Robinson,2015-06-25 Excerpt from The Mind in the Making I have long been curious and puzzled by the sculptures writing and such like remains of the Neolithic mind found In America the antiquarian material from Mexico Peru and Central America There is not a word about this stuff in The Mind in the Making and yet after reading it I find much that was monstrous and obdurate in these old riddles dissolving at last into a quite acceptable and comprehensible explanation The book has had the effect of illuminating me not only at its point of application but all along the line of my curiosities These autobiographical confidences would be inexcusable if they concerned me alone but I feel that what has happened to me the sense of having created a bridge and come into a new land of understanding must be happening to quite a number of other readers of this great teacher About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Mind in the Making James Harvey

Robinson,2017-10-10 If some magical transformation could be produced in men s ways of looking at themselves and their fellows no inconsiderable part of the evils which now afflict society would vanish away or remedy themselves automatically If the majority of influential persons held the opinions and occupied the point of view that a few rather uninfluential people now do there would for instance be no likelihood of another great war the whole problem of labor and capital would be transformed and attenuated national arrogance race animosity political corruption and inefficiency would all be reduced below the danger point As an old Stoic proverb has it men are tormented by the opinions they have of things rather than by the things themselves This is eminently true of many of our worst problems today We have available knowledge and ingenuity and material resources to make a far fairer world than that in which we find ourselves but various obstacles prevent our intelligently availing ourselves of them The object of this book is to substantiate this proposition to exhibit with entire frankness the tremendous difficulties that stand in the way of such a beneficent change of mind and to point out as clearly as may be some of the measures to be taken in order to overcome them This book is recommended reading by Napoleon Hill
