Twenty-First Century Fiction S. Adiseshiah,R. Hildyard,2015-12-04 This lively new volume of essays examines what happens now in 21st century fiction Fresh theoretical approaches to writers such as Salman Rushdie David Peace Margaret Atwood and Hilary Mantel and identifications of 21st century themes tropes and styles combine to produce a timely critical intervention into genuinely contemporary fiction Medicine and the Body Simon Williams,2003-03-19 An intelligent and informed account of medical sociology Simon Williams has produced an original and comprehensive sociological statement of the centrality of the body to an understanding of medicine health and illness His scope is impressive It will shape future teaching and research in the field of health and illness Bryan S Turner Professor of Sociology University of Cambridge This is a clear well written account of medicine health and the body Taking recent debates on the body and society as its point of departure the book critically reexamines a series of embodied issues and emotional agendas in health and illness Included here are cutting edge discussions and debates concerning the medicalized body health inequalities childhood and ageing the dilemmas of high tech medicine chronic illness and disability caring and bio ethics sleep death and dying the body in late postmodernity Written in an accessible engaging style with many original and innovative insights the book will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students alike and to researchers and lecturers with an interest in the embodied agendas of health and medicine in the new millennium Marginalisation of Older Men Deborah L. Mulligan,2020-11-04 Marginalisation of Older Men The Lost Boys focuses on the phenomenon of the marginalisation of older men and the impact of gendered ageing as a pathologic disorder leading to suicide ideation rather than a celebratory state In this engaging investigation Deborah Mulligan explains why and how some older men have become marginalised in society and the effects of this social isolation The book offers effective and unique methods for researching marginalised groups and individuals to maximise innovativeness reciprocity and utility for research participants Mulligan skilfully articulates and communicates the hitherto unheard voices of older males These voices represent a vital element in the mitigation of loneliness social isolation and suicide The lived experience of these individual men and their peers provides vital health information for older men in both contemporary and future society Older Women in the Criminal Justice System Azrini Wahidin,2004-06-23 What is life like for the women who grow old behind bars Azrini Wahidin examines in depth the experiences and needs of this overlooked group Illuminating reading for all those working in the prison services probation and the courts Older Women in the Criminal Justice System offers a rare view of what happens to women who grow old in prison Belief and ageing Peter

G. Coleman,2011-07-05 Based on 40 years interviewing experience this book illustrates the variety of religious spiritual and other beliefs held by older people It provides models of research procedure especially in the context of bereavement Participants include not only British Christians but also Muslims Humanists and witnesses of the Soviet persecution of religion The author argues that both welfare professionals and gerontologists need to pay far more consideration to belief as a constituent of well being in later life The book looks to the future and increasing diversity of choice in matters of belief among Britain and Europe s older citizens as a consequence of immigration and globalisation Gender, Social

Inequalities, and Aging Toni M. Calasanti,Kathleen F. Slevin,2001-08-28 The experience of men and women in later life varies enormously not only along lines of gender but also due to ethnicity class sexual orientation and race In this text on gender issues among the aging Calasanti and Slevin explore these differences their genesis their meaning to men and women and their treatment in the policy arena The authors also take to task traditional research on aging and how it ignores these issues The authors cover topics of work and retirement body image sexuality health family relationships and informal care among many others The current research and nuanced theoretical approach presented in this brief book makes it the ideal text to correct the stereotypic and monolithic views of the elderly for courses in gender or aging Middle-Aged Gay Men, Ageing and Ageism Paul Simpson,2016-04-29 Is midlife for gay men the start of a slide towards the rejection exclusion and misery associated with the spectre of the lonely old queen Whilst exclusion is possible as gay men age Middle Aged Gay Men Ageing and Ageism offers a more nuanced view of gay ageing using sociological tools to advance understanding beyond stereotypes Old Age and Agency Emmanuelle Tulle,2004 This book is about rethinking the ways in which we make sense of social action or agency in later life The contributions in this collection challenge traditional academic approaches to the study of later life which arguably often deny older people agency Social gerontology and the wider society should be more reflexive and rather than contribute to the continued marginalisation of older people should draw attention to the extent to which the latter s actions may be understood within the set of normalising discourses which people have to manage and negotiate as they get old The purpose of this collection is to continue this process by providing philosophical theoretical conceptual and empirical direction for a reflexive social gerontology This book argues that the management of later life has become complex caught as it is within a broad discourse which continues to construct old age as a time of decline and dependency but has shifted the burden of responsibility for the avoidance of decline on individuals The SAGE

Handbook of Social Gerontology Dale Dannefer,2010-09-14 This volume reflects the emergence of ageing as a global concern including chapters by international scholars from Asia Australasia Europe and North America It provides a comprehensive overview of key trends and issues in the field drawing upon the full range of social science disciplines The Handbook is organized into five parts each exploring different aspects of research into social aspects of ageing Disciplinary overviews summaries of findings from key disciplinary areas within social gerontology Social relationships and social differences topics include social inequality gender and ageing the role of religion inter generational ties social networks and friendships in later life Individual characteristics and change in later life chapters in this section examine different aspects of individual aging including self and identity cognitive processes and biosocial interactions and their impact on physical and psychological aging Comparative perspectives and cultural innovations topics in this section include ageing and development ageing in a global context migration and cross cultural perspectives on grandparenthood Policy issues The final section examines some of the main policy concerns affecting older people across the world Topics include developments in social policy long term care technology and older people end of life issues work and retirement crime and older people and the politics of old age This will be essential reading for all students researchers and policy makers concerned with the major issues influencing the lives of older people across the globe

