshall Plan this compelling overview of the Plan and its impact will be important for historians those interested in international politics and Austrian scholars G3nter Bischof is professor of history and associate director of Center Austria at the University of New Orleans Anton Pelinka is professor of political science at the University of Innsbruck and director of the Institute of Conflict Research in Vienna Dieter Stiefel is professor of social and economic history at the University of Vienna and executive secretary of the Schumpeter Society in Vienna This volume offers a collection of articles mostly by contemporary Austrian born historians touching on various phases of the Marshall Plan administered through the European Recovery Program ERP and its successors counterfunds assistance to the present A splendid introduction followed by the key thirteen articles on the plan is augmented by several nontopical essays and book reviews along with a survey of Austrian politics in 1998 A number of articles emanated from a 1998 conference at the University of New Orleans Both novice and specialist will appreciate this book The Historian The Marshall Plan Today John Agnew, J. Nicholas Entrikin, 2004-06-24 This volume has as its focus the role of the Marshall Plan as both a force in the transformation of European Economic practices and a stimulus to political integration in Europe This organizing theme is framed in terms of two other issues that are central to contemporary debates in international political economy and geopolitical studies the origins and development of the Cold War and the growing globalisation of the world economy In relating the Marshall Plan to these issues this book goes beyond the typical diplomatic history approach to place the Plan in the context of both the political economy of late twentieth century Europe and the impact of American models of business and government that came with the Plan Food consumption in the Marshall Islands Troubat, N., Sharp, M.K., 2021-11-22 This report presents the main results derived from the analysis of the food data collected in the 2019 20 HIES to inform current patterns on food and nutrient consumption in Marshall Islands The analysis of the food insecurity experience scale data collected in the 2019 20 HIES reveals that more than one household in three is experiencing moderate or severe levels of food insecurity which means they are lacking money or other resources to access foods in enough quantity or of good quality The further analysis of the food data collected in the same survey finds that for around 5 percent of Marshallese their dietary intake is lower than their basic dietary needs to maintain a normal active and healthy life Whenever possible indicators are given at national level and for sub groups of the population Republic of the Marshall Islands International Monetary Fund, 2006-03-08 Real output growth of the Republic of the Marshall Islands appears to have slowed sharply in FY2003 and again in FY2004 The 2005 Article IV Consultation highlights that the economic activity has been hampered by delays in implementing an upgraded public works program and the closure of a large privately owned tuna processing plant The fiscal position deteriorated in FY2004 This deterioration reflects on the revenue side a decline in grants aimed at infrastructure projects owing in part to delays in initiating projects lower income tax collection and volatility in nontax revenue The Marshall Plan in Action, 1950 The Marshall Plan Summer Thomas Andrew Bailey, 1977 3 Years of the Marshall Plan United States. Economic Cooperation Administration, 1951 The United States nuclear legacy in the Marshall Islands United States. Congress. House. Committee on Resources, 2005 Traditional Medicine of the Marshall Islands Irene J. Taafaki, Maria Kabua Fowler, Randolph R. Thaman, 2006 This book is an attempt to ensure that traditional knowledge is not lost and that ecosystems are protected for future generations It describes more than 270 traditional medicinal treatments all of which use the plants of the Marshall Islands and provides a biogeographical historical and anthropological context with a particular focus on the use of traditional medicine for the treatment of women The Marshall Mission to China, 1945-1947 John Hart Caughey, 2011-08-19 This book breaks new ground in our understanding of a pivotal period in the history of American foreign policy the early Cold War and the struggle for dominance in China Despite the Marshall Mission's importance there has been little new to add to the story of the failure

The budget & backpacker guide for The Marshall Islands ,2025-09-24 The food & drink guide for The Marshall Islands ,2025-09-25 Saving a Continent: The Untold Story of the Marshall Plan Charles L. Mee Jr.,2015-02-12 The imperial powers of the nineteenth century having weakened one another in World War I destroyed themselves in World War II In the aftermath of the war Europe was in shambles Nearly all of France Germany Italy and Poland had been devastated Bridges and roads were gone Rivers and canals were clogged with sunken ships and fallen bridges Unexploded bombs and shells littered fields Postwar inflation whipsawed the survivors cigarettes coffee and chocolate were better currencies than Deutsche marks Prices rose in Italy to thirty five times their prewar level Before the year was over disastrous harvests across the continent would leave Europeans hungry and in some places even starving Only two great powers remained strong enough to consider taking over or materially influencing Europe the United States and the Soviet Union United States Secretary of State George C Marshall had a plan Here s the story of that plan and the fascinating man who put it together

Kwajalein Atoll, the Marshall Islands and American Policy in the Pacific Ruth Douglas Currie,2016-10-31 For centuries the Marshall Islands have been drawn into international politics primarily because of their central location in Oceania After World War II they came into the American sphere as part of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands At the outset of the Cold War the Marshalls were a site for nuclear tests and later for the U S Army s ballistic missile testing as part of President Reagan s Strategic Defense Initiative This book focuses on the islanders tenacious negotiations for independence and control of their land accomplished as the Republic of the Marshall Islands in a Compact of Free Association with the U S The creation of American policy in the Pacific was a struggle between the U S departments of the Interior and State and the military s goals for strategic national defense as illustrated by the case of the Army s base at Kwajalein Atoll The Marshall Plan Nova Ashford, After the end of World War II Europe was left in a state of devastation Cities infrastructure and industries lay in ruins and the economies of many European nations were crippled The war had drained resources and the continent faced widespread poverty unemployment and hunger The immediate aftermath was marked by the destruction of agricultural systems a lack of essential goods and the breakdown of trade networks Millions of people had lost their homes their livelihoods and their sense of stability The scale of the devastation created a monumental challenge for European nations as they struggled to rebuild and recover In addition to the physical destruction there was a profound psychological impact Many citizens were deeply disillusioned with their governments and institutions leading to political instability in several countries Rising unemployment inflation and a lack of basic resources created fertile ground for extremist ideologies particularly communism to gain traction The fear of a potential Soviet expansion into Western Europe was another driving force behind the need for reconstruction The Soviet Union had already established control over Eastern Europe and there was a growing sense of urgency to rebuild Europe s economies to prevent the spread of communism and maintain stability The United States which had emerged from the war as a global superpower recognized that the fate of Europe was closely tied to its own security The U S feared that economic instability in Europe would lead to political upheaval making it vulnerable to Soviet influence As part of a broader strategy to contain the spread of communism the U S decided to step in and offer assistance to Western Europe This would not only help rebuild the region but also ensure that the newly rebuilt countries would align more closely with democratic and capitalist ideals