Midlife, and Generativity Karl F. Zender,2008-12-01 The life expectancy in Shakespearean times averaged only about twenty five to thirty five years but those who survived the illnesses of infancy and childhood could look forward to a long life with nearly the same level of confidence as someone living now But even so long ago some faced conflicts in their middle and later years that remain familiar today In Shakespeare Midlife and Generativity Karl F Zender explores William Shakespeare's depictions of middle age by examining the relationships between middle aged parents mainly fathers and their children in five of his greatest plays He finds that the middle aged characters in King Lear Macbeth Antony and Cleopatra The Winter's Tale and The Tempest much like their modern counterparts experience a fear of aging and debility Representations of middle age occur throughout the Shakespearean canon in forms ranging from Jaques's seven ages speech in As You Like It to the emphasis almost an obsession in many plays on relations between the generations Lear Zender shows tries to forestall the approach of old age with a fantasy of literal rebirth in his relationship with Cordelia Macbeth depicts an even more urgent struggle against midlife decline while in Antony and Cleopatra Shakespeare portrays two characters in midlife crisis who attempt to redefine their identities by memorializing their former status and power now lost Drawing on Erik Erikson's theory of generativity a midlife shift from advancing one's own career to aiding a younger generation Zender explores the difficulties Shakespeare's characters face as they transfer power and authority to their children and others in the next generation Paying careful attention to the plays moral and ethical implications he demonstrates how Shakespeare's innovative depiction of the midlife experience focuses on internal psychological understanding rather than external actions such as ceremony and ritual Illuminating and engaging Shakespeare Midlife and Generativity offers a fresh analysis of several of Shakespeare's most important plays and explores a profound centuries old perspective on the challenges inherent in middle age Shadows of Time Jason Powell,2025-04-28

Shadows of Time Unveiling the Intersection of Crime Victims and Aging is a comprehensive exploration of the complex relationship between crime victims and the aging population Whilst older people are visible as an aging population they are invisible as a victim population or even more controversially as an offending population This book delves into the challenges vulnerabilities and unique obstacles faced by older adults who become victims of crime and offenders of crime across cultures It is one of a tiny handful of books that explores the relationship of aging victimization and criminality To make sense of such issues there will be a critical exploration of the links between theory policy and practice The primary purpose of this book is to shed light on the often overlooked issue of elderly victimization and offending and to raise awareness about its impact Justice for Older People, 2012-01-01 The authors of these papers vary in age nationality and professional background They share a belief that all too often older people are not treated justly or fairly and also a belief that this is particularly true with regard to a proper respect for their dignity as people and a proper allocation of medical and social resources Their papers in various ways give evidence as to what is happening and arguments based on philosophical ethics as to why it is wrong The authors also have a range of proposals backed by argument and evidence and drawing on factual material as well as philosophical argument as to what could be done to improve the situation This is a book for anyone whether themselves elderly looking after an older person professionally involved in working with older people or simply realising that one day they will be old who wants to learn about what is wrong with the present situation and how it might be made better Ageing and Diversity Daatland, Svein Olav, Biggs, Simon, 2006-04-05 Assessing the stereotyped conceptions of ageing this book explores the diversity of individual pathways of ageing the sources of identifications migration and otherness and the tension between social structures and personal agency It is aimed at academics students and practitioners in the fields of sociology social psychology and welfare Dimensions of Human Behavior Elizabeth D. Hutchison, 2008 Organized around time the Third Edition of Dimensions of Human Behavior The Changing Life Course helps students understand the relationship between time and human behavior Using a life course perspective author Elizabeth D Hutchison shows how the multiple dimensions of person and environment work together with dimensions of time to produce patterns in unique life course journeys The Third Edition is updated and revised to respond to the rapidity of changes in complex societies New to the Third Edition Examines our increasing global interdependence The human life course is placed in global context Recognizes scientific advancements Advances in neuroscience have been incorporated throughout the chapters Emphasizes group based diversity More content has been added on the effects of gender race ethnicity social class sexual orientation and disability on life course trajectories Reorganizes family dynamics Greater attention has been given to the role of fathers Reflects contemporary issues New case studies exhibits and Web resources have been added to provide the most up to date information The Evolution of British Gerontology Miriam Bernard, Mo Ray, Jackie Reynolds, 2020-04-01 Half a century of UK gerontology research theory policy and practice are under the spotlight in this landmark critical review of the subject that places the country s achievements in an international context Drawing on the archives of the British Society of Gerontology and interviews with dozens of the most influential figures in the field it provides a comprehensive picture of key developments and issues and looks to the future to plot new directions in thinking This is the story of the remarkable progress of gerontology told through the eyes of those who have led it
